Cliff and Ollie To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

ROYAL—June 14 is Flag Day all over the USA, but to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rundquist of Royal the date holds an added significance, since it marks their golden wedding anniversary this year. It also means 50 years of continuous service to the public in Rundquist's General Merchandise store which has been in operation for 55 years, since 1906 when the late Matthias Rundquist went into business here.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rundquist are of pioneer parentage. Mr. Rundquist is one of nine children of the late Matthias and Minnie Rundquist who homesteaded south of Royal, the farm now owned and occupied by the James Peterson family. Of this family, three brothers, Herman, Santa Ana, Calif., Reuben, Clearwater, Gus, Berthoud, Colo., and one sister, (Anna) Mrs. W. J. Reeve of Royal, are living.

Mr. Rundquist has seen the village grow and decline from the beginning. He stated that he was two years old when the Short Linn went through Sioux City to O'Neill. Just when the village was incorporated is uncertain, since all early records were destroyed by fire. However, Rundquist's store is the only business enterprise that has existed since the beginning and that still is in operation.

Mr. Rundquist obtained his early schooling in the Prairie Gem rural school and later in Royal, then entered Wayne State Teacher's college for a year. He taught two terms of school in the vicinity, was graduated from Warner's Business college in Sioux City.

Mrs. Rundquist was born Ollie May Boyd, the only daughter and the second child of the late Albert and Gertrude Boyd whose home was the farm west of town owned and occupied by Miles Thoms. The Boyds later built a flour mill near the head waters of the Verdigris, a mile and a half northeast of the village. There Mr. Boyd sustained injuries while doing heavy lifting and died when Ollie May was two years of age.

She lived for a time with her Uncle Joe and Aunt Della Eyer. Her early education was obtained in rural schools, and a few months in Neligh while her mother was employed there. Later Mrs. Boyd married B. B. Bonestell and it was as Gertie Bonestell that she was known in later days.

Ollie attended school in Wayne for a short time and then went to work in B. B. Bonestell's General store which was across the street from Rundquist's store.

Having a common occupational interest may have been the drawing card that provided a mutual topic of conversation that eventually led to the joining of "two lives but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one."

Be that as it may, the marriage took place at the home of the bride's mother, on June 14, 1911, the home being the one now owned and occupied by the Hans Hofer family.

The officiating minister was the Rev. John Allen. The bridesmaid was Mamie Eyer, a cousin (now Mrs. Almen of Mead) and the best man was Gus Rundquist, brother of the bridegroom now living Colorado. Guests present were the parents of the groom, his brothers Albert and wife, and Herman and wife; his sister, Anna and husband, Will Reeve, and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Guy Boyd and daughter, Twinkle. Dinner was served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Bonestell.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Rundquist recalls, that the bridal party rode to Neligh in a high wheel International car, chauffeured by Bert Miller, to have their pictures taken.

The bride's dress was of soft figured white silk, fashioned with a gathered bodice set onto an all-over lace yoke that dropped over the shoulders, and with a high lace collar. The sleeves were elbow length with wide tucked cuffs. (The Norris Sisters, Brunswick, made the dress.) The gathered skirt was trimmed with two wide satin bias flounces. The bridesmaid's dress was similar to that of the bride. Mrs. Rundquist still has her wedding dress.

The newly-weds began house-keeping where Russell Burch now lives, the house being the one occupied by Harold Francis. Later they built the house occupied by L. H. Sawyer, then moved to the place occupied by William Mitties. From there they moved to the place built by the late Irve Swetnand, and more recently to the home they now occupy which is next door to the house where they were married.

During the early years of their married life, both participated in home talent plays and were members of the Methodist church choir. For many years they sang at funerals, not only in Royal, but at Neligh, Clearwater, Orchard and at home funerals in the vicinity.

It was about this time that Mr. Rundquist and others, including the late Bob Thurston, Albert Rundquist, Jim Johnston, W. E. Butler, H. S. Fernald, Ed Field, Julius Hering, and others from Orchard, organized the Masonic lodge in Royal, the first meetings being held in Edward. Mr. Rundquist holds the Jordan Medal, given for having the oldest membership in the Diamond lodge at Orchard. Both he and Mrs. Rundquist are charter members of the Sunset Chapter Order of the Eastern Star at Orchard.

Mr. Rundquist in his youth and middle age was an enthusiastic sports fan. He played baseball with the Royal Creek Rats for 25 years. He was long a member of the Royal band, playing baritone, in the days when the band was well known and was called on to fill engagements at fairs, ball tournaments and similar gatherings.

For many years, Mr. Rundquist served on the Town Board and on the school board, and on committees too numerous to mention.

Mrs. Rundquist's accomplishments are many. She is a woman of diversified talents. Her culinary ability is so well known that if any one finds a recipe that she cannot find, someone is certain to say "Ask Ollie. She has it, or if not, she will find it for you." Mrs. Rundquist has assisted at every banquet, church dinner, bazaar, Scout and Campfire dinner and every other similar "feed" ever held in Royal. Many are the elaborate dinners she has served in her home.

She is also an artistic needle-woman whose lace-making, embroidery, crochet and other similar needlework has been greatly admired and her patterns sought since teenage days. She has also done a great deal of quilting, "but I never pieced but one quilt", she said. During both World Wars she was an enthusiastic worker in the Red Cross and gave much of her time and talent.

Mrs. Rundquist's outstanding characteristic, so much admired by those who know her well, is her modest, retiring manner, the quiet way in which she performs many kind deeds, seeking no self-adulation.

Mr. and Mrs. Rundquist are the parents of three children; Glenn, a veteran of World War II, whose death occurred in January this year; Gwendolyn Morrison, and Corrine, Mrs. Clarence Thomsen, living on a farm south of town. There are seven grandchildren. The three children are graduates of the local high school, and have attended higher schools of learning.

Mrs. Rundquist has two half-brothers, George Bonestell of Chadron and Gordon Bonestell of Newell, S. D., and a half-sister, Twinkle Wheeler in California.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rundquist have spent their entire 50 years serving the public in Rundquist's store.

Beginning with pioneer days, and down through the years, the store was something of a community center. Every Wednesday and Saturday night, folks from the trade territory made it a point to go to town to "trade", to attend lodge, and to visit with relatives and friends. "See you next week at Rundquist's" was a watchword or slogan for many years, and even yet the third and fourth generation of the pioneers meet at the store by pre-arrangement to visit and to shop. Friendliness, unselfishness, willingness to be of service, are among the outstanding characteristics of this couple who have won and held so many friends throughout the half century of their married life, which has been spent in public service.

Their home is one where hospitality reigns supreme and where relatives and friends receive a warm welcome. The latch string hangs outside.

The number of persons whom they have met in the store during the 50 years cannot be estimated but must number several thousand, and it is safe to say that none ever forgets the courteous treatment accorded.

Alumni Banquet Draws Large Crowd Friday

The outstanding social event of the year, took place in the new community and school auditorium Friday night when 125 members of the Alumni Association and guests were gathered here for the annual banquet.

Toastmaster Dr. Gordon Shupe of the class of '34 presided. Bruce Rehberg, O'Neill, called the meeting to order and took charge of the business. Other officers were Greg Rundquist, vice president; Mrs. Walter Beutler, secretary, and Mrs. Gerald Maple, Orchard, treasurer. New officers elected were: Stanley Montgomery, president; Carol Carlson, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Bittner, secretary; Jan Curtis, treasurer and Everett Johnston, toastmaster.

Floral pieces were arranged by Mrs. E. A. Rundquist who assisted with the table setting. The banquet prepared by the WSCS was served by the following pupils from the high school: Bruce Meisner, Marlene Rader, LeRoy Henry, Barbara Henry, Jerry Peterson, Jean Peterson, Tom Rundquist and Anita Weber.

Bruce Rehberg gave the welcome, the history of the honor class was given by Lucille Mitties, Mrs. Emil Klabenes of Chambers presented a reading. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barton and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Briggs of Hillsboro, Ore., called on friends in Royal Thursday evening.

Graduation invitations have been received here from two former Royal boys, LeRoy Chaff and Gary Holm, grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Chaff and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holm. LeRoy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Chaff and Gary is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Holm.

Both graduates are seniors in the Meridian high school at Kent, Wash., which graduates a class of 340. LeRoy is one of four boys accepted by Washington State University at Pullman for a four-year course in architectural engineering.

Last weeks news

An invitation extended to boys under 13 years who are interested in baseball brought a gratifying response to Bill Mitties, who issued the call. There were 19 boys who came out for practice Monday night, and others have signified a wish to join. Equipment arrived the first of the week.

Daily practice is held on the vacant lots across from Rundquist's store, and the real games take place on the school baseball diamond Monday after 6:30 p.m. Tom Rundquist is assisting Mitties in coaching. Boys who have come out for practice thus far are Dean Ennen, Douglas Weber, Curt Mitties, Jim Bright, Everett Meyer, Lester and Fred Anson, Nolan Rundquist, Jerry Schwager, Marvin Schwager, Delwyn Schwager, LeRoy, John and Vern Henry, Miles Krutz, George, August and Martin Waterman and Doug Jensen. Plans will be made in the near future to raise money for the equipment.
