It's the unity in a community that gets the job done

The job in Sterling... A NEW CLINIC

Community-wide effort, as demonstrated by the citizens of Sterling, produces progress.

Late in 1955, the modern medical building now serving the Sterling community was only an idea in the minds of a few interested people. When presented to a community meeting, however, it sparked an immediate and enthusiastic response. In less than three months, a fund to build the clinic had been oversubscribed, with a big majority of the citizens of Sterling purchasing certificates. Construction was completed in 1957.

Low-cost electric power also produces progress. Interested in the growth and development of each of the 355 communities it serves, and of the state as a whole, Consumers Public Power District satisfies every electrical need of business... industry... the farm... and the home.

This is one of a series of salutes to outstanding local and regional achievements which have demonstrated the power of people working together.
