A Poem From Mrs. Eby . . .

Whoever therefore shall confess me before men him will I confess before my Father which is in heaven. Matt. 10:32

COURAGE
The old adage, religion is for women and little folk, is really untrue, relegate it as a joke, for it takes red blooded men with a lot of back bone who will come asking Christ for their sins to atone.

Confessing their sins in the old fashioned way, disregarding what those around him may say, at the close of a meeting, a U. S. Marine accepted Christ and stepped out to be seen.

Saying, I've been on battle fields all around the world, in Europe and Asia, where our flag was unfurled, with death all around me on every hand. "Oh! yes I was scared" in every land.

It always took courage to stand up and fight but nothing like the courage it took here tonight. One of the hardest things I've had to face was confess my sins and plead for His grace.

It took real courage to confess my guilt and surrender to Him whose blood was spilt. It took real grit but the joy inside it is worth all for His peace now abides.
