Original Creations in Sacks (Pardon Chemise) Show Here

Twenty-five partners of Madison County salon 410, Eight and Forty, met in O'Neill Thursday evening for the regular May marche.

Norfolk, Pierce and Stanton partners traveled to O'Neill by chartered bus where they were entertained by hostesses Mesdames M. B. Huffman of Bassett, H. P. McKee of Atkinson, and Melvin Ruzicka, Lester Riege, Robert Lowery, Virgil Laursen, Vern Reynoldson and John Davidson of O'Neill.

Each partner appeared in a "sack" (or chemise dress) of her own creation. Originality and styling added to the hilarity of the party. Originals, never dreamed of by even a French designer, ranged from the bare-shouldered striped barrel, modeled by Mrs. Riege, to a true burlap sack complete with printed advertising of Nebraska grown potatoes, designed by Mrs. Lillian Gray of Norfolk.

Guests were entertained at dinner at the Town House with May day as the table decorations motif. A May pole complete with dancing dolls served as a centerpiece for the dinner table, with individual May baskets in pastel colors as nut cups.

Miss Emmalyn McKinley of Stanton was awarded the door prize—a giant-sized May basket which held a bottle of cologne and spring flowers. Following the dinner the marche was adjourned to the lounge in the American Legion club for a business session with Mrs. A. R. Andrews, chapeau of Norfolk presiding. Bernice Bussman, child welfare, reported on the juvenile tuberculosis patients who had been remembered during the past month.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic to be held in Tahara park in Norfolk June 5 in connection with the regular marche, with Mrs. William Koch and Mrs. Leo Young in charge of arrangements.

After the business session, Mrs. Davidson showed colored slides of pictures taken at the departmental marche, Nebraska department convention, district II American Legion and auxiliary convention and recent salon marches.
