EWING — "My Life in the March of Missions" was the theme of the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service Wednesday, August 6, at the parlors of the Methodist church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a traditional gown, styled of nylon lace and tulle over bridal satin. The elongated fitted bodice was contoured with a scoop neckline and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists.

The full-length skirt featuring a continuous front panel fell into a brush train. A crown of seed pearls caught her fingertip veil of double nylon tulle illusion. Her jewelry was a silver cross, a gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of Pink Delight roses and stephanotis and an heirloom wedding ring lace handkerchief.

Maid-of-honor was Miss LaVon Howe of Alvo. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Larry Taylor of Wayne and Miss Clarice Danielson of Lodge City, Ia., a cousin of the bridegroom. They appeared in street-length dresses of varying shades of blue lace over silk taffeta. A chiffon sash fell to flowing panels in back. They wore white hats of lace and velvet and each carried pink roses on white lace fans with matching streamers.

A reception followed in the church parlors for two hundred guests. A four-tier wedding cake, topped with a wedding bell and lovebird, centered the reception table.
