Continued expansion, additional new equipment, and growth have brought about immediate openings for 23 coilwinders at:
DALE ELECTRONICS
These positions offer excellent opportunities in pay and interesting employment for capable women who have a desire for permanent employment. The items you will make are used in missile guidance and support systems, radar, sonar, and other quality electronic equipment, such as computers. You need not know anything about electronics at the present time, but only need good vision with or without glasses, and an honest desire to work and improve yourself. You will spend a minimum of three months in training. In addition to your supervisor, you will have the assistance of an experienced winder who will work full time in training you and other trainees. You will begin employment at $1.15 per hour, with an increase each month for the first 3 months, as long as you show normal progress. You are then considered for an increase each 3 months until you reach the maximum for the grade.
You may apply at Dale Electronics, Industrial Site, or the State Employment Office in Columbus, Nebraska, during regular working hours, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
