Peterson Trial Ends Quickly

A mistrial was declared in the jury trial of Holt county rancher, Charlie Peterson, 73, Atkinson, before it had progressed to the taking of testimony Monday at Timber Lake, S. D.
Circuit Judge Leslie R. Hersrud ruled that a statement made by Mr. Peterson's attorney, Warren May, Pierre, S. D., would tend to "mislead" the jury, and could reflect adversely on either the character of Mr. May or State's Attorney Andrew Aberle.
Judge Hersrud referred to May's statement which concerned a previous unsuccessful attempt by the South Dakota Livestock Sanitary Board to get a court order to test Mr. Peterson's cattle for tuberculosis.

Mr. May said he would press for a new trial as soon as possible.
Mr. Peterson reportedly posted a guard and padlocked a gate to his 14,000 acre Dewey county ranch last July when a team of livestock agents came to test his cattle for TB. He contended the testing violated his constitutional rights.
