Sam Watson Wins Top Inman Honors

INMAN—Sam Watson, valedictorian at Inman high school in the class of 1958, accepted the church school scholarship and will enter Nebraska Wesleyan university at Lincoln this fall as a pre-medical student. Sam also received the regents' scholarship and he and Brenda Colman were awarded the Babe Ruth sportsmanship award, symbolic of the highest in achievement during the year as well as recognition for the best all-around citizenship.

Sam is also the last member of the Ina Watson family to graduate and this is considered a record. During the past 33 years Mr. and Mrs. Watson have had a member of their family attending the Inman school. During that time four were valedictorians, one was a salutatorian and three received regents' awards.

Miss Linelle Tompkins was a class salutatorian and received the state teachers' college scholarship. Linelle also will enter Nebraska Wesleyan university this fall where her scholarship will be accepted at full value.

Roland Hansen received the Norfolk Junior college scholarship and Ned and Neal Kelley each received the Norfolk Junior college athletic award.

Dr. J. R. Johnson was the commencement speaker, Lewis Kopecky Jr., presented the diplomas to the eighth graders and also presented diplomas to the senior graduates.

Appearing on the program were Marilyn Siders, Betty Watson, Kay Kelley, Linelle Tompkins, Sam Watson, Bonnie Banks, Mary Morsbach, Lois Morsbach, William Miller, Supt. Walter Ubben, Karen Brown, Rev. Lisle Mewman.
