SHELDON STATION PROGRESS REPORT NO. 8

Sheldon Station Administration Wing

Operations Group Now Headquartered at Hallam

Conventional production of electricity at Consumers Public Power District's Sheldon Station is now only a few months away—a fact signalled by the recent transfer of the Operations Group from Lincoln to the Station's recently completed Administration wing.

The group is composed of power engineers and physicists who will supervise the operation of the plant. Pending the production of power from conventional fuel in 1961 and the production of power from nuclear fuel in 1962, the group is charged with the training of plant personnel and the testing of equipment as it is installed.
