LINCOLN'S BON TON RESTAURANT.

Brown's Restaurant Now Open in New and Elegant Quarters.

For the past two weeks our friend Tom Brown, of Brown's restaurant fame, has been busily engaged and we might say, "head over heels" in work, preparing to open his elegant new resort on North Eleventh street in the new Sheldon block just south of the Windsor hotel. The opening day was Thursday and it is but slight justice to say that ever since the doors were opened to the public a continuous stream of patronage has been extended to the new place.

A short review of Mr. Brown's business career in Lincoln will not prove uninteresting. He came here about a year ago, engaged with the Capital hotel as chef de cuisine, having charge of the stove, room and everything pertaining to the kitchen. After six months with this popular hostelry, Mr. Brown's ever watchful eye observed that there was a splendid opening here for a first-class restaurant, and shortly afterward renting a store in the opera house block opened a restaurant that proved a success from the start. Business kept increasing and people were very often obliged to wait for their turn to get at the tables or "take a walk around the block" and come back again later. To obviate this, it was necessary to seek larger quarters, which were duly found in the handsome new block where Mr. Brown is now receiving his friend patrons and the public.

Of the new place we could say much and take many lines in describing it, but we will be brief. The institution occupies three fronts, using the front half of the first for an office, from which the restaurant is reached on the north. This is a large commodious room occupying two fronts, with seating capacity of 100 with four-foot and ease. However, at large banquets, when especially served, the room will accommodate many more. The floor is handsomely ornamented with French tiling, the ceilings and walls have been richly decorated by Messrs. Holbrook & Bonbright in the latest artistic manner, the work showing excellent taste. The engraving and painting and other attractive ornaments about the place characterize it by far the finest in the city and state and equal to any similar resort in the west, of the service, it is equal to that of the past and that said, leaves no doubt that all will be promptly and courteously served. The dining has been enlarged, the new place affording ample facilities, more favorable than those in the old place. The bill of fare will be kept up as usual, with many dishes of delicacies and substantial added.

With Mr. Brown's bountiful experience, his handsome new quarters, and the central location, the success he has heretofore attained will undoubtedly continue with him and increase. THE COURIER offers its congratulations to Mr. Brown on the appearance of his new restaurant and wishes him the success he deserves for untiring efforts.

Mr. C. L. Trevitt has returned from his Washington trip.

Al Parsons, who is practicing law at Grant, was in the city this week.

Messrs. S. S. Chase and F. E. Newton have returned from California.

Hon. J. B. Weston of Beatrice was in the city several days this week.

Hayden makes the finest photographs in the city. Try him, 1216 O street.

Al Fairbrother was renewing acquaintance with Lincoln friends Tuesday.

Mr. J. Friend returned Saturday from his southern trip in search of health.

The grocery firm of McArthur & Rees has dissolved, Mr. McArthur withdrawing.

Mrs. C. T. Brown left Wednesday to visit Miss Clara Mercer, at Brownville, Neb.

Dr. Hook made a flying trip to Oskaloosa, Iowa, his old home, the fore part of the week.

Mr. John Dundas, editor of the Auburn Granger, spent a few hours in the city Monday.

Mr. George Tucker has returned from his Hot Springs trip, and "Richard is himself again."

Secretary Dummett attended the meeting of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A. in Omaha.

Miss Ida Garoutte of Des Moines, is visiting her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Garoutte, in this city.

The Pleasant Hour Juniors will give a swell party at Masonic Temple on the evening of April 6th.

Capt. J. A. Huddelson has returned from California, and is satisfied hereafter to remain in Lincoln.

Mr. E. E. Bennett, treasurer of the Wisconsin Furniture and Coffin company, is very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. A. S. Badger, treasurer of the National Lumber company, left for Chicago yesterday on a business trip.

Mrs. Chapman, mother of Mrs. C. T. Brown, was dangerously ill on Saturday last with an attack of heart disease.

Mr. J. H. McMurtry was called to Lafayette, Ind., Monday by a dispatch announcing the serious illness of his father.

Mr. W. W. Holmes is another of Lincoln's citizens who has returned from California perfectly enchanted with this city.

Mr. L. M. Crawford of the opera house management, whose headquarters are in Topeka, arrived in the city Thursday.

Mr. A. C. Halter has returned from Denver where he has been the past month or so. He still believes Lincoln is the best city on the continent.

Miss Edith Doolittle and Mrs. J. P. Dorr left Wednesday for Crete, where they attended that evening in a concert given under auspices of Duane college.

A pretty surprise party was given to Mr. Griffin, principal of the Park school, Friday evening, the 19th. It was a real surprise and highly enjoyed by those present.

An orange social was the attraction at the Congregational church parlors Wednesday evening. It was quite largely attended and was most interesting and enjoyable.

A very pleasant social was given Wednesday evening by the young people of the Presbyterian church at the residence of Mrs. W. C. Griffith, corner of Fifteenth and L streets.

The Yorke gave a very pleasant party last Friday evening at Masonic Temple. The members of this club are mostly high school students and tertiary school pupils of Mr. Mahler.

Messrs. Furnas, McIntyre, Dismore and Dunham of the board of managers of the state fair, held a meeting at the Windsor Tuesday to consider matters relative to the big fair next September.

Miss Nellie Baum entertained Company B of the Dairy Maids' chorus, in honor of their leader, Mr. Gorwig, on Friday evening, the 19th inst. Members of the Pleasant Hour, Jr. were also present, and a most delightful evening was spent in dancing.

The Lincoln Press club completed arrangements Wednesday for the appearance of Mr. Charles Dickens at the opera house on April 16th, in one of his popular readings. The name of Dickens is a household word wherever the English language is spoken, and as the same time will be beneficial to the newspaper boys as well as listening to a good entertainment, every one should attend.

LINCOLN'S SATELITES.

One of the more pretentious little cities is Kearney, the capital of Buffalo county. It has many modern conveniences among which they have street cars, water works, water power, gas, and that which touches the heart of all mankind, a fine hotel. They have an artificial lake, on which is a steamboat to delight pleasure-seekers when the sun shines, and right now they are glorying in a break-neck pastime known as the modern toboggan slide. This slide offers such fine facilities for committing suicide that, taken with a large schoolhouse on the hill, maintained at the state's expense, makes Kearney one of the most attractive of Lincoln's satellites.

MY TRIP TO CALIFORNIA.

As California is a subject of much interest at the present date, my experience in that glorious state will doubtless be of interest to the many readers of the COURIER. I started about the middle of December, and as delicate health was the reason of my going, I of course bundled up warmly, but as I neared my destination it became so warm that I was obliged to remove my wraps and get out several palm leaf fans. As I alighted from the train I was met by a little boy trundling a wheelbarrow of oranges. I bought a couple, which cost me the enormous sum of a dollar, but finding them too large and heavy to carry I gave one to a small child.

Being very much fatigued with my journey I took a carriage and ordered the driver to drive me to the best hotel in the city, for which kind assistance I paid him five dollars. I was shown at once to my room, a little 7x9 in the seventh story. As soon as I had rested a little, I went down to my supper which was composed of a baked potato at 15 cents, a cup of coffee at 25 cents, and two rolls at 50, after which I discovered I was not very hungry. The next day I started out to view my surroundings. In the distance of a block I met no less than six acquaintances, who all looked more or less haggard for the want of nourishing food, and every one of whom asked me for the loan of five dollars.

The scenery was very fine, and as I strolled along in the brooding sun I passed hundreds of rose bushes growing wild, and several of the fine residences are fenced in with hedges of yuccas. Orange trees were blooming everywhere, and the perfume from the blossoms was almost strong enough to knock you down. I did not remain very long in this beautiful city, as I found my funds growing low. It was a very muddy day when I started for home, and I was met at the depot by a policeman, who told me that unless I handed over immediately cash ($500 per foot) for the real estate I was carrying away upon my shoes, I would be obliged to return with him to the city and spend the night in jail. As I thought my stay in California had been lengthened enough, I gave him what he demanded and took the Street and Walker line for home. My feelings were very much hurt to find that the officials had not sufficiently considered the comfort of their passengers, consequently my journey home was even more tiresome than my journey out.

The next time I suffer from ill-health I shall hire a competent physician and remain at home. And my advice to all friends is to do the same unless they have a few thousand they do not know what to do with.

JESSIE LELAND.

Jessie Leland and Fannie Rector took tea and spent the evening of March 16th with Susie and Frank Gustin.

An enterprising youth of this city has an incubator of his own make. He has great expectations. Look out for early broilers. Any one wishing spring chickens to fry call at 1119 H street.

St. Patrick's Entertainment.

An entertainment in honor of St. Patrick was given in Fitzgerald hall on Thursday evening last. Mr. J. J. Butler presided, presiding the exercises of the evening with a brief review of the life and works of St. Patrick. The program was so long and contained so many excellent pieces that special mention would be invidious. The participants are all so well known and their talent so generally recognized that we need not particularize. Songs were rendered by the St. Theresa choir, Mr. M. Corcoran, Miss Kittie Flynn, Messrs. Corcoran and Lawler, William O'Shea, Miss May Flanagan, Mr. Lawlor, Miss Eckhardt, and Mr. Corcoran, Mrs. A. Halter accompanying on the piano. Recitations were given by Miss McVann, Miss Beach and Mr. McVann, and instrumental music by Miss Lizzie Flynn and Will O'Shea and the Messrs Flynn. Encores were numerous and the entertainment highly enjoyed.

Youngsters of the Day.

We say youngsters of the day, but we mean of the night. Children nowadays are not children, and Lincoln has her share. There are, as we all know, young girls in the society who ought to be in bed every night at nine o'clock. Instead of that they are up every night attending parties, balls, theatres, etc., etc., until one and two o'clock in the morning. I cannot see what their mothers are thinking of. When we were girls we were obliged to attend school until we were eighteen years of age; then we thought it was a very great favor to be allowed to accompany our parents to places of amusements. Now girls keep the company of young men at 14, have their "solid fellow," and afterwards, if they have a little time to devote to literary pursuits, all right; if not, all right.

We would like to know why the fond mothers of the day allow their daughters privilege which, for their own good, they were deprived of. But I suppose they settle it on the ground that civilization has advanced; but we don't think so. On the contrary it has degenerated. What do you think?

MRS. COMMON SENSE.

The public schools of the city have been holding examinations this week, and next week all the pupils will be given a vacation prior to the beginning of the spring term, which continues until June.

The lecture room of St. Paul's M. E. church was the scene of a very pleasant entertainment Wednesday evening, the occasion being a Mexican entertainment, the participants appearing in appropriate costumes. Literary and musical selections were given.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker entertained their daughter and son, Miss Kittie and Master Ray, at their residence on D street, Saturday the 17th. We were unable to obtain a list of the names of those present, but are assured that the party was large and highly enjoyed. The young folks passed the evening in dancing, after which elegant refreshments were served.

Buffalo Bill sails for America, bag and baggage, Indian and cowboy, the 3d of May. He chartered the steamer, "Nebraska." His daughter, Miss Arta will return with him, and it is hoped she will make Lincoln a visit during the summer. Miss Arta has not been at all spoiled by her European trip and royal attentions, but is more thoroughly American than ever.

LOVELY FRAGRANT FLOWERS.

Grand Opening of the Nebraska Floral Company's Establishment.

Yesterday while sauntering along Twelfth street our reporter's eye was attracted by a large crowd of ladies entering and leaving the new store of the Nebraska Floral company and in quest of news hastened to the scene. On arriving the reporter was told that this was the first of the two opening days and as the ladies were not slow to appreciate a new departure in this line, they seemed to have turned out to welcome the new firm en masse. Gaining further information we learned that Messrs. Parsons & Miller were the proprietors and had fitted up a place that would be a credit to the city and fill a long felt want. Speaking to one of the firm, he said: "We have here as fine a place as you will find in any large city and the line of flowers and plants we now carry and expect to keep on hand, is not to be excelled anywhere. We have come prepared to meet the big demand for fine flowers and fine workmanship in designs, etc., and are here to stay. We will endeavor to please the trade and from what I have seen of the callers here today, I think our efforts will be appreciated and the business prove a successful undertaking." Observing numerous wire figures on the wall, we were told that they were used to fill in with flowers for designs for all sorts of occasions. Some were stars and crosses, others were crowns, lilies, anchors, etc., and in fact the subjects were too numerous to enumerate. They are all skillfully made up and arranged by the deft hands of artists who have had years of experience. The firm makes a specialty of cut flowers, and customers may at all times find the choicest of these fragrances on hand. During the day the place was filled with a bevy of ladies and to each was given a beautiful boutonniere, there being so many callers as to require over 500 roses for the day. Every one was delighted with the new place and well pleased with the prospects of now having somewhere to leave orders for their wants in this line.

THE COURIER congratulates the Nebraska Floral company upon their successful opening and trusts their future business career will be equally so. In conclusion we would say, the firm is prepared to do all sorts of landscape and garden designing and will take pleasure in furnishing estimates on the work, giving amount of plants needed, etc. All they ask is a call and they can convince all that they are here to please the public and win patronage. Telephone communications promptly answered, 682 being their number and all mail orders will receive careful and personal attention when addressed to 125 north Twelfth street.

Mr. L. Deutch and bride, (nee Miss Florence Lowenstein) were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Wise several days this week. The bride is a sister to Mrs. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Deutch left yesterday for Atchison, their future home, bearing with them well wishes and congratulations of Lincoln friends.

An invitation received at this office announces the coming nuptials of Miss Jennie Hayden and Mr. Charles A. Bennett, U. S. A., Wednesday afternoon, April 4th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Hayden, 1127 G street. The young lady is a sister of Mr. Hayden, and the wedding will be followed by a reception from two till six o'clock.

Mr. L. Wessel, jr., of THE COURIER, leaves this afternoon for a trip of several weeks in the northwest. During his absence he will visit Portland, Ore., Seattle and Tacoma in Washington Territory, and perhaps points in Alaska. He will be accompanied by Mr. W. W. Caswell of the Sterling Press.

Lincoln Business College Notes.

M. A. Cameron is stenographer for G. M. Lambertson.

Ed Quackenbush not only got his diploma but a good situation in a bank at DeWitt.

J. C. Small has accepted a position with the Badger Lumber company, and begun his labors.

L. C. Oberlies left with the college diploma under his arm last evening. He goes to Dorchester to take a position in a bank.

J. G. and E. C. Yont have earned and been awarded the college diploma and returned to their homes at Brock.

A. E. Houck is a pushing young man. He has just accepted a situation with an Omaha collection agency and is making things lively.

E. Belle Corbin of Tecumseh is in school again. She is a fine shorthand writer, and is hustling the business course with much energy.

J. L. Codrington, a fine penman and book-keeper, on receiving his diploma secured a situation with the Rudge & Morris Hardware house.

J. W. Aikin has accepted a situation in Denver, and left at once to enter upon his duties. He slings the quill with a good deal of precision.

Jennie E. Dimery of Beaver Crossing, took the college diploma along with her when she returned home. She has secured a good situation in a store.

Miss Lizzie Irvine, who has been a popular and earnest student for a number of months left yesterday to wield the birch at Prospect Hill during the next term.

W. B. Young from Lawrence is an energetic and pushing young man who began his business course last Monday, and he is showing marked ability in his work.

J. A. Carlson, Nancy Robertson, Roscoe Barnes and C. R. McCall have completed the course and rejoice in a well earned diploma. The college heartily recommends them as A No. 1.

J. M. Haffner has accepted a partnership in a general store at Tokio, Mo., and leaves at once to begin his labors. J. M. is a man and he will make his mark in the world. Stick a pin there.

J. C. Schwartzendinner is making wonderful progress in the special penmanship course. If his name doesn't kill him he will make one of the finest penmen in the land. He is doing immensely well, anyhow.

Rev. Johnson, pastor of the Christian church, made a pleasant call Thursday to see his son who is taking the business course, and to have a marriage certificate filled out for Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffin. By the way C. D. used to be one of our best students.
