The members of the Germania Maennerchor held a very enjoyable masquerade ball parties ever given in Lincoln occurred Wedat Temple hall Monday evening. With a nesday evening, at the residence of Mr. and good attendance and excellent music, a most agreeable evening was passed.

The monthly reception of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening was a grand success, and the young people of St. Pauls, who had it in charge, are entitled to much praise for the manner in which everything was conducted.

The Loyal Legion had a very interesting and enjoyable banquet at the Windsor hotel Wednesday evening. Capt. Humphrey predded. Addresses were made by leading members of the society, and as the edibles were of the usual richness, the evening was very agreeably spent.

Thursday evening one of the carriages re-turning from Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff became immovable, or rather stuck in the mud, and remained in that artistic position for two ours. The happy occupants waited patiently for another carriage and were conveyed safely to their homes

The ladies of Wilkesbarre have made it a rule this winter not to accept flowers or carriages, except for large parties, for the reason that the tax on the young men is so great that it prevents many worthy and elegant gentlemen from going into society. Would Lincoln's fair damsels do this?

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Zeimer are home again after a two week's visit to Cleveland and the east. They report Miss Grunninger in excellent health and anxiously looks forward to a subsequent visit to Lincoln with anticipations of much pleasure. Her legians of friends will se pleased to welcome her at any time.

One of our best known Don Juans sent a couquet of roses the other day, accompanied by some sapphires and rubies, to a charming and popular actress. She returned the rubics and sapphires with the following note: I keep your bouquet of roses, which pleases me im-mensely, since I have deprived it of its thorns." I suppose you will say there is not a word of truth in this.

One of our young men, Mr. F. C. Z., is in receipt of a most pathetic proposal. *Knowing Frank's weakness for poetry, the young lady has given him 28 verses of it, entirely original she says. An Elegant Party

A most elegant party was given Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff, on South Eleventh street, Fairlawn. At 7 o'clock a most palatable tea was served. Mrs. Buckstaff's reputation as a perfect hostess makes it atmost superfluous to to say that the supper was elegant in every way. The evening was afterward taken up in right tables.

The prizes, both royal and "goose egg, were beautiful, and many regretted that they had not played for the latter. The four fortunates were Mrs. D. E. Thompson, who received the ladies' royal, an exquisite peach blow vase. The gentleman's royal was a ham mered brass panel of a most artistic design, won by Mr. Kingsley. The boobies were awarded to Mrs. Keith and Mr. Muir. The lady's prize was a very unique candle stick, and the gent's a very pretty bird of silver. A "Sandwich Is'and" entertainment was given by the mission society of St. Pau's church Monday evening. Refreshments were served, and a very agreeable evening passed. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Townley, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, Mr. and ing was spent, some twenty couples being Mrs. Huffmann, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. May, present.

Birthday Party.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable nesday evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Leland, 945 F street, the occasion being the twelfth birthday of their youngest daughter, Miss Jessie. All the happy participants had a most joyful time. Following is a list of the invited guests:

Ada Gregg, Margie Winger, Helen Welch, Hattie Root, Rose Foster, Bessie Hayden Emma Outcalt, Jessie Outcalt, Sadie Burn ham, Laura Houtz, May Moore, Grace Oakley, Clara Watkins, Edna Curtice, Jessie Lansing, Mary and Florence McGahey, Blanche Garten, Bertie and Lottie Poston, Georgia Camp, Susie Gustin, Bessie Lane, Bertha Rice, Agnes Sewell, Jennie Bell, Lena Rexford, Edith Jones, Clara Buckstaff, Minnie Naden, Katie McArthur, Fannie Rector, Earl McCreery, Wilson and Ralph Winger, Harry Pratt, Hallie Lyman, Ralph and Corwin Haggard, Bert Watkins, Frank Gustin, Jay and Elmer Rice, Clare Hebbard, George Bartlett, Oliver Lansing, Guy Hurlbut, Jimmie Hay den, Lewis Atkinson, Hallie Zehrung, Frank Buckstaff, Willie Rewick, Joe Burnbam, Sam Foster, Harry Everett, Alfred Cook.

Very few regrets were received but many beautiful presents, a great many pretty books, viz: "Happy Hours," "Children's Prayer," "Roses and Forget-me-Nots," "Bedford's An-nual," "Whittier's Poem's," "Baron Munchau-sen," "Twelve Times One," "Birthday Flowers," "Lucille," "Bells Across the Snow," 'Pictures of Home Life." Also, a work bas ket, basket of cut flowers, cup and saucer, handkerchief case filled, two scent satchets, pair of doll's shoes," box of envelopes and paper, scrap pictures, five exquisite perfume cases, nine beautiful birthday cards and an inkstand.

Pleasant Hour Jr.

A delightful party was given last evening by the members of the Pleasant Hour Jr. Those present were: Misses Funke, Hathaway, Brown, Laws, Marquett, Baum, Lillibridge, Hooper, Oakley, Oakley, Snelling, Latta, Baum, Hammond, Perry, Stout, An-drus, and Messrs. Houtz, Edwards, Baum, Funke, Andrus, Maxwell, Young, Higgen-botham, Storrs, Hammond, West, Holmes, Templeton, Simons, Winger, McArthur, Scott, McClay, Clark, Weckbaugh and Stout. The Elks.

An Eik society is being started in Liucoln with prospects of becoming a great success. This will be an acquisition to Lincoln society and it is hoped every effort will be put forth to make it a "go." Omaha has its Elk lodge and the social benefits derived therefrom are many and very enjoyable. Yes by all means boom the proposed new Elk society.

In a New Locality.

Messrs, Talbot & Bryan, the attorneys, are now at home in their new quarters in the Burr block, rooms 45, 46 and 47, and will be pleased to welcome their many friends, patrons and the public. The firm is one of most prominent in the practice of law in this city, and it is gratifying to both gentlemen to know that aithough not as long established as some other law firms, their business is very large, entirely satisfactory and constantly on the increase. The COURIER trusts that in their new location prosperity may continue to be with them.

Minnie Millar. Mr. W. A. Green, manager of the Lancaster county bank, and Mr. C. D. Hagerman, late chief clerk to Supt. McConniff, have formed a real estate and loan partnership, with office at bank. The students of the Lincoln Business College have organized a debating society, which meets every Saturday evening for the discussion of timely topics. Roscoe Barnes is president and C. G. Littlefield secretary.

Clara Morris plays the first three nights of next week in Omaha, at Boyd's. A number of Lincolnites will attend one or more performances. She appears in her new play, "Renee de Moray," Monday evening.

The fifth annual oratorical contest of the Palladian society of the University occurred Tuesday evening. Miss Glen Talbot secured the Chase and Wheeler prize and Mr. Orin W. Fifer the Palladian prize. The attendance was quite large. It is a well known fact that in the English provincial cities the audience and particularly the gallery gods are very familiar with their favorite actors, and often speak to them while on the stage. Robert Mantell, whose name on the other side was pronounced Mantel, while playing "Claude Melnott" in sup port of a female star at Manchester, had to speak these lines to Pauline, "Thus let me mantle thee." The speech was greeted by one of his gallery admirers with "Bully for you, another part of the gallery he shouted: "I Hotel Selma, Ashland.

A very brilliant affair occurred at Ashland on Friday evening of last week, the occasion being the formal opening of the Hotel Selma. An elegant banquet and ball was given in honor of the commercial travelers. Besides the Ashland people there were many present from different parts of the state. Lincoln was well represented, and all reported a most elesix-handed progressive euchre, there being gant time. Those from Lincoln were: Mr. C. W. Lyman and wife, Mr. Simons and wife, Mr. Will Brown, Mr. Cooper, Mr. J. R. Lemist, Misses Hattle and Carrie Leland, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. May, Mr. and Mrs. Ruffner and others.

Matrimonial Infelicity.

It is with a source of much regret that the COURIER makes mention of the unhappy state of affairs existing between Mr. and Mrs H. L. Perryman. It was generally thought that supreme happiness and marital bliss reigned at the home of the young couple, but much to the disappointment of their many friends, such does not appear to have been the case, and Mrs. Perryman left Tuesday for Chicago, with the intention of remaining bereafter with her father, Mr. J. W. Latham. The COURIER will not attempt to review the case further than saying the cause is reported to have been jealousy of his wife on the part of Mr. Perryman, and his actions she Clara Morris in Quaha. For the benefit of Lincoln patrons of Boyd's pera house, the management take pleasure in announcing that Clara Morris, America's greatest actress, will appear in Omaha at this copular theatre three nights, commencing Monday evening, February 5th. Miss Morris' health this season is excellent, in fact, the lady has not enjoyed such good health in years. On the opening night will be presented Miss Morris' new and very successful play, "Renee de Moray," Tuesday evening "La Ar-ticle 47," c osing Wednesday evening with 'The New Magdalen.'

Persons from Lincoln desiring to attend either performance may secure seats by telegraph or mail, by addressing Boyd's opera iouse, Omaha, Neb

A Hoped For Dancing Class. Miss Anna W. Hawkins, who three years ago had a most successful class in dancing, has been earnestly solicited (by the best people of Lincoln) since her return from Europe, to again take a class. Miss Hawkins will de-cide by the first of next week, and all those who are interested will be duly informed. Should Miss Hawkins accept, the class would meet every Saturday afternoon at the Masonic temple at 2:30, and ne spectators will be allowed until after the fourth lesson, when Miss Hawkins, at that time, would be more than pleased to see all those interested. It is sincerely hoped that the class will materialize, as a city the size of Lincoln ought not to be without a dancing school.

A short time ago a lady living eleven miles east of Lincoln, came into Dr. Burris' office, complaining that she had cramps in the stomach, caused from food not masticating, and that her teeth were not in condition for proper use. The doctor made a new set of artificial teeth for the lady, and now she is in excellent health, having no trouble in masticat-ing her food, the digestion is perfect and the cramps are a thing of the past.
