Mrs. Merrill Anderson

We are starting to feel the month of January is being a bit unfair to us folks on the Holt County prairies but if we were in Alaska we'd really have room to complain. They report temperatures dropping as low as 50 to 65 degrees below zero and remaining there for a period of two weeks. It wouldn't be very practical to take the car out of the garage, either since we understand at such temperatures the tires freeze and break into chunks and car batteries freeze in a moving vehicle. And we think we have problems!
