Price Support Data Announced For All 1962 Crop Feed Grains

sorghum and barley that can be put under support from eligible farms. The eligible quantity will be that equal to the farm's 1959-60 average or adjusted average per acre yield times the corn, grain sorghum or barley planted acreage as determined by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. There will be no limits on the quantities of oats and rye put under support.

As in the past, price support on the five feed grains will be carried out through farm and warehouse-stored loans and purchase agreements. These will be available through county ASC offices. To be eligible for price support, the grains must be in adequate storage.

Price support on barley, grain sorghum, oats, and rye will be available from harvest time through January 31, 1963, and on corn through May 31, 1963, in most areas.

Loans in most states will mature on March 31, 1963, for grain sorghum; on April 30, 1963, for barley, oats and rye; and on July 31, 1963, for corn. Earlier maturity dates may be set for some areas because of storage conditions or early harvests.

To be eligible for support, these crops must have been produced in 1962. Corn must grade No. 3 or better, except that corn grading No. 4 because of test weight only will also be eligible. Corn must meet certain moisture requirements.

Minimum eligibility requirements for other feed grains are: Grade No. 4 or better, or No. 4 garlicky or better for barley; grade No. 4 or better, grade No. 4 smutty or better, or grade No. 4 discolored or better, and containing not more than 13 per cent moisture, for grain sorghum; grade No. 3 or better, or No. 3 garlicky or better, for oats; and grade No. 2 or better, or grade No. 3 because of test weight only, and containing not more than 1 per cent ergot, for rye.

County support rates with premiums and discounts for quality will be announced later. In addition, terminal rates will be set for barley, grain sorghum, and rye and will also be announced later.

Under the feed grain program, payments will be made to farmers who divert corn, grain sorghum, and barley acreage to conserving uses. The payments will maintain farmers' incomes, and the acreage reduction will continue the trend started with last year's program to bring about a better balance between feed grain production and needs. As was done last year, about half of the payment will be offered to producers as they sign up under the program. The sign-up period for the spring-planted crops begins February 5 and runs through March 30.

Payments will be "in-kind" from Commodity Credit Corporation stocks of feed grains. However, producers may receive the cash equivalent of the in-kind payment and ask the CCC to act as their agents in marketing the grain. Provision is also made for producers to obtain grains directly from CCC stocks if stocks are available locally, as payment or to use the payment in purchasing grain that they have under price-support loan.

As announced, national average support rates for 1962 feed grains are as follows:

Corn — $1.20 per bu. average for all grades. Barley — .93 per bu. for grade No. 2 or better, Grain Sorghum — $1.93 per CWT for grade No. 2 or better. Oats — .62 per bu. for grade No. 3. Rye — $1.02 per bu. for grade No. 2 or better, or grading No. 3 on test weight only.

The 1962 support prices announced today reflect approximately 74 per cent of January 1962 parity prices of $1.62 per bushel for corn, $1.25 for barley and 84.3 cents for oats; 69 per cent of the rye parity of $1.48, and about 78 per cent of grain sorghum parity of $2.48 per hundredweight.

The support prices for 1961 crops were set at $1.20 per bushel for corn, 93 cents per bushel for barley, 62 cents per bushel for oats, all reflecting about 74 per cent of parity; $1.02 per bushel for rye reflecting 69 per cent of parity, and $1.93 per hundredweight for grain sorghum, reflecting 78 per cent of parity.
