

JADE CARVER—E. B. Bomar of Tucson, Arizona has a fascinating hobby, carving jade. At the left, he uses a homemade saw to cut a large chunk of jade from which he will carve a beautiful dinner set. At the right, he polishes a piece to bring out jade's amazing colors.

UNHAPPY HANSI. Hansi, a baby zebra born at the zoo in Austria, seems worried about his lack of black stripes on his hindquarters. Zoo officials consider his missing colors a rare exception and so does poor Hansi who asked: "Why do my stripes stop at the most important place?"
