Ewing WSCS to Note Anniversary Today

EWING—The Women's Society of Christian Service will celebrate the anniversary of the society today (Thursday). There will be a six o'clock covered dish dinner. Each member will give 50 cents as a gift which will be used to purchase articles for the kitchen. "Crown Thy Good with Brotherhood" was the theme of the devotions in charge of Mrs. Jessie Angus and the lesson presented by Mrs. Sis Ebbengard when the group met Wednesday afternoon, October 1, at the parlors of First Methodist church. Mrs. James Tinsley, president, presided at the business session. The year books were given each member.

The election day dinner November 4 was discussed. Plans were completed and committees appointed. Mrs. Tinsley and Mrs. Willis Roeky were appointed as a committee to assist with the reception for the teachers of the Ewing public school held last Thursday at the school auditorium.

Mrs. Henry Fleming, secretary of promotion, read the quadrantal goals of the society and also presented other articles of interest. Mrs. L. A. Hobbs, secretary of missionary education, read an article on "Methodism in Red China."

Mrs. Lee Bridgen, secretary of youth, announced that the MYF had a membership of 20 boys and girls in Ewing. They have started the study of the Bible and meet each Monday evening of the month.

Mrs. J. L. Pruden told of her visit to the Mother Jewel's home at York. She also explained how it is possible for a society to "adopt" a child.

Mrs. Willis Roeky, a teacher in the primary department of the Sunday school, requested names of prekindergarten children. Food for the silent auction was donated by Mrs. L. A. Hobbs.

Monday, October 13, was set as the date for the church club to meet at the church parlors. Twenty-two members and four guests, Mrs. Dewitt Gunter, Mrs. Robert Pruden, Elisabeth Eggleston and Miss Virginia Clark of Stanton, were present. Mrs. Ben Larsen and Mrs. Pruden were uncheon hostesses. Halloween decorations and bouquets of fall flowers were used in table decorations.

Schoenle-Graham Marriage Lines Read Saturday

Yellow and bronze poms graced the altars of St. Patrick's Catholic church for the wedding of Miss Mary Jean Schoenle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schoenle of O'Neill, and Richard Allen Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham of O'Neill.

Very Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan performed the double-ring ceremony at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 4, followed by a nuptial mass. Acolytes were Donald Schoenle, a brother of the bride, and Donald Bohn.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The gown, styled on princess lines, featured a scalloped sabrina neckline accented with iridescent sequins and tiny pearls. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. Her illusion fingertip veil was held in place by a madonna crown with sequins and tiny pearls. She wore small pearl earrings. She carried a white prayer book topped with white chrysanthemums and a removable corsage. Her prayerbook was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Carlene Schoenle of Kansas City, Kans., was maid-of-honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were the Misses Kathryn McCarthy and Mary Helen Benze, a cousin of the bride. They were dressed identically in ballerina length emerald green gowns with velvet bodices featuring v necklines and three quarter-length sleeves. The full gathered skirts of chiffon were worn over taffeta. They wore matching velvet headbands and transparent shoes with glass heels. They carried cascades of yellow poms with yellow ribbon and wore a single rhinestone heart suspended from a silver chain.

The bestman was Harold Duane Weiler of Omaha. Groomsmen were Donald Graham of Omaha, brother of the bridegroom, and Thomas Langan. Ushers were Edward Graham of Omaha, a brother of the bridegroom, David Maughan of Tilden and Duane Lindenberg of Valentine, both brothers-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore dark blue business suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

Mrs. Schoenle, the bride's mother, appeared in a grey suit trimmed with fur, matching hat and electric blue shoes and purse. She wore silver jewelry and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Graham, the bridegroom's mother, appeared in a grey sheer wool dress with black accessories. She wore a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Garrett D. Janzing, the bride's grandmother, wore a black dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Miss Ellen Havranek accompanied Miss Rita Jig of Kansas, Kans., who sang "Ava Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "O Mother, At Thy Feet is Kneeling."

A dinner at the Town House for 35 members of the immediate families followed. A reception from 2 until 4 p.m. was held at the Town House.

The four-tier wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Henry Benze, an aunt of the bride. Miss Donna Payne had charge of the guestbook. Mrs. Ken Huston had charge of the gifts. Miss Joanne Lansworth poured. Helping serve were the Misses Teresa Boyle, Marie Boyle, Joanne Soukup, Rita Hoehne and Ellen Donohoe.

For her wedding trip to the Black Hills, Mrs. Graham wore a brown suit with matching purse and shoes. She wore a beige feathered hat and gold jewelry.

Mrs. Graham is a graduate of St. Mary's academy and was employed in the office of The Frontier. Mr. Graham, who served one and one half years in Germany with the army, was graduated from St. Mary's academy and attended Wayne State college. He is employed as a linotype operator at The Frontier.
