Lu Ella Watson,

Richard D. Perry

Wed in Inman

Miss Lu Ella Watson became the bride of Richard D. Perry at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 27, in a ceremony performed in the Methodist church at Inman. The Rev. Robert Embree, district superintendent, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Watson of Inman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Perry of Manhattan, Kans.

White satin bows decorated the pews of the church and the altar was beautiful with lighted white candles in two seven-branch candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Edwin Langley, cousin of the bride, played appropriate music while the guests were being seated and the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Mr. Ralph Gray of Blue Hill as he sang "Because" and "O Promise Me" before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close.

Candlelighters were Bonnie Dee and Jacqueline Lee Tomlinson, nieces of the bride. Carol Ann Kirkpatrick, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. The girls wore identical dresses of floaked orchid nylon over taffeta. The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of white organza and imported chantilly lace. Natural scallops of the lace embroidered with pearls and sequins fashioned the sabrina neckline of the smoothly molded bodice which was designed with long sleeves tapering to bridal points.

The extremely bouffant organza skirt was banded by a wide band of lace beneath which an organza ruffle swirled to a brush train. A crown of lace, pearl and sequin accented, held her veil of pure silk bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of a white orchid encircled with feathered carnations.

Her jewelry, a gift from the bridegroom, was a single strand of baby pearls and matching earrings. Mrs. Virgil Tomlinson, matron of honor, and her sister's only attendant, wore a waltz length gown of white over orchid taffeta which was accented by an orchid satin sash. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Robert Kirkpatrick of Wichita, Kans., was best man for his brother-in-law, Thomas Watson, brother of the bride, and Virgil Tomlinson, her brother-in-law served as ushers. The men of the wedding party were attired in white dinner jackets and black trousers. They wore white carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother chose a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of mauve embroidered linen with white accessories. Each wore a philaenopsis corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex with Mrs. Ira L. Watson, aunt of the bride, acting as hostess. A three-tier wedding cake decorated all in white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table which was covered with a beautiful lace cloth. Cam-back of the voluminous skirt which fell to floor length.

A cap of pearl trimmed lace held her veil of pure silk bridal illusion. She carried a spray of white roses on a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Banks also carried something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

Mrs. Howard Banks, Lincoln, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Miss Helen Sobotka, Inman, and Marilyn Buhlmann, served as junior bridesmaid.

The brides attendants chose alike frocks in chantilly type lace over mint green taffeta. The bodices were designed with scoop neck lines and cap sleeves. Narrow bands of satin tied in tiny bows at the front accented the slender waists above the full skirts.

They wore matching head bands and carried nosegays.

The bridegroom's attendants were Howard Banks, Lincoln, bro-

The John Buhlmanns, Bartlett. The bride is the former Bonnie Banks of Inman. The ceremony took place at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Chambers.
