Christina Connot Weds David Hunt In Catholic Rite

SPENCER-On Saturday, Feb. 11, at 10 a.m., Miss Christina Ann Connot and David D. Hunt were united in marriage by the Rev. Robert Steinhausen at St. Mary's Catholic church in Spencer.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Connot of Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. David E. Hant of Omaha.

The bride wore a gown of reembroidered rose point lace and misty nylon tulle over bouquet taffeta. The sculptured bodice was fashioned with a scalloped Saneckline and the long sleeves were tapered to traditional bridal points over the wrists. Her voluminous skirt, worn over stiffened petticoats, featured deep front and back lace panels and lace bordered flounces of tulle at the sides and cascaded into an aisle-wide train. She wore a double veil of English illusion, pearl encrusted and scalloped, which fell in a circular swoop from a jeweled crown coronet. Her flow-

Poem From Mrs. Eby ...

Life's Tangles A little child at mother's knee plies woolen strands and needles

Small eager hands strive earnestly to fasten every stitch But soon perplexing knots appear which vex and hinder progress' flow:

Impatient fingers pull and tear, while ever worse the tangles How surely then in wiser hands the roughest places are made plain!

How easy now the task's demands. How wonderful the lesson's gain! Thus, God, we bring our snarls to Thee: Though human sense and stubborn will oft clamor loud for We hear alone Thy "Peace, be
