A Poem From Mrs. Eby ...

WINGS
They who wait on the Lord shall mount up on wings as eagles men who do not soar have a small view of things.
To see things aright we must get away from them, but a birds eye view sees life as a whole to stem.
We shall soar above disappointments no matter how great, with wing power we defy even the very powers of fate.
A little bird sat on a slender limb upward swinging, and though winds and rain were rough with him, still he kept singing.
"Oh, little bird quickly seek out your nest!" I could not keep from calling, the bleak winds tear your tender breast.
And your tiny feet are falling when things go wrong I was not meant for crying, no fear for me be piped with glees, "my wings were meant for flying."
My heart has been dark as the stormy sky in my trouble long passed by,
But too I determined, the little birds way would try, "Oh! little bird sing!" I cried once shining, see there a rainbow arched o'er the storm clouds silver lining.
But too will sing through every thing, I will teach me blessings doubt, not yet to forget when rude winds fret to fly above my trouble, "Wide soaring gives wide seeing."

Work Progresses At Atkinson on Samaritan Home

ATKINSON—Work is progressing at Atkinson's Good Samaritan Home and it is expected to be ready for occupancy about September 1, according to announcement by the general committee.

Royal Couple Observes 60th Anniversary

ROYAL—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ziegenbein, life-long residents of Antelope county and Royal and vicinity, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage, Sunday afternoon, June 9, at an open house provided by their nine children, at the auditorium.

Mary Ellen Hangar and Alfred Ziegenbein were married at the Congregational parsonage in Neligh, June 10, 1903, by the pastor, Rev. Marslander.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hangar of West Cedar Valley, Antelope county, and the bridegroom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ziegenbein, Antelope county pioneers.

They have lived continuously in Royal and vicinity all of their lives. They are the parents of 10 children, nine of whom are living, and who expect to attend the reunion which will feature a family dinner at noon at the auditorium and a short program in the afternoon.

With the exception of windows and doors the exterior of the structure is nearing completion. Most of the floor is laid and partitions are now being installed.

The furnishing committee, Mrs. Frank Hanel, chairman, is making preparations to fill the needs of the new home. Some of the major furnishings have been purchased. Many items will be supplied and complete rooms furnished through the efforts of various clubs and organizations.

Mrs. Hanel and Mrs. Roy Ries made a trip to Omaha Monday in the interests of additional equipment.

Ron Shonka, general chairman, is receiving applications for the position of manager of the home. All applications will be acknowledged. The final decision for manager of the home will be made by the Rev. August Hoeger, Sioux Falls, S. D., who is president of the Good Samaritan Society.

Officers and were re-elected. Redmond Sears of Merriman is president.

Delegates named seven men to three-year terms on the board. They are: Darrell Mundorf of Wood Lake, George Smith of Elyria, Kenneth O'Hare of Springview, Kenneth O'Hare of Springview, Royal McGaughe of Eli, Don Hynes of O'Neill and Russell Briggs of Broken Bow.

Six hundred attended the one-day convention, making it the largest on record.

The directors authorized the employment of an assistant to Secretary-Manager Frank Sibert of Valentine.

Robert E. Hamilton, vice president of the Livestock National Bank of Chicago and a former officer of the association, spoke at a noon luncheon. He predicted that cattle will be selling on an up market in the Sand Hills this fall and said generally there is a favorable outlook for the cattle industry.

Women were entertained with a stylish show and noon luncheon. Afternoon speakers included University of Nebraska Football Coach Bob Devaney.
