A SALUTE TO NEBRASKA'S LEADERSHIP IN

Nebraska's leadership in the adoption of new and improved agricultural methods is demonstrated by the rapid increase in irrigated acreage over the past five years—an increase that is greater, percentagewise, than that reported by any other state.

Increased irrigation has contributed immeasurably towards keeping the state's total farm income at a high level, which in turn has contributed to everyone's prosperity.

The availability of a dependable supply of low-cost electricity to power the pumps has been one of the factors encouraging the spread of Consumers, playing a vital role in building a greater electrical Nebras-ka since 1939 and now serving more than 117,000 customers across the state, salutes this spirit of agricultural progress.
