

YOUR NATIONAL GUARD

Know your Guardsman. He lives next door, has a family and works at a job just like you. But he spends extra hours each week training as a combat infantryman in order to protect your family and his from those who would take away our form of life as we know it.

Feel fortunate to have a unit in your home town, to protect you and to provide trained services in time of emergency.

National Guard "Muster Day" commemorates the annual muster of the militia on the village green in colonial times.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE MEN
DEFENDING AMERICA

The purpose then was to "count noses" and see how many physically-qualified men were at hand to bear arms in an emergency.

"Muster Day in O'Neill found 67 trained and equipped men of the O'Neill National Guard unit ready for any call.
