The Methodist church at Creighton was the setting for the wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Vonasek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Vonasek of O'Neill and Dennis D. Farnik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farnik of Verdigré Saturday, Sept. 3. The Rev. David T. Gustafson officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony in the presence of almost 200 guests.

Claude Cole of O'Neill sang, "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Donald Wedge of Omaha sang, "Because." Both were accompanied by Miss Carolyn Prokop of Verdigré, a cousin of the bride. The sanctuary was decorated with baskets of gold and bronze chrysanthemums, greenery and candelabra.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, appeared in a floor length gown of chantilly lace over taffeta. The scalloped sash and neckline was defined by sequin and pearl embroidery. Long tapered sleeves came to the wrist. The full flowing skirt of lace was finished in scallops at the hemline and drifted into an aisle wide train. The lace bow encrusted with jeweled embroidery accented the dropped waistline in the back. Her triple tier veil of illusion was caught by a jeweled crown. She wore pearl earrings and necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of brown cymbidium on a white pearl Bible with yellow forget-me-nots on the streamers.

Miss Laura Prokop, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina gown of gold taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline three quarter sleeves. The full gathered skirt was accented at the drop waistline in the back with a taffeta rose. She wore a bronze colored headpiece with a halo veil. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums with autumn colored ribbons and streamers.

Miss Alice Chocholousek of Moorehead, Ia., cousin of the bridegroom, and Jo Ellen Farnik, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Julia Walstrom of Verdigré was the flower girl. She wore a dress of silk organza over satin accented with a satin sash tied in a bow in the back. The overskirt was caught in scallops with gold embroidered flowers and pearl buttons. Her hat was of bronze colored net. She carried a basket of bronze pom-pom chrysanthemums.

J. Charles Farnik, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Jack Welch, cousin of the bride, and John Farnik, brother of the bridegroom, were the groomsmen. Gary Farnik, brother of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. The bridegroom and his attendants wore white dinner jackets and dark trousers with boutonniers of white carnations.

James Farnik, cousin of the bridegroom, and Woodrow Nelson, cousin of the bride, were ushers and candlelighters. They wore dark suits with white carnation boutonniers.

The mother of the bride chose a cocoa brown dress of lace over taffeta with brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress of lace over taffeta with a matching jacket and green accessories. They each wore a corsage of gold pom-pom chrysanthemums. Mrs. Z. C. Venasek, grandmother of the bride, wore a dark dress, with a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held at the Creighton City hall basement. The hall was decorated in the bride's colors of gold and bronze. The bride table was adorned with a centerpiece of gold chrysanthemums, pom-poms and yellow daisies. The other tables had bouquets of autumn flowers of gold and bronze.

The three tier wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Donald Miller of Verdigré and Mrs. Johnny Grass of O'Neill. S. D. cousins of the bride. Punch was served by Mrs. Claude Cole of O'Neill assisted by Joene Jacot, Rosemary Marshall and Margaret Dryak. A two course dinner was served by the Creighton Methodist Ladies Aid. What makes America Great?

(Fourth in a Series on the Declaration of Independence)

"We hold these truths to be self-evident . . ."

The Founding Fathers in their wisdom knew that if our form of government were to survive, men must be free to enjoy the fruits of their labors and the private ownership of property.

This was a revolutionary experiment. Never before had the idea been put into practice that a man's property and compensation for his labor were his to keep, to trade, or even to give away, as he might choose. Always before it was the agency of force — government — that was sovereign, and the right to one's product, even to one's life, was a right given or taken away by government.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness . . ."

Here the Founding Fathers set forth the truth that man's right to a just reward for his efforts, private ownership of property, freedom of initiative and enterprise, and to life itself, come not from government, but from God.

The truth that government is subservient to the God-given rights of man thus became an integral part of our form of government.
