WESSEL & DOBBINS, Prop'rs.

From present indications the strike on the Burlington is at an end officially. This is the first defeat the brotherhood has sustained in eleven years.

One of the most enthusiastic advocates of cedar blocks is reported to have said that he will build his new residence out of cedar blocks merely to show his contempt for brick.

The old Hohenzollern curse that no king was to be succeeded by his eldest son, and the heir was always to have some malformation or damaged limb has been broken, and even the most superstitious have begun to doubt the spell.

The Omaha World is mistaken. It was not the conception of the scenes illustrating Stevenson's story we objected to; it was the execution. Ever since the World printed the alleged portraits of the Lincoln councilmen, we have lost all confidence in the skill of its wood-chopper.

There is a blind jeweler in Bradford, Pa., who is able to repair jewelry and watches entirely by the sense of touch. The blindness came upon him after he had become a proficient workman, and then, by cultivating the sense of touch, he overcame in a great measure his lack of eyesight. This is certainly a remarkable instance, or else a remarkable lie.

In the opinion of the COURIER no better section could have been made for the position of president of the board of trade than Gen. J. C. McBride. He is one of our oldest citizens, chock-full of energy and enterprise, and a man who believes in the future of Lincoln and acts on that belief in a most substantial manner. He will add new life to the board, and we expect great things of that organization this year.

The order from the Vatican prohibiting priests and laymen from being members of the Irish National League, or being active in pursuing the "plan of campaign" as prosecuted by that organization, is generally regarded as a most serious blunder. On the face of it it is simply a diplomatic treaty with the tory government of England, and might properly be termed an unholy alliance. While it will undoubtedly injure the league, it will prove far more serious to the church.

The COURIER acknowledges the receipt from Secretary Furnas of a copy of the premium list of the Nebraska State Fair just issued. It is in a different form from last year, and is a handsome specimen of typography. A larger amount than ever will be paid in premiums this year, and every effort is being put forth to make the fair of 1888 a more brilliant success even than the last. There is no disputing the fact that Nebraska leads the world both in the extent and variety of exhibits shown and amount and number premiums offered. Much of its success is due to Gov. Furnas' ceaseless energy and activity, and he has proved himself the right man in the right place.

VAST improvements have been made in many branches of mechanics in the past few years, but in none have such great advances been taken as in that which goes to make up the newspaper of today. The best of these improvements is what is known as the "plate system," of which the American Press Association controls many patents. These plates are in use in thousands of newspaper offices throughout the United States and Canada, and have saved publishers hundreds of dollars. The Association has branches in the larger cities of the country, and have proved benefactors to many struggling editors. The matter sent out by the Association is varied in character, containing the latest humor, fashions, Talmage sermons, serial stories, short stories, etc., etc., and on special occasions elegantly illustrated pages are issued. A corps of writers, editors, artists and engravers are constantly engaged in writing, selecting and illustrating this matter, which is finding its way into the columns even of the metropolitan newspapers. We think the plate system one of the best adjuncts to a newspaper, inasmuch as it enables the publisher to give more and better reading than would otherwise be possible. The advantage it possesses over the ready print is evident; it allows the editor to select what matter he chooses, and is not obliged to put up with whatever the "patent" houses desire. On the whole the American Press Association has reason to feel proud of its success, which bids fair to long continue.

To People Who Entertain. Society people arranging for parties, balls, weddings, receptions or anything in this line, should inspect our elegant line of stationery and printed novelties used on such occasions. We have just received our new full line of elegant ball programs, invitations for wedding parties, etc., announcements, folders, calling cards and in fact everything in this line.

NUMERALS.

12. CARDINALS.—The cardinal numbers up to 100 are formed on the basis of the first nine units. These are monosyllables terminating in "i," and are distinguished chiefly by a progressive change of their vowel, (a, e, i, o, u, u, o). All even tens (10, 20, etc.) are plurals of these units; and intervening numbers consist of the units suffixed to the tens by "e," (and). Hence:

UNITS. TENS. INTERVENING NOS. 1, bal, 10, bals, 11, etc., balsebal, etc. 2, tel, 20, tels, 21, etc., telsebal, etc. 3, kil, 30, kils, 31, etc., kilsebal, etc. 4, fol, 40, fols, 41, etc., folsebal, etc. 5, hal, 50, hals, 51, etc., halsebal, etc. 6, mal, 60, mals, 61, etc., malsebal, etc. 7, vel, 70, vels, 71, etc., velsebal, etc. 8, jol, 80, jols, 81, etc., jolsebal, etc. 9, zil, 90, zils, 91, etc., zilsebal, etc. 100, tum, 1000, mil, 1,000,000, ballion.

13. THE CARDINALS are invariably, except when used as nouns, in which case they are inflected as such.

14. ORDINALS.—The ordinal numbers are made by suffixing "id" to the cardinals; thus: 1st, balid, 10th, balsid, 11th, balsebalid, 20th, telid, 21st, telsebalid, etc., etc.

15. MULTIPLES.—These are formed like adjectives by adding "ik" to the cardinals: balik, simple, balsik, tenfold, telik, double, telisik, twentyfold, etc., etc.

16. By adding (with slight changes) the cardinals before del (day) and mul (month) we get the following words: Balidel, Sunday; Telidel, Monday; Kilidel, Tuesday; Folidel, Wednesday; Laldel, Thursday; Malidel, Friday; Velidel, Saturday.

Babal, January; Telal, February; Kilal, March; Fotal, April; Lulal, May; Malul, June; Velul, July; Jotal, August; Zotal, September; Balsul, October; Balsebalul, November; Baltebalul, (batul) December.

17. DIP (hour) denotes also "o'clock." The number used is an ordinal following dip. Ex.—Dip kimod binos? (What o'clock is it?) Binos dip telid. (It is three o'clock.)

EXERCISE III. [A. B.]

The Bane of Hot Weather.

There is no time that is looked forward to by the mothers of small children, with more mortal dread, than the hot weather of the summer months, especially in this the case when their children are teething. The number of children that are carried away annually by bowel complaint, in its various forms is prodigious. Yet almost every case could be cured by proper care and treatment. During the past fifteen years, it has been abundantly proven, that the worst cases could be cured and by a remedy within the reach of all. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured thousands of cases, that were considered hopeless, it has cured them after physicians have failed to relieve, it has cured them after other medicines had been tried without benefit, it has even cured them after they had become unconscious. It can always be depended upon, and should be kept at hand, by every mother of small children. When children are teething, the diarrhoea can not be checked permanently, as the same cause that produced it will bring it on again, but it can and should be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as the case may require. Then when the child is through teething, the diarrhoea may be effectually checked. This remedy has been the sole reliance of thousands of mothers throughout the west for over fifteen years, and its cures have shown it to be the best and most reliable remedy ever produced for the purposes. When reduced with cold water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Many children like it. It is put up in 25 cent, 50 cent and 1 dollar bottles.

My child, seven months old, was taken sick with summer complaint. I called on our family physician and procured medicine, and used it for nearly three weeks but still the child continued to get worse. I was persuaded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and inside of four days, we had the child's bowels regulated and in a short time it was well. Since that time I always keep a bottle of the preparation in my house.

A. O. MOTTS, Scottsville, Kansas. We feel satisfied that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the best medicine we handle for all diseases of the bowels; we have given it a thorough test. A member of our family, a little girl, had been very sick with bowel complaint, we had the doctor to see her twice, after giving her what medicine the doctor left and seeing that she would have to have more we concluded to try Chamberlain's. From the first dose she commenced to improve and soon recovered.
