Citizens Committee to Meet With School Board

A meeting to discuss plans for a new school at O'Neill Public school has been called for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the school. The meeting will be between a subcommittee of the citizens and the school board.

The meeting was set up following a discussion of the school board's plans with press and radio representatives at the end of Tuesday's meeting.

O'Neill Public schools this year will rent four rooms from St. Mary's academy in the vacated portion of the academy building. Fifth and sixth grade classes will be conducted in the rented rooms, Supt. H. L. McCoy said.

An item in the recently published school budget calling for $5,000 for rent came under discussion. It was explained that the sum was an arbitrary figure, chosen because no firm agreement had been reached with officials of St. Mary's and some maintenance and repair work was required. To insure that enough would be included in the budget, the board set aside $5,000 for the item.

A manual fire alarm system is installed in the portion of the academy to be used by the public school and escapes are provided through windows for basement rooms. Officials feel ample exits are available.

Two classrooms will be in the basement and two on the first floor. The rooms are being made ready for use now.

The automatic fire detection system at the public school is still not completed, it was reported. The project is 15-20 percent done.

A vacancy still existed in the teaching staff at meeting time, but McCoy said he was certain he would have the position filled before school started Aug. 29.

Inman Church Addition Is Dedicated Sunday

Dedication services of the Macey Memorial Addition of the Methodist church, Inman, was held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 5, with Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, presiding Bishop of the Nebraska Annual Conference dedicating the educational unit and giving the dedication sermon. He was assisted by the Rev. Robert Embree, District Superintendent. Music was furnished by a mixed octet. Following the services a basket dinner was served at 11:45 a.m. The Rev. Robert Linder is the church pastor.

The Methodist church had its start in 1880 when a group of neighbors gathered to organize a Sunday school. The first man to serve the church was the Rev. John DeLos Wilson, a Methodist minister who was homesteading east of Inman, he later was appointed pastor by the Conference. The first church was completed in the fall of 1881 after a severe wind storm, earlier in the year, had partly lifted the church off its foundation. This was the first Methodist church erected in Holt County and was also the first church established on the Elkhorn Valley west of Oakdale. A second wind storm in the fall of 1905 wrecked the church to such an extent that it was necessary to tear it down and rebuild it.

The new church was dedicated May 20, 1906. This church stood unchanged until 1945 when planning started for an addition to be added to the north of the church. This was during the pastorate of the Rev. Eugene B. Macey for whom the addition was named. The Rev. Macey circulated the first petition to raise money for the building fund. An anonymous donor purchased the land north of the church upon which the addition was erected. The actual construction of the addition was started in 1951.

O'Neill's city council Tuesday night approved a city levy of 15.0 mills for the 1962-63 fiscal year. This is a drop of .5 mill from last year.

The drop amounts to a savings of 50 cents for each thousand dollars of taxable valuation.

Included in the levy are:
General ..... 4.00 mills
Streets ..... 3.00 mills
Parks ..... .50 mill
Airport ..... 1.00 mill

TOTAL MILLS ..... 15.00

In other action the council considered building permits, heard a report on a mosquito survey of O'Neill and approved a telephone fire warning system for the O'Neill fire department. The system, as explained by a Bell Telephone representative, would cost the city $68.45 per month for a maximum of 30 stations (phones). Fire Chief Miles said there were about 20 firemen who would need phone service in homes plus others in businesses.

The system would go into effect when the changeover to dial is made and would work on the regular dial phone. The only other requirement is that the firemen's phones be private lines and a 24-hour answering service be kept at the police station.

The operator could alert all firemen at once, then they could call the police station to get the fire location.

Permits granted included Gillette dairy for a dock and coolers east of Hornby's Jalopy drive-in; E. E. Cleveland to move a surplus barracks into town, probably on a lot north of the fire station; and to Don Denbeck for a 14-unit motel at the Town House.

The council took no action on a proposal by the Frontier Publishing company to codify the city ordinances and print the code in loose leaf binders for $2,550 including attorney fees.

Results of a mosquito survey by a state entomologist were also released to the council. The report stated that near the river, at the rodeo grounds and through most of the town lying south of Highway 20 are many drain ditches holding stagnant water and providing breeding grounds for the mosquitoes.

The report recommended that the city form a mosquito abatement district; and drainage ditches in the south half of the city be cleaned and regraded to prevent standing water after flow is stopped and all vegetation be removed from ditches; and

Starting next spring the city use a soil sterilant, one application per season; and drain all areas with standing water or fill them to prevent water accumulation; and

Hire a man to be in charge of a mosquito control program. If possible, get a high school science teacher who could then get training from the State Health department.

The entomologist estimated expenses of such a program would be about $4,225 per year, including about $2,000 worth of insecticide a year.

Cost per citizen would be about $1.45 per year and could be financed by a special use fee of 35 cents per month and included with water bills. This would bring in approximately $5,000 per year the report said.
