

Meek News

By Mrs. Fred Lindberg

Editors note: The following is a brief account of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindberg's recent trip. We found the description of their trip interesting and hope our readers will also.

Howdy Folks! Nice to be home again. On the way out to Boston, Mass., we stopped at Buffalo, N. Y., and took a six hour tour of the Niagara Falls. Also entered Canada and viewed the falls from the Canadian side.

We put on raincoats and rubber boots and went through the tunnels built under the falls. Get sprayed? Sure we did but we were prepared for it and enjoyed it.

While visiting at Buzzards Bay Saturday we took a trip to the end of Cape Cod. Here we touched the waters of the Atlantic Ocean and some fishermen gave us an 8-lb. striped bass to bring home for supper.

We also visited Provincetown and here we climbed a 252 foot tower and viewed the ocean, Cape Cod and surrounding country.

Sunday we visited Plymouth and saw Plymouth Rock.

We also saw the Mayflower built in England and sailed to Plymouth, Mass., in April, 1957, a gift of the people of Great Britain to the people of the United States as a gesture of friendship.

The battered effects of hurricane Donna is still seen in many places. Roofing had been repaired on many homes, wharfs were broken down. Cedar trees looked like they had been badly damaged. Large trees were bent, some nearly touching the ground, window panes and plate glass windows were broken and antennas torn down.

The eastern custom at this season of the year is to place a large pumpkin on the front porch steps.

While in Massachusetts we looked forward to receiving the Frontier and catching up on the news back home.
