Sick & Injured

AMELIA—Darla and Larry Waldo have been having sore throats. They went to the doctor in Atkinson Saturday morning. — Tommie Doolittle, Jr., entered Atkinson Memorial hospital Sunday evening and had surgery Monday for a throat glandular ailment. — Gene and John Hanson went to Omaha Wednesday, November 5, to be with their mother, Mrs. Maude Hanson, who underwent surgery for a broken hip that day. She came through the operation, but became seriously ill that afternoon due to a diabetic condition. She is "some improved". She is at the Methodist hospital in Omaha. Her daughter, Mrs. Ford Garwood of Bassett, was also near her. — Mrs. Stella Sparks has been a patient in the Atkinson hospital the past week.

DORSEY—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chihlar have been suffering from sore throats and bad colds the past few days. — J. E. Wiley was taken to the Lynch hospital last Thursday. — Lee Brady, sr., had the misfortune to hurt his knee while trying to mount his saddle pony while out in the pasture. Luckily he was able to get his horse to a bank where he could mount and return home. — Mrs. Tom Alder received word Tuesday that her father was to undergo surgery at Our Lady of Lourdes hospital. — Howard Slaek called the old flu bug is making his way into a good many of the homes in this community.

EMMETT—Merlin Shaw, jr., suffered a broken collarbone Friday in a "bang up" game of crack-the-whip" at school. — Francis Tunender, who is in the Atkinson hospital with rheumatic fever, is reported "improved". — Peggy Fox, small daughter of the Gilbert Foxes, received a severe cut on her eyelid when she fell on a pencil Friday. The injury required four stitches to close. There was no injury to the eye.

STAR—Roddy Hibbs received a head injury last Thursday at school when he collided head on with another pupil while playing during the noon hour. This is the second accident of this nature for him. He suffered a skull fracture last year while playing at school. He spent the remainder of the week at home under doctor's orders.
