After a slow start the Cards threw their fast break into high gear during the second quarter and poured in 21 points to break the game wide open. The Cards continued to maintain their scoring pace during the second half, with nine men entering the scoring column.

Owen Donohoe paced the St. Mary's outfit with 18 counters, with Bill Coventry adding 14 points to the cause in his first game after becoming eligible for varsity competition.

Jerry Donohoe teamed with Owen and Coventry to dominate the boards while Mike Hammond's and Norman Mudolf's floor play and ball handling on the payoff end of the fast break kept the crowd well entertained.
