In The Batter's Box

with Terry Kurtz

Junior Legion

O'Neill's Junior Legion Mid-gets up their fifth victory of the season Tuesday night by downing Plainview 9-6. Joe Shoemaker went all the way on the mound for the winners, this was his third win of the year without a setback. Shoemaker gave up five hits, he struck out two and walked one. Peterson was the losing hurler.

Jerry Oetter continued his tantrum at the plate with two hits in two official trips, he doubled and walked once. Kent Peterson walked a double in the third inning for O'Neill. Dale Lortz collected a triple and two singles to lead the losers at the plate.

The Midgets next game will be at Niobrara this Sunday at 2:15, they will play at Greeley next Wednesday.

Seven fielding errors led the O'Neill Junior to their fourth loss in six games Tuesday night as they fell to Plainview 12-5. Warren Woods was the successful pitcher for Plainview, he went the distance in the seven-inning contest.

O'Neill collected 10 hits with Jack McGinn, Terry Tomjack, and Rudy Classen accounting for two each. Lyle Stewart tripled for O'Neill in the final stanza.

Keith Reynoldson was the victim of O'Neill's support, he was relieved by Ray Belina in the fourth inning.

The Legion's next scheduled game will be at Butte this Monday, then they'll play host to Gregory, S. D., this coming Tuesday.

THESE FINE TROUT were the result of a short afternoon's fishing in the Fort Robinson area near Crawford last week. Dr. H. D. Gildersleeve, stopping at the Fort to visit with Superintendent John Kurtz, said he and Kurtz took the fish on flies and hoppers while fishing near the reservation. Dr. Gildersleeve said fishing there was one of the highlights of the trip he and his family took to California during his vacation. Fort Robinson is a state recreation area three miles west of Crawford.

O'Neill Midgets

Joe Ollendick's Junior Legion Midgets traveled to Ainsworth Sunday evening and handed the Ainsworth Midgets a 12-6 loss. Although he led to five hits, the local Midgets took advantage of 14 bases on balls and two opponent's errors to score their runs.

Mike Hammond and Kent Peterson slammed three-baggers in the winners' four-run first inning. Butch Hammond collected two doubles for Ainsworth.

O'Neill's Keith Reynoldson held the opposition to five hits while striking out nine, he walked six batters. Dodds started on the mound for the losers, he was relieved by Zoerb and Rose in the seven-inning battle.

The O'Neill Midgets have compiled a record of four victories and one defeat so far this year, their one setback being an 11-6 loss to Ainsworth.

T-Shirt League

In the "T-Shirt League" last Thursday night, Lewis Coker's Tigers slid past the Giants 5-3. Glen Jenkins was the winner, Hallick was the loser. The White Sox stopped the Dodgers in a well-played ball game 7-5. Jerry Wolfe hurled the win, Tom Stevens took the loss. A close game all the way, the White Sox collected five hits to the Dodgers 4.

Junior Adamson's Yankees trimmed the Senators 11-1 to round out last week's competition. This week the Dodgers will play the Tigers, the Senators will take on the Giants, and the Yankees will play host to the White Sox.

Town Team

The Petersburg Town Team failed to show up for their scheduled game with O'Neill Tuesday night so O'Neill was announced the winner by forfeit. The local Town Team's record in North Central Nebraska League competition is three wins and four defeats.

O'Neill's next game will be at Petersburg this evening. They will travel to Verdigris Sunday. Lambert Belina has posted a .428 average to lead O'Neill hitters in their early season games.

The previously quiet bats of the O'Neill Town Team unleashed their well-preserved power Sunday night by racking opposing pitchers for 16 hits as the local nine upset Battle Creek 16-5. The hitting attack included 8 doubles in the game played under the lights at Carney Park.

But to add to local Town Team enthusiasts' pleasure, Gene Couch provided O'Neill with the kind of pitching performance manager Alvin Carson has been unable to find in his earlier season games. Couch went the distance on the mound, giving up only three hits while striking out six, he allowed three bases on balls.

Chuck Smith pounded out three hits, two of them doubles, while scoring four runs to lead the winners' offensive attack. Derald Graham and Lambert Belina also collected three hits for O'Neill.

Schaker was the early victim of O'Neill, he was relieved by Edwards in the fourth and Reeves in the seventh. Hoffman held down the catching duties for the losers.

Pumping Plant Tests Available

A. Neil Dawes County Extension Agent Pumping plant tests are available for irrigators to show how the plant rates in comparison with the Nebraska pumping plant performance standards.

The standards were built on the average horsepower hours per gallon attained by various engines and for different fuels. When an engine is coupled to a pump, the pump efficiency enters into the operation. Using 75 percent pump efficiency, the productive horsepower per gallon is reduced to this amount. The entire unit is therefore rated on what is termed water horsepower hours per unit of fuel.

A bulletin, giving information concerning this, is available at the County Extension office. It is entitled, "It Pays to Test Your Pumping Plant" and is bulletin EC 60-173.

These tests may be demonstrated by the University of Nebraska Extension Agriculture Engineering personnel. In some cases a technician from a neighboring Deep Well Irrigators association may test the plant at the owner's request and at his cost.

In tests the well owner learns how much fuel his unit uses, compared to that which is standard for his conditions. The standards give him a guide for his own pumping conditions which are different from those of other well owners. The technician also has charts available which will indicate where adjustments may be made to reduce fuel waste.

Also available at the Holt County Extension office is a bulletin entitled, "Irrigation Turbine Pump Drives" and is number EC 57-701. The bulletin gives information concerning the proper alignment of an irrigation engine with the pump, and also complete information on alignment of shafts and lifts.
