Snelling opened his office Thursday, and will dispense justice hereafter in place of Joe Brown. Mr. J. K. Montrose of Flint, Michigan, is in the city visiting his brother Mr. J. E. Montrose of the Capital hotel. Miss Clara Carmody, of the land commissioners office, has returned this week from her holiday vacation. The ice crop promises an abundant supply for the coming season. The article is thick, clear and of excellent quality. Sleighting parties were quite fashionable this week, and the lads and lassies enjoyed themselves as the occasion demanded. The Mangor Bros. have sold their 11th street meat market to E. H. Harvey and Son. The new firm takes possession to-day. Mr. W. H. Axtator, Lincoln representative of the firm of Redmond, Cleary & Co., returned from his St. Louis trip Wednesday. Betts & Sewell have received a full line of Monarch California Canned goods. Their excellence is known to every lover of delicious fruit. Hon. A. P. Scott of Martinsville, Ind., has located in the city and associated himself with Mr. Lawrence Heskell in the practice of law. Letter Patent and Gold Leaf, the two leading brands of flour now on the market, are to be had of Betts & Sewell, sole agents for Lincoln. Miss Mary McClelland who has been spending the holidays with her uncle, Mr. S. B. Loughbridge, returned Tuesday to her home in Omaha. Mr. J. A. Hayden returned Tuesday from Atlantic, Iowa, where he had been called to attend the last rites of his father-in-law, Mr. J. A. Winslow. The COURIER turned out this week, several neat jobs of book-work. While not making exactly a specialty of this kind of work, we can do it in the best style of the art. Revival services continue at St. Paul's M E church, and much good is resulting, stimulating members to increased zeal in the cause, and bringing many new ones to the fold. A very pleasant time was had last evening at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff by a small party of friends, four couples. The time was spent in playing newmarket and in dancing. The new pipe organ for the Presbyterian church has been shipped from Louisville, Ky. It is a magnificent one, and will likely be placed in position by the first of next month. Mr. L. M. Tyler and Mr. F. W. Thomas attended the railroad conductors' ball at Fremont Monday evening. They report having a pleasant time, also meeting Mr. D. M. Philbin, formerly of this city. Miss Nellie Burns of Omaha, who has been visiting Miss Minnie Latta for some weeks and enjoying the festivities and hops of holiday time, returned home this week, much to the regret of her numerous friends and admirers. The parlor and south room of the Capital hotel formerly occupied by the COURIER are to be turned into a billiard hall. A suite of rooms on the second floor are to be used as parlors, other improvements are also being made. Mr. Gavin Stewart, formerly of Huntingdon, Pa., but for the past eighteen months a resident of this city, left Thursday for Norway, Michigan, near which place he will take up a homestead and reside in the future. Success go with him. At a meeting held by the Catholics of the city, Monday evening, it was decided to arrange for building a magnificent cathedral in this city. Bishop Boncompagni and Rev. Kenedy were authorized to appoint a committee of eleven to take action in the matter. Miss Georgia Taylor entertained a number of friends at her home, Fourteenth and Rose streets, Monday evening. The party was given in honor of Miss Taylor's visitor, Miss Lyle Hoover of Tecumseh. Dancing was the principal amusement, a very pleasant evening being had. The Pleasant Hour club will give a ball next Thursday evening. Aside from its being a regular party hop, it is also intended as a farewell to Miss Lulu Gruninger, of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been spending some months in the city. Miss Gruninger expects to leave on Sunday, the 15th inst. Word received Wednesday by Col. Kelly from Chicago gave the cheerful intelligence that Mrs. J. E. Houtz had greatly improved in health. This bit of news will be received with pleasure by the many friends of the lady in this city. Mr. Houtz is at her side and sent the news by telegraph. We have heard a great many jokes on Bob Burdette, the humorist, and many of them good, but the latest and perhaps the worst was perpetrated by one of our city contemporaries Monday this week when they charge him with preaching sometimes. If Bob don't draw the line at that he is not the man he "used to was." On Tuesday next Charlie, Frank and Bertie Burr, John McBride, Gerlie Zeimer and Harry Lansing expect to leave for Fairbault, Minn., to resume studies for the balance of the winter. The young folks have enjoyed a pleasant holiday season and enter school with renewed vim. The COURIER wishes them a successful term at their studies. The COURIER acknowledges the receipt of a set of beautiful pictures from the Missouri Pacific headquarters at St. Louis. The selections lithoed on each are appropriate to the occasion and this office returns thanks for the kindness. Together with the cards is an announcement that this popular road is open to Pueblo, a fact that will be good news and duly appreciated by the traveling public generally. The following officers were installed Wednesday evening by Lincoln Lodge No. 138, I. O. O. F. at their hall, Eleventh and M Sts.: N. G. J. H. Guthrie, V. G., T. F. Lasch, Permanent Sec., C. D. Hyatt, Treasurer, R. C. Hazlett, Secretary, J. H. Pinkerton. Hereafter patrons of Brown's Cafe will be regaled with delicious chops, steaks, etc., at popular prices. The newly-elected county officers took possession of their offices Thursday, Willard E. Stewart succeeding C. M. Parker as county judge, Thos. Dickson succeeding H. C. Keller as commissioner, and J. D. Knight taking possession of the new office of register of deeds. Prior to Judge Parker's vacating his office, the commissioners formally presented him with the arm chair from which he has dispensed justice the past six years. It was a graceful act of courtesy, and duly appreciated by the judge. We are pleased to note the rapidly increasing success of Dr. C. B. Manning, who has recently come among us representing one of the oldest families of New England, who, for generations have been prominent in medicine, law and letters, himself a graduate of the Harvard medical school, assistant surgeon in the Massachusetts General Hospital, and the possessor of a lucrative practice in Boston, which he left on account of Mrs. Manning's health. His coming among us is a source of credit to Lincoln, and we are pleased to place him among the foremost of our physicians. Lincoln is always glad to welcome able men, and we hope that the Doctor will abide with us for many years.

AT THE FUNKE. Amusement Notes Gathered at This Popular House. STREETS OF NEW YORK. Mr. George C. Boniface, supported by a good company, appeared at Funke's Tuesday evening to a good house. As Tom Badger Boniface has appeared so many times that the part has become second nature to him, and his delineation of the character is consequently very fine. Union Square by moonlight, the great fire scene, and various other thrilling effects were given with all the requisite accessories. The play was much enjoyed by all. LAST NIGHT The Andrews opera company presented the old favorite, "The Mikado," at the opera house to a good house. Ed Andrews is undoubtedly the best "Ko-Ko" that ever took the boards, and a carnival of fun is inaugurated whenever he appears. Victor Royald is a good Nanki-Poo, Charlie Andrews an excellent Mikado, George Andrews an acceptable Poo-Bah, and Florence Clayton a Kathia whom even a Ko-Ko couldn't resist. Miss Laura Rhodes as Yum-Yum, Miss Jessie Andrews as Pitti Sing, and Miss Van Wilkinson as Poo-Boo, acquitted themselves very creditably. TONIGHT. The Mascott will be presented at the Funke tonight by the Andrews opera company, and should be greeted by a full house. DAN SULLY will present "Daddy Nolan" and "The Corner Grocery" at the Funke on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. The New York Star says: "A great deal of pathos in the rough and much whole merriment are the features of 'Daddy Nolan,' which Daniel Sully very successfully produced at Tony Pastor's last night. There was not a scene in it that was dull, and there was not an actor in it who did not work with vigor and intelligence to give the piece an agreeable presentation. Good work had been looked for from Mr Sully, because, in his way, he has always acted with abundant force and in a manner entirely original; but last night he surprised even those who have watched him closely, and he presented a picture of the latter day Daddy Nolan that will, it is safe to say, create plenty of favorable comments from those who like Irish characterizations. It was strong alike in its quiet humor, its deep feeling, and its faithful touches of nature. Sully has certainly never done such praise-deserving work. The play is compactly put together, and though its story is trite, it is well told. SATURDAY, THE 14TH. "Around the World in Eighty Days," a dramatization of Jules Verne's famous novel, will be given at the Funke. The immense amount of scenery necessary for the proper production of this play is carried by the company, and an excellent performance may be looked for. John C. Bonnell was called to Fort Madison, Iowa, this week, to attend the funeral of an uncle. Mr. W. J. Bryan, the attorney, has returned from his trip to Jacksonville, Illinois. SHE MARRIED A SCHOLAR. Oh, she said she'd never marry any Tom and Dick and Harry; She'd wed some famous scientist of learning and renown; But her Tom was quite commercial, and of Agassiz and Herschel He was as ignorant, she said, as any circus clown. So she gave poor Tom the mitten, and as meek as any kitten He went to making money and forgot his wild despair; Forgive, I say; at any rate he hastened to degenerate Into a sordid business man, a trifling millionaire. But she wed a scientific, and his tastes were quite terrific For various kinds of insects and for toads and other game; And instead of plaques and pictures, rattlesnakes and boa constrictors He'd take into his sitting room to ornament the same. As a sensual decorator he preferred an alligator To a statue of Minerva or a bust of Henry Clay; And you ought to hear him talk awhile of his bouncing baby crocodile That he played with in his parlor just to while the time away; And his cobra di capello, a very charming fellow, Through his dressing room and bedroom used to nonchalantly drift; And an elephant's proboscis and two young rhinoceroses He presented to his children as a fitting Christmas gift. But he sold his wife's piano to buy peacocks; To feed his hippopotamus to ease his stomach aches, And a shark ate up his baby, for you know how hungry they be, And he went and pawned his overcoat to feed his rattlesnakes. —Yankee Blade. Latter Day Tyrants. Customer—This steak is raw on one side and burnt on the other. Waiter—Yes, sah. "And it's greased all over with oleo or something worse; tastes as if flavored with herpes and garlic." Waiter—Yes, sah. "Take it back, tell the cook what the matter is and see if he can't give me something fit to eat." Waiter (entering kitchen)—Steak for one. He Couldn't Afford It. A mother was urging her son to purchase an overcoat, and he was insisting that he could not afford one. "Very well, then," said she. "You will get pneumonia, see if you don't." "No," said he, "I won't get that either; I can't afford anything new."—New York Sun. Such a Convenience. A young lady living up town received a special delivery letter. The messenger handed her the book to sign for it. She took the book, and instead of writing her signature she wrote: "Dear John: Glad to hear from you. Come up Sunday night." She had answered the letter!—Philadelphia News. A Passion for Music. He (to Miss Brossy, of Chicago)—Are you fond of opera, Miss Brossy? She—Oh, passionately! He—Do you prefer the Italian school? She—I have never seen any but the Chicago school. That is just splendid.—New York Sun. A Business Monkey. Gentleman (who has given the organ grinder's monkey a nickel)—What's the matter with the monkey, Garibaldi? He looks at that nickel as though I ought to have given him a dollar. Garibaldi—He looks to see if goods.—The Epoch. Great Presence of Mind. Stranger—Oh, yes. Passenger—Know exactly what to do, never lose your head? Stranger—I should say not. Why, I can change cars at Buffalo without getting on the wrong train.—The Epoch.

A FESTIVE PYTHIAN WEEK. The Four Lodges Install Their Officers And Entertain Royally. The week just at a close has been a busy one in pythian circles of Lincoln. The officers of the four lodges having been elected some time ago, it was decided to hold an open installation of officers for each lodge, commencing Monday evening with A. D. Marshall, No. 48 and continuing until all officers of each lodge, were duly installed. Pythianism in Lincoln has grown to enormous proportions in the last several years, it having at one time practically died out, but later revived by a number of staunch enthusiasts of the noble order. Number sixteen was born and commenced to boom, after which Apollo, Marshall and Capital City in successive years were organized and fell into line, so that to-day we find in Lincoln over five hundred members of the Knights of Pythias fraternity. Each lodge had prepared special programs, together with a sumptuous spread. Monday evening A. D. MARSHALL LODGE number forty one installed the following officers: C. C., W. H. Berger; V. C., L. T. Gaylard; P., Charles True; M. of E., J. F. Hayden; M. of F., E. Johnson; K. of R. & S., H. F. Downs; M. at A., Jos. Davis; I. G. Henry Yarnon; O. G., Cris Vandaveer. APOLLO LODGE Number Thirty six installed the following officers Tuesday evening: P. C., W. Keens; C. C., C. C. Carrothers; V. C., W. E. Churchill; F. T. C. Mungler; M. of E., H. W. Kelly; M. of F., J. North Jr.; M. at A., C. H. Foxworthy; K. of R. & S., C. E. Waite; I. G., Geo. Camp; O. G., Dr. E. L. Holyoke; Trustee, T. W. Taite. LINCOLN LODGE Number Sixteen installed Wednesday evening the following officers: C. C., H. M. Shaeffer; V. C., L. Hershler; P., Nelson Westover; M. of E., A. A. Lasch; M. of F., T. M. Cooke; K. of R. & S., Banks Stewart; M. at A., S. A. Warner; Trustee, J. W. Percival. CAPITAL CITY LODGE Number Sixty eight held their installation Thursday evening. The following are the lucky ones. F. F. Roose, C. C.; R. W. Johnson, V. C.; D. Neil John, Prelate; J. H. Blair, K. of R. & S.; C. W. Hoxie, M. of F.; R. Wackerhagen, M. of E.; G. S. Foxworthy, M. A.; H. B. Stein, I. G.; J. H. Pierce, O. G. Plans have been received for the construction of a magnificent six-story hotel on the corner of Twelfth and N streets. Mr. J. J. Inhoff is at the head of the company which will build the hotel, a sufficient guarantee that it will be complete in every detail. The fact that the hotel was to be built was given to the COURIER six months ago, but with the request that nothing be said about it. The building will be of brick and stone, and fire proof. All the modern improvements, steam heat, electric light, etc., will be used, the estimated cost of the building being $250,000. This is a great thing for Lincoln, and will inaugurate a small boom in the value of adjacent property. Great Remnant Sale at O. R. OAKLEY & Co's No Electric Light Again. EDITOR COURIER: Last night again the electric lights of both the incandescent and arc systems failed to shed their brilliancy, and the fact that this has occurred a number of times of late has been the cause of much annoyance to patrons. The works these troubles almost unnecessary. Of course accidents will happen, but there is something wrong every little while. The light furnished for the past several days has been very poor and if we cannot depend on having it regular we must use gas, which is nearly certain. Many have shut the gas off at the meter and such breaks as last night compel them to burn oil or candles, which, to say the least, is neither pleasant or profitable. Give us regular service or none at all. A PATRON. Great Remnant Sale at O. R. OAKLEY & Co's Don't fail to see Shilling Bro's big ad on another page in this issue. It will pay you to call and inspect their stock. Go to Ed Youngs for elegant cigars and tobacco. He will give you the lowest prices and the finest goods in the city. No. 1020 O street.
