

Cub Scout Meeting Held On Tuesday

Seven dens of Cub Scouts held a pack meeting at the American Legion Hall Tuesday evening with their parents as special guests. The meeting, directed by Cub Master William McKinlay and Mrs. Tom Anderson substituting for Mrs. Roy Humrich, began with a flag ceremony.

The entire group sang and played on homemade instruments "She'll Be Coming 'Round the Mountain" and Dens 1, 5 and 7 presented skits including a square dance and minstrel.

A fireside ceremony brought many boys, ages seven through 10 into the pack and achievement awards were made to pack members.

Mothers who helped to organize this pack meeting from dens one through seven respectively were: Mrs. Larry Schaffer; Mrs. Joe McLeish; Mrs. Walter Lyons and Mrs. Richard McLain; Mrs. Bob Moore; Mrs. Herbert Gydesen; Mrs. Richard Hovey; and Mrs. E. M. Gleeson.

The Cub Scout pack is planning a family picnic for mid-June at Scout 40.

Speaking Authority In Chambers Friday

One of the leading authorities in speech instruction will deliver the commencement address at the Chambers high school Friday at 8 p.m.

Dr. Leroy T. Laase, chairman of the University of Nebraska Department of Speech, the speaker, is a pioneer in the effort to direct the state's attention to the need for speech correction and therapy.

He is responsible in a large measure for the establishment of a speech and hearing clinic at the University.

BIBLE SCHOOL

Vacation Bible school is being held in Emmet this week for 22 Emmet Methodist youth. The Bible school will close Friday with a picnic and short program at the church.

Ewing News

Miss Patricia Hahlbeck and Kenneth Hightower were married May 9 at the First Methodist church in Council Bluffs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hahlbeck of Ewing. She is a graduate of the Ewing high school and of the Norfolk Beauty school. She was employed for a time at Frank's Beauty Shop in Norfolk.

Mr. Hightower is a painter by trade and is now employed in Omaha where the young couple will make their home.

The eighth graders of the Ewing public school spent Saturday in O'Neill.

The group first went to the O'Neill Photo company where individual and group pictures were taken in their morning caps and gowns.

Lunch was eaten at the M & M cafe. At one p.m. all went shopping. They also visited the Frontier office where they were shown the machinery necessary in the process of putting out a weekly newspaper.

Last on the days program was the matinee at the theater.

The students of the eighth class are Jerry Bauer, Kay Bergstrom, Slayton Hoke, Larry Juracek, Jack Kopp, Virtus Lee, Myra Rotherham, Jim Tams, Jerry Spangler, Ronnie Tuttle and Bonnie Welke.

Furnishing transportation were their teacher Mrs. Beulah Balth, Elmer Bergstrom and Miss Catherine Bauer.

Guests on Sunday at the Elmer Bergstrom home were his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bishop of Plainview. They also attended the baccalaureate service at the auditorium of the Ewing public school.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bollwitz entertained the following guests on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer and Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Bollwitz.

Ed Urban became ill at her home Saturday night and was taken to St. Anthony's hospital where her condition was improved on Monday.

Mrs. William H. Ross had the misfortune to fall as she was going home from the baccalaureate services at the school house Sunday night. She was bruised and her back was injured. She was taken to the Antelope Memorial hospital at Neligh.

Kenneth Beelaert, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ruby broke his arm and was taken to St. Anthony's hospital to have it set. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beelaert of Page.
