Atkinson Hay Days Kick - Off Today

ATKINSON—Atkinson's widely known celebration, the 19th annual Hay Days, will be staged here today (Thursday) and Friday under auspices of the Atkinson Chamber of Commerce.

In connection with it will be the second annual invitational Appaloosa horse show and parade. Both halter classes and performance classes will be in competition both days.

Highlights of the event will be the coronation pageant, scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the ball park, when the Hay Days queen will be crowned. The program will include professional entertainment.

Other top events will be the free beef barbecue from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday and the kids parade at 10 a.m. Thursday which will be held on main street.

Prize money for the Appaloosa events will be Earl Hammond of Aurora, while Dick Grubrough of David City will be announcer. All Appaloosa breeders are invited to enter the show, and entries will be accepted up to one hour prior to the starting time for each event.

Judging in the halter classes will start at 9 a.m. both Thursday and Friday. Stallions will be in competition Thursday and Friday.

The performance classes will entertain before the grandstand at 1 p.m. both afternoons and at 8 p.m. Thursday evening. There are a large number of classes and there will be four ribbons and four money prizes awarded in each class.

Prize money for the show totals $2,800. All Appaloosa breeders have been invited to a pre-show barbecue by Charley W. and Charles Peterson at their home, ranch, 16 miles south of Atkinson, Wednesday evening.
