Squeezed out of honor berths on the Frontier's 1958 mythical all-Holt county honor grid team were these stars. In cooperation with coaches, officials, sports-writer and one sportscaster, The Frontier last week honored the county's top 11 football performers.

PAUL ZISKA, St. Mary's, guard. Quick blocker, always able to move his opponent regardless of size. He played linebacker on defense and yielded all-Holt berth to teammate Larry Donohoe, all-sports star, and Mike Spizenberger, big O'Neill lineman.

JERRY HAHLBACK, Ewing, halfback. He missed a backfield berth on the honor roll only because of intense competition of O'Neill's Ronnie Smith and Stuart's Jerry Taylor, both of whom were unanimous choice. Hahlback scored six of Ewing's eight touchdowns during the season and specialized in running on a fake kick formation. His longest scoring run was 94 yards on a kickoff return.

BILL CRAIG, St. Mary's back. He was nudged by O'Neill's Bill Eby for quarterback slot on all-Holt, partially because SMA was so well balanced. Gale Stevens was SMA's quarterback but Craig did the passing and was expert. Craig hit 60 percent of his passes for over 700 yards with 17 being good for TD strikes. He scored seven TD's and was an excellent blocker for SMA's unbeaten Cards.

RICH SCHMADERER, Stuart, fullback. At 178 and 6' 1", he gained 992 yards for the Broncos during the 1958 season and averaged 6.5 yards per carry. Playing an uphill nominal class B schedule, Schmaderer racked up 79 points. He was edged by St. Mary's Gene Schneider, who broke SMA scoring records as SMA was going undefeated in its best grid season. Schmaderer was a better fullback than some others in previous seasons who won all-county honors, but the Schneider support nipped him.

LARRY DONLIN, O'Neill, center. A sophomore, he has one more year of eligibility. He was a tower of strength for the Eagles, never a bad pass, linebacker, frequently intercepted opponents' aerials.—O'Neill Photo Co.

Hendricks, Snyder Harvest Royalty; 80 Persons Served

ATKINSON—A family night supper and harvest home program were held Thursday evening at Wesleyan Methodist church here. The program noted American education week.

Sunday, November 9, a harvest king and queen and their attendants had been chosen. The royalty was crowned at Thursday's affair: Arlin Hendricks, king, and Christy Snyder, queen. Their attendants were Marvin Thurlow, George Wadsworth and Gerald O'Connell, for the king, and Nina Hendricks, Linda Lewis and Linda Chaffin, for the queen.

Tables were highly decorated with autumn fruits and vegetables. The four-tier decorated cake was the handiwork of Mrs. Walter Steinkamp. Pilgrims were Linda O'Connell and Roland Thurlow and Mrs. Merrill Anderson was the narrator.

Program included a duet by Linda and Connie Lewis; reading, "What Shall It Be?" by Mrs. David Rahn; quartette selection by Markita Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Swin and Herman Meyer, Jr.; exercise, "Girls of the Mission Fields," Mrs. Anderson, narrator; Mrs. Meyer; vocal duet, by Mrs. Steinkamp and Mrs. Anderson.

Approximately 80 persons were served at the supper. One-third of the money received was forwarded to Miltonvale (Kans.) college, a Wesleyan institution, and the balance remained in the church fund here.

Corn Farmers Will Vote on Program

Holt county corn farmers will go to the polls Tuesday, November 25, to help make the decision on what the corn program will be for 1959 and subsequent years.

The choice is between the present program of acreage allotments and price supports on corn, and a new program in which there would be no acreage allotments and price supports would be determined on a different basis.

A majority vote of the corn producers voting here and in 931 other commercial corn counties will decide the outcome of the referendum. Anyone who had an interest in the 1958 corn crop in the commercial area is eligible to vote.

Voting hours in Holt county will be 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voting location are as follows: O'Neill at the courthouse annex, Page at the IOOF hall, and Atkinson at the American Legion hall.

The corn referendum is required under the agricultural act of 1958, passed by congress late in the past session. The two programs to be voted on are designated on the ballot as No. 1 and No. 2. The county ASC office gives the following explanation of the two programs:

Program No. 1—This is a new program. There would be no acreage allotments and no designation of a commercial corn area. Price support under this new program would be determined on the basis of 90 percent of the average price farmers got for corn the last 3 years—but not less than 65 percent of parity. It is now estimated that the national support level for 1959 under this program would be about $1.12 to $1.15 per bushel.

If the new program is approved, price supports, in proper balance with corn, would have to be offered each year on the other feed grains (oats, rye, barley, and grain sorghums). Corn compliance would be eliminated as a price support requirement.

Program No. 2—This is essentially the same program which has been in effect in 1958 and earlier years. Corn acreage allotments would continue in effect for farms in the commercial area. With record corn supplies, allotments would probably drop next year about 15 percent below 1958 and price support would probably average from $1.24 to $1.27 a bushel—at the bottom of the required 75 to 90 percent of parity range. Corn acreage allotment compliance would be required for price support and for soil bank eligibility.

County ASC chairman Ernst urges all eligible farmers and landlords to vote in Tuesday's referendum.

"This is a great opportunity for corn farmers to help make an important decision," Mr. Ernst said. "The department of agriculture and the congress are entitled to a representative expression of corn farmers' view."

Any farmer who has any question about voting places, eligibility, or any other feature of the referendum should get in touch with the ASC office, Mr. Ernst said.

Young Matrons at Ewing in Session

EWING—The Young Matrons Pinocchio club was entertained Tuesday evening, November 11, at the home of Mrs. Jerry Tomjack. All 12 members were present. Mrs. Elvin Hamilton, won high score. Mrs. R. H.
