Schaaf's Bar and Tavern
IN ATKINSON, NEBRASKA

A going business, complete with fixtures and excellent building; also a fine, 3-bedroom, completely modern dwelling house.

OFFERED FOR SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER

This profitable business property and dwelling is being offered for sale by the heirs in order to close the Estate of the late Julia M. Schaaf. Sealed bids will be received at the Law Office of Francis D. Lee, Atkinson, Nebr., until one o'clock p.m. on March 5, 1960. Bids may be made on either property separately, or on both properties. The heirs reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

THE BAR AND TAVERN

Legally described as E½ of lot 6 and all of lot 7 in Block 10, Original Town of Atkinson, Nebraska. Hollo-stone tile building erected in 1951, designed especially for a tavern. Includes all necessary facilities and fixtures — modern heating and air conditioning; built-in coolers and storage space. This is a going business. It enjoys the reputation of earning one of the highest net profits of any beer tavern in North Central Nebraska. An exceptional opportunity for any interested purchaser. Accounting records will be open for inspection by any prospective purchaser. Possession will be given so that license can be procured by May 1st, 1960.

THE DWELLING

Legally described as Lots 8 and 9, Block 1, Collins' 2nd Addition to Atkinson, Nebraska. This is a 3-bedroom, ultra modern dwelling built of Hollo-stone tile, located within 2 blocks of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and School; within 6 blocks of Atkinson Public School — probably one of the most desirable locations in Atkinson. It has a finished full basement and all the desirable features of a modern home.

Both properties are open for inspection upon appointment with the administrator.

presented by Mrs. Roy Miller and Mrs. Donald Gartner. Refreshments of cherry pie and ice cream and coffee were served by the hostess.

The last two chapters of the study book, "The Way in Africa," by George Wayland Carpenter was presented at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service which met Thursday afternoon, Feb. 18 at the Methodist church. The leaders were Mrs. Lloyd Glead and Mrs. E. R. Carpenter, who led the group in a survey of the many conflicting avenues of choice open to young Africans today. They also discussed the significance of the first all African Church Conference held at Ibadan, Africa in 1958. Several pertinent questions were left for members to consider after they left the meeting.

The vice president, Mrs. Darrel Gillette, conducted the business session. There were 18 members and one visitor present. A brief report on the meeting with the missionary from India, Miss Letha Doyle were given. There was a discussion concerning the serving of the alumni banquet. The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Louis Neilson. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Glen Grimes and Mrs. Raymond Beed. Keller club met Wednesday, Feb. 17 with Mrs. G. H. Grimes, Mrs. Louis Neilson being co-hostesses. Ten members and three guests answered roll call by telling how they were remembered Valentine's Day.

It was decided to give $2.50 to the Heart Fund. The door prize was awarded Mrs. Clyde Killz. The next meeting will be March 2 with Mrs. Melvin Bell with Mrs. Charles Coolidge co-hostess. Roll call to be answered by naming a favorite cheese dish.

Sunday evening, Feb. 21 was family night at the Chambers Methodist church. The program consisted of a continuation of the church wide study, "Medical Missions in Africa and other Lands." A film "Mideastern profile" was shown.

E. R. Carpenter drove to Atkinson Friday, Feb. 19th and from there accompanied his son-in-law Dean Stevens and Bob Lewis to Gregory, S. D., to attend a Pure-breed Shorthorn cattle sale.

Dick Read and Billy Cox drove into Oklahoma Saturday, Feb. 20 to get a propane truck.

The Farmers Co-op of Chambers and the Ewing Coop Creamery plan to hold their annual Neighbor Night supper at the Legion Hall in O'Neill Monday evening, Feb. 29.

Capitol News-Voc.-Ag. Enrollment Increases

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association LINCOLN—There is a larger enrollment this year in Nebraska high school vocational agriculture programs.

So reports the State Education Department. The department said this reverses the trend of the last five years and it is "pleased" to note this especially since Nebraska is an agricultural state.

This year, the department records, 4,848 high school boys were enrolled in vocational agriculture courses, as compared with 4,779 for the previous year and 4,780 12 months earlier.

There are 144 approved vocational agriculture departments as against 146 for last year and 141 for the 1957-58 school year.

"The vocational agriculture program in Nebraska has become increasingly more important as the business of farming has become more complex," the department said.

In Nebraska about 2,500 to 3,000 new farmers are needed each year, the department commented, and less than half that figure are being replaced by agriculturally trained persons.

Nationally, there is a demand for 15,000 agriculture college graduates each year but only 7,500 are graduating, the department continued.

The department said a number of boys who have taken vocational agriculture in Nebraska now are in agricultural business occupations while many others have gone on to agricultural college for further specialization in farming.

Board of Control

The Board of Control, which governs state institutions, is coming in for close scrutiny by a group of state senators.

Headed by Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, the senators who comprise a committee of the Legislative Council, are studying what would be the most feasible operation for the functions handled by the board.

The council is the research group of the Legislature and is composed of all state senators who study state problems between sessions as committees.

The three members of the board, Chairman Charles Leeman, Vice Chairman Harold Peterson and Member Ethel Kirwin, told Otto's committee they are opposed to changing the board's administrative structure.

However, members did suggest some internal improvements which they felt would smooth rough spots in board activities.

They included merging of personnel offices for the board and the welfare department which is under the board supervision, a public relations division for both departments and simplification of accounting procedures.

Peterson said the adoption of a Constitutional amendment to put the board under the jurisdiction of the Legislature has been misconstrued as an effort to abolish the board.

A bill to abolish the board failed in the 1959 Legislature and the study committee was the result of controversy over the measure.

Finances

Nebraska has many types of financial institutions and all are in tip-top condition, money-wise.

That's the diagnosis of State Banking Director Edwin Van Horne.

Van Horne says the 298 state-chartered banks had record resources of $56,718,211 as shown by the most recent check on their condition.

The director reported: There are 37 state-chartered building and loan associations with total assets of $277 million, a hike of $32.4 million from a year ago.

Seven trust companies have total assets of $51.6 million, an increase of $3.9 million.

There are 81 Credit Unions with assets of $15.9 million, a boost of $2.2 million.

Ten Industrial Loan and Investment companies have total resources of $17.2 million, up some $1 million from a year ago.

Forty Co-operative Credit Associations have $7.6 million in total resources, down only slightly from a year ago.

Four Occupational Co-operative Credit Associations have total assets of $81,738, a $77,460 hike from a year ago.

Summed up Van Horne: "All chartered financial institutions operating under the supervision of the Department of Banking are in strong financial position."

York Reformatory
Statehouse observers expect several changes in procedure at the Women's Reformatory at York.

The new superintendent is Mrs. Gladys Ellenson who has charge of about three dozen inmates.

Girls at the institution have been under strict rules for many years. But observers say Mrs. Ellenson is expected to modernize some of the internal regulations.

Cited was her permission for the women prisoners to wear lipstick, not allowed for years, and to throw away hair nets. She also has started a course to teach the girls personal grooming.
