Report from Washington

By Congressman Dave Martin
Fourth District, Nebraska

Congress is drawing into what would normally be the "backstretch," before adjournment, but the Berlin situation might result in a much longer session this year than usual. We will do whatever is necessary to meet this crisis.

I will be interested to see how the Communists explain the frantic flight of Germans from Red East Berlin to the Western Sector of the city—a flight that swelled to such a point the Communists were forced to put up barbed-wire barricades and halt all departures from East Berlin.

If the "Socialistic State" is such a paradise, why must the Reds fence people in to keep them there? Why must they reinforce the barricades with soldiers and machine guns? These are some questions to consider, and I recommend them to college professors and research theorists—including some in the Administration—who speak seriously of "much to admire" in Socialism and Communism.

Rep Tom Pelly of Washington has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives to prevent exports from the U. S. to all countries under the Communist form of government.

Like Congressman Pelly, I am shocked that such a law is even necessary. But the Administration, through the Secretary of Commerce, issues export licenses to firms and individuals that may sell materials to Communist countries—if the materials are not "strategic" in the opinion of the Secretary.

I do not believe most Nebraskans or most Americans would agree that these products, for which export licenses were approved August 3 and August 4, are "not strategic." They include: Machine cutting tools, industrial instruments, medical and pharmaceutical preparations, surgical apparatus, chemical processing, electrical machinery parts, petroleum products, and others.

In debate on the House Floor this past week, Congressman Casey, Democrat of Texas, noted that "at this very time, in the Port of Houston, Tex., a liberty ship is loading the first portion of a cargo of 73,340 tons of scrap iron destined to Communist Tito's Yugoslavia."

"This, I am informed," said Mr. Casey, "is part of a $5 million grant by ICA. The shipment was reportedly licensed on August 3, 1961—some 3 weeks after Tito had signified that this country stands shoulder to shoulder with Khrushchev on international policy."

The Texas Congressman also entered into the Congressional Record figures showing that since 1956 the United States has done $37,000 worth of trade with East Germany, $10,575,000 with Hungary, $61,288,000 with Poland, and $508,379,000 with Yugoslavia—all Communist countries.

The Secretary of Commerce decides what are "strategic" materials. I wonder—were shipment of scrap iron (such as the one leaving the Port of Houston) strategic or not to Japan, in the days before Pearl Harbor? Are industrial instruments, chemicals, and machinery "non-strategic?"

Mr. Pelly, in introducing his bill, has observed: "If any material is needed by a Communist country to the extent of purchasing it from the United States, it is strategic to that country."

Marine Pvt. Thomas J. Chvala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Chvala, Monowi received two weeks instruction in flight theory, aircraft handling, survival practices and fire fighting at the school. Serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Hancock, undergoing overhaul at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash., is James P. Barnes, aviation boatswain's mate second class, USN, son of Mrs. Ruth Barnes, Atkinson.

While the Hancock is receiving a $4 million face-lifting, her crew is being trained at nearby service schools, training courses, lectures and films.

The attack carrier will be equipped with improved aircraft catapults, arresting gear and a new type flight deck planking made of plywood. Its flight deck also is to be remodeled for safer and more mobile operations.

The Hancock is scheduled to return to sea in the early fall.

Terry P. Gallagher has enlisted in the U. S. Air Force, mechanical field, according to a report by T/Sgt. Bob Rasmussen, Norfolk Air Force recruiter.

He is the son of Mrs. George Winkler, O'Neill. Terry is a 1961 graduate of St. Mary's academy.

To Nebraskans...
... a glass of beer is many things

From catching the wily trout in the streams and lakes of Western Nebraska to fishing for bass and crappie in the waters of the central and eastern parts of the state... the gentle art of angling has a big place in the hearts of many Nebraskans. It's an example of their love of the good life. In much the same way so is a glass of good beer.

Light and refreshing, beer stands for good living. But even more it's a symbol of the freedom of choice which belongs to all Nebraskans—a right that should belong to every man, everywhere.
