and is easily disturbed while nesting, usually breaking the eggs in its sudden flight, only to build again and perhaps not raise any young during a season. Putting the dove on the game list will soon have all of them destroyed, like the beautiful passenger pigeon that was hunted by the thousands until all were destroyed. Some have said why not shoot the meadow lark or robin in their eagerness to shoot. God forbid this, too. (Speaking of God, think of your Bible, how often the dove is spoken of and its use.) The dove is a symbol of the Holy Spirit. Let every bird lover write to your senator and let him know how the people at home feel about the bill in your part of the state. ## Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor
To All Bird Lovers: Immediately write to our senator, Frank Nelson, in this district, asking him to vote against the Dove Bill LB 450. Mr. Nelson has always been against making the mourning or turtle dove a game bird. But not so with many members of the game commission. This bill has again been dumped into the legislative hopper of bills to be voted upon soon.

Mel Steen is determined to see the bill pass and is urging all hunters to plug for the bill. Why? Just to have something to kill. Maybe they do have open season on the dove in other states to have something to shoot at, why the slaughter?

The dove is unafraid, and as it sits on a fence it is a perfect target, it is a seed eater, and does not possess any of the qualities. Why kill them and then spray your crops for weeds. The spraying kills our song birds too and those that live on worms and bugs in the fields.

The dove makes a flimsy nest
