

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

FASHIONS AS REPRESENTED AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Commencement Dresses Worn by Fair Young Graduates—How These May Be Designed So As To Serve a Twofold Purpose.

An all important occasion in every young girl's life occurs with commencement day, at school or college, as the case chances to be.

When the dress is to serve the twofold purpose of a confirmation and commencement dress, the general rule is to have it fashioned more simply than the one shown in the cut.

The dress shown in the cut is of white French serge. It is made with a slightly flared bodice, panier draperies and puffed sleeves.

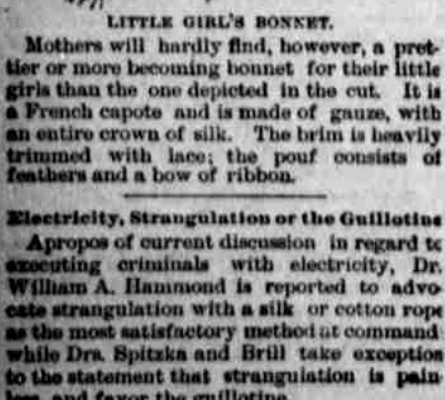

When the dress and its trimmings are entirely of white, white silk stockings and white silk shoes or slippers should be worn.

Wide license is given in the matter of material. There may be a combination of wool and silk, as in the model here shown, or one material only may be used.

Fashionable Colors and Combinations. To realize exactly what the nature of this year's ribbons and silks are it is necessary to understand the fashionable colorings and combinations.

There exists almost as great a diversity in the styles of bonnets and hats for little girls as in those designed for older people.

LITTLE GIRL'S BONNET.

Mothers will hardly find, however, a prettier or more becoming bonnet for their little girls than the one depicted in the cut.

He Was Acquitted.

Police Judge—Prisoner, you are charged with having brutally assaulted this man.

"Why this man asked me 'if a hen and a half laid an egg and a half in a day and a half how many'?"

Mary—F-e-r-m-e-n-t, ferment—to work. Mamma—Now, place it in a sentence to show me you really understand it.

Mary—In summer I love to ferment in the garden.—Life.

Among half a dozen commercial drummers, who occupied seats in a Central Hudson smoker yesterday relating their accustomed yarns for their own edification, was one who had made himself conspicuous by his silence.

When Marcus A. Smith, the handsome delegate from Arizona, first came here he wore a soft felt hat with a wide brim and a turned down collar with a flowing necktie.

ON LIFE'S THRESHOLD.

A Little Girl Who Invented a Hen Problem of Her Own.

The husband of this lady in Oakland has a theory. I never knew a husband theorize on the subject. He was always quite sure.

"Papa, which did God make first, the hen or the egg?"—San Francisco Chronicle.

He Filled the Hops.

Lawyer Tom Prindville was down in Freedomville again one day last week, and returned loaded down to the gunwales with another cargo of fresh stories from the little town where liberty and truth slumber under the same shed and drink out of the same dipper.

looking for a job, which he didn't find in Freedomville, so he concluded to leave the place.

No Fool Remedies for Him.

Dumley—Yes, I can tell you what will cure that cold, Dumley.

Physician—Um; in the head or on the chest?

Dumley—It's getting sore, doctor.

Physician—Um; well, Mr. Dumley, tonight at 9 o'clock you take a big drink of hot flaxseed tea and go to bed.

He Got There.

I passed you on the street yesterday and you did not even bow to me," he said as they shook hands in front of the Moffat block.

NYE ON JOURNALISM.

He Launches Forth a Few Remarks on a Big Subject.

I am glad to know Cornell university is to establish a department of journalism next September. I have always claimed that journalism could be taught in universities and colleges just as successfully as any other athletic exercise.

Boys spend small fortunes and the best years of their lives learning the simplest trade in relation to journalism.

Ex-Mayor Henry C. Robinson, of Hartford, Conn., if I am not mistaken, suggested a school of journalism at least twelve years ago, but it did not meet with immediate and practical endorsement.

The above paragraph I quote from a treatise on journalism which I wrote just before I knew anything about it.

The life of the journalist is a hard one, and, although it is not so trying as the life of the newspaper man, it is full of trials and perplexities.

There are many reasons why the establishment of a department of journalism at Cornell will be a good move, and I believe that while it will not take the place of actual experience, it will serve to shorten the apprenticeship of a young newspaper man and the fatigue of starting the amateur in journalism will be divided between the managing editor and the tutor.
