When You & I Were Young... Gilligan, Brennan Election Winners

Spirited Races for School Posts

50 Years Ago The Emmet baseball team defeated the American Bloomers 9 to 8. The last run came in the last half of the ninth with none out. The Frontier said of the visiting team: "Seven men and two women composed the Bloomers team. The men were good ball players and were gentlemanly in their behavior. The women did not appear to know enough about the game to play it, and were too indolent if they knew how to play it with success." The Emmet team comprised of: Tomnick, third; Wilson, catcher; Powers center field; J. Foreman, second; Smith, left field; Ruth, shortstop; F. Foreman, first; A. Wilson, pitcher; Shorthill, right field and umpire, Arthur Ryan. Marriage licenses were issued to F. S. Keeler and Jessie Coburn; Walter Sherman of Inez and Ethel May Smith of Holt; John M. Turpin of Newport and Cora Ella Hall of Atkinson, and Warren J. Sparks and Miss Nellie Cavanaugh, both of O'Neill. O. O. Snyder had this ad: "Phone 32 for a load of good summer cooking coal. A shovelful to cook a meal." F. O. Hammerberg of Colia reported small grain and corn doing unusually well since the rain ceased. A cloudburst of 4 1/2 inches within less than an hour fell. Six bridges were carried away by the deluge to higher ground. Elected to the school board in a highly spirited election were Dr. J. P. Gilligan and Neil Brennan.

20 Years Ago Will Kaczor, who lives north-east of O'Neill, was kicked by his four-year-old horse when Mr. Kaczor and his son, Edward, were helping Dr. H. Bennett vaccinate the horse. Robert Bruce received first and second degree burns on the face and hands while welding a gas tank on an automobile at the work shop of John Wingert in Chambers. Thirteen students from Holt county are attending summer school at the University of Nebraska. Among those returning here to visit their parents this week were Roy McPharlin, who visited his mother, Mrs. August McPharlin and Mrs. Paul Montgomery, who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Grady. Miss Anna Swan returned from a six week's stay with Mr. and Mrs. Hans Egger in Columbus.

10 Years Ago The Riverside Community 4-H club members held their meeting in a unique location, Holt county's original courthouse building, which is on property belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boyle. It was built 76 years ago by William Inman. In a family Bible, which has never been removed from the building, members found the front page of The Frontier dated April 19, 1888 and addressed to W. C. Inman. David Vonasek, 15, of Star, was killed while raking hay. The horses became frightened and ran away. Young Vonasek was thrown to the ground. Fred C. Kaczor, 65, was a Fourth of July drowning victim near Richey, Mont. He formerly lived in Holt county. This is a fishing of the different sort. Four veteran O'Neill fishermen, enroute to the Paul Bunyan lake country in Minnesota, pulled into a filling station in the Gopher state. Asked by a youthful service attendant, where they were from, a spokesman for the quartet replied: "We're from O'Neill, in Holt county, about 500 miles from here." The youngster thought for a moment and blurted: "This is a helluva long ways from home a belluva long ways from home for four old men like you." The party consisted of Mike Horiskey, P. C. Donohoe, F. J. Dishner and H. J. Hammond.

One Year Ago Deaths: Johanna Ackerman, 88, of Stuart, who spoke seven languages and had been a Catholic missionary in South Africa; Gilbert Dee Grass, 47, of Page; Dr. Roland Brady, 54, of Ainsworth, formerly of Atkinson; Mrs. Louis Tomjack of Rock Springs, Louis Tomjack of Rock Springs, Wyo., was buried from St. Peter's Catholic church in Ewing; Ralph Peter Phillips, 67, of Medford Ore., formerly of the Star community. Hall leveled wheat fields near Spoke. Senator E. Fields Hruska spoke at Stuart. A family reunion was held by the E. R. Carpenter and M. E. Carpenter families. The bridegroom wore a tulle and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt, accented with a butterfly bustle, ended in a chapel length train.
