

Capitol News-

LINCOLN — State officials are pleased with the turnout of week-end visitors to the Capitol.

Robert Newell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, says on 27 weekends in 1961, 32,514 persons toured the state's famous building. During all the week-days of 1960 only 29,166 persons toured the Capitol, Newell said.

He added that the number of visitors on the weekends in 1961 justifies keeping the building open all day Saturday and Sunday, the year round.

However, Newell hastened to comment that budgetary problems would be a factor in year-round operation.

As a sample, Newell picked a weekend when the weather was bad. He counted 240 visitors on a Saturday and 257 on Sunday, from Nebraska, Canada, Florida, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Colorado.

"That proves tourists come here the year round," Newell said, "not just in the summer."

The Capitol is open from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sundays.

Many people visit the structure on weekdays but Newell said these are not counted whereas on weekends his staff keeps a tally of the sightseers.

In another area, the superintendent reported his work crew is busy daily cleaning Nebraska's most famous building. The latest to get the soap and water treatment is the east lounge hearing room, used for meetings especially during the Legislature.

Safety Officer

The State Highway Department has a new safety officer. He is Fred C. Smith who will work in the maintenance section of the department.

Smith, according to State Engineer John Hossack, will review and record personal injuries, equipment and property accidents, conduct safety practice education, and inspection and enforcement of safety practices and undertake special studies for the maintenance office.

A division engineer since 1927, Smith is a veteran of nearly 40 years for the maintenance office.

A division engineer since 1927, Smith is a veteran of nearly 40 years with the department.

Vehicle Values

It has been determined by the State Board of Equalization that 1961 automobiles will be valued for tax purposes at 39 per cent of the factory delivered price.

For 1962 models, the value will be 28 per cent of the factory delivered price, and 1956-61 models, 26 per cent of the average retail price.

The board said for 1952-55 model vehicles, a figure will be set by the tax commissioner.

On 1951 models and earlier the minimum taxable value will be $25.

Trucks of 1963 vintage will be taxed at 42 per cent of their value, semi-trailers at 35 per cent, miscellaneous vehicles such as motorcycles, 39 per cent and cabin trailers at 35 per cent of the average retail price.

Welfare Commitment

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer has ruled that the State Welfare Department must accept any child committed to it by a juvenile court in Nebraska whether there is adequate room for the youngster or not.

In the past, several counties and some private groups have been caring for children committed by the courts until they could be put in a home.

But Meyer said the State Welfare Department must assume this responsibility and bear the cost of sending the children to boarding homes pending entry into the Children's Home at Lincoln.

The Home is operated by the State Welfare Department.

State Public Welfare Director Frank Woods noted that the Home has a capacity for 90 but now is handling 123 youngsters with a considerable waiting list.

Plans to appeal to the 1963 Legislature for more funds for this function still are in the discussion stage, Woods said.

Interstate Traffic

There is plenty of traffic on Nebraska's Interstate Highway between Lincoln and Omaha.

The State Highway Department reports that an average of 6,025 vehicles a day passed a checkpoint on the Interstate at the Douglas-Sarpy county line during 1961.

That is an increase of 15 per cent over the January, 1961, total of 4,510 vehicles, the department said, and compares with 5,165 in January, 1962.

In a report the department said only two checkpoints showed increases in traffic in January over December — on U. S. 77 and 275 north of Fremont where the boost was six per cent and on Nebraska 9 north of West Point where the hike was 26 per cent.

Aeronautics Commission

There is a new member of the State Aeronautics Commission — 46-year-old Howard C. Larsen.

Larsen will serve a five-year term, succeeding M. M. Meyers of Omaha.

Gov. Frank Morrison, who made the appointment, said Larsen has been a pilot for many years. Larsen is a Democrat.
