Sandra Lee Delforge, Edward F. Campbell Exchange Vows

Yellow and white gladioli decorated the altar of St. Francis Xavier Cathedral for the nuptial mass uniting Miss Sandra Lee Delforge and Edward F. Campbell both of Green Bay, Wis. Mr. Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Campbell of O'Neill. White satin bows entwined with greens marked the front pews. The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, appeared in an ivory silk mist waltz length gown. It was fashioned with a plain princess style bell shaped skirt which dipped to a full panel in the back. The scoop neckline and short sleeves were formed of cut out ivory lace, trimmed with tiny seed pearls. A matching cap of ivory silk and lace, trimmed with seed pearls, held a bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a nosegay of shell pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and greens. Miss Darlene Fellows of Green Bay, the maid of honor, appeared in a carnal taffeta gown similarly styled to the bride's. The scoop neckline was plain and the detail was a bell-shaped skirt with a full paneled back and tiny bows on the short sleeves. She wore a garland of green leaves and curranants in her hair and carried a bouquet of white button chrysanthemums with yellow centers and green leaves. Little Miss Candace Delforge of Green Bay, a sister of the bride, was flower girl. She appeared in a yellow organdy gown accented with tiny embroidered yellow flowers and a large yellow sash. She carried a natural straw basket filled with yellow and white daisies and wore a garland of yellow and white daisies in her hair. The best man was William J. "Ave Maria," "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus" were offered by Miss Berneen Vande Hei. Mrs. Delforge, the bride's mother, appeared in a blue lace gown over taffeta. She wore a blue feathered hat and a white orchid. Mrs. Campbell, the bridegroom's mother, appeared in a grey chiffon gown with a small beaded hat and gun metal accessories.
