

Mary Brooks Weds Warren Kelly at Bassett Monday

At St. Mary's Episcopal church in Bassett on Monday afternoon, Dec. 26, Miss Mary Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Brooks of Ida Grove, Ia., and Steven Warren Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Kelly of Atkinson, exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. O. J. Spencer of Valentine.

For the 5 o'clock rite, the altar of St. Mary's was decorated with white carnations and banked with baskets of white chrysanthemums and pompons.

Gordon Trousdale, II, of Valentine, nephew of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Marcia Weber of Bassett was the accompanist and also played the wedding march from "Lohengrin," and the recessional by Mendelssohn.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Gordon Trousdale, sr., of Valentine.

Her gown was of French silk Chantilly lace over satin. The pointed bodice was designed with a sheer lace yoke and a dropped shoulder bertha embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. Tiny satin buttons lined the front of the bodice to the circular skirt, which ended in a chapel train. She wore lace mitts pointed at the wrists. Her pillbox headdress of Alencon lace adorned with seed pearls held the illusion fingertip veil.

She carried a white prayerbook covered by a white orchid with streamers of lily of the valley. The prayerbook was a gift from her cousin.

Attending her as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Gordon Trousdale of Valentine. Mrs. Trousdale was gowned in wedge-wood blue nylon sheer, featuring a tiny jacket and scroll decorations at the waist. She wore a bow headband with a circular veil, and carried a wedding ring bouquet of white feathered carnations.

The bride's mother was dressed in royal blue net over satin, with black accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a coral-colored dress of embroidered satin with matching pillbox hat and black accessories.

Their corsages were of delicate pink carnations.

Mr. Kelly was attended by his cousin, James Purtzer of Atkinson.

The ushers were Charles Hamik and William Miller, both of Atkinson.

Following the ceremony, relatives and friends were received in the parlors of the Bassett Methodist church. Decorations were in the bride's colors of blue and white.

Pouring coffee were Mrs. Ruth Huston and Mrs. William McClain. Punch was served by Mrs. Cal Hedelson and Mrs. Delmer Dorsey, and the wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Mark Spann and Mrs. Ralph Nailor.

The guests were registered by Mrs. Emory Mauch and the gifts were in charge of Mrs. Warren Marsh. Mrs. E. H. (Jerry) Morton and Miss Mary Little, all of the Atkinson 25-Crystal and Curtiss Kelly, both of Stuart.

A Poem From Mrs. Eby . . .

A Poor Boys Christmas Prayer
This year, dear Father send to me, if you please
New stockings, for mine are all out at the knees.
New shoes, if you can manage—how glad I'll be!
For mine are all ragged and torn, you can see.
For mother a coat—Though used it may be—
Her's she cut down for brother and me.

For brother, lots of milk—he's tiny and frail, wish we could buy that cow that's for sale!
And dear Lord, for all that, we would feel blessed,
And rich beyond words—I guess I'm possessed to ask you for more seems way out of reason
You'll think I'm a hard one, Lord to be plain;
Just one thing more, if I could have my way,
Oh! could we have butter on our bread Christmas day?
