MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

MINSTREL, DRAMA AND THE OPERA

A Prospectus and Review of Amusements at the Funke.

THE NEXT ATTRACTION.

Many of our readers will remember the last engagement of Mr. W. T. Bryant and the "Keep It Dark" company at Funke's and will be pleased to know that on next Monday evening this sterling combination of comedy talent will be seen for the third time at the same house. Mr. Bryant still heads the company and the cast comprises even better talent than last year, Julia Wilson and Lizzie Richmond, two of the most popular soubrettes being among them. The following note is taken from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

"The 'Keep It Dark' company which opened at the Grand opera house last night, will give that theatre one of the best attractions that it has had this season. The play, by George Hoey, is a musical comedy of a very good class, as distinguished from the old variety act. It has the merit of being built up out of a great deal of new material, while the music is bright and catchy. Mr. W. T. Bryant, added to this, is a natural comedian, and convulses his audience without any apparent effort to himself. In 'Keep It Dark' he has a great many opportunities to do this, and not a single one of them is missed. He is supported by a company which gives complete satisfaction, and several of the members of which experience no trouble in finding the key to the public heart. Miss Julia Wilson as Little Tot, for instance, unlocks the doors and lets herself into the good graces of her audience as soon as she appears on the stage. Miss Lizzie Richmond succeeds equally as well. Mr. James Bevin also does good work in the comedy line, and last night 'brought down the house' on several occasions.

ON FRIDAY EVENING.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" will be staged again at Funke's Friday evening with all the attractiveness and strong cast that won for the piece such commendable laurels on its last visit to this city. The play has been materially improved and numerous new and catchy specialties have been added that make it even better than heretofore. The musical numbers are particularly fine, and the dancing of a refined and artistic order.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" is not a tragedy nor of a moral teaching class of plays, but merely a lot of funny incidents put together to amuse the audience and the company is successful in doing this, they do all that is expected of them. Seats on sale Thursday morning.

THE CHARMING KATIE.

Miss Katie Putnam, one of Lincoln's favorites, occupied the boards at the Funke all the week. Manager McKeen displayed a good deal of enterprise in lighting the whole front and sides of the house by means of a double row of pretty Chinese lanterns and in various other ways advertising his house. Monday evening "Erna, the Elf" was presented, Tuesday evening, "Lena, the Madcap," Wednesday evening, "Little Barfoot," Thursday evening, "The Old Curiosity Shop," Friday evening, "Little Detective," while to-night the popular "Pearl of Savoy" will be staged. Miss Putnam is versatile and accomplished, a pleasing soubrette, and supported by a good company, has given us a very pleasant week's amusement. The sign "Standing room only" was brought out nearly every night, and the management is to be congratulated on a most successful engagement.

Letter From Omaha.

Excitement runs rampant in Omaha this week and the crowds that promenade the streets, through the over-crowded sidewalks, and rush to see the greatest of fairs ever held in this city, bid fair to eclipse in numbers the attendance of any previous efforts. At this writing every train brings its entire standing and seating capacity of human freight, while the hotels are crowded to their utmost extent. The Siege of Sebastopol is certainly a drawing card and coupled with the many other attractions it is not surprising to see the number of visitors. And, oh such delightful weather! Not too warm nor too cold, but just such fall weather as makes one feel the pleasure of life to their fullest extent. No wonder then that our friends from the country have taken a few days vacation to see the products of Nature, and the metropolis. The visitors are mostly of the hay-seed order, from Beatrice, Hastings, and other small Nebraska towns, and the surprises they meet on every hand make them open their eyes in astonishment.

Thursday was Drummer's Day and fully 500 weights of the grip were in line, each wearing a flannel shirt a pair of dark trousers and a silk hat, and carrying a Japanese parasol. The effect was striking and our gay and festive drummers captured the hearts of the rural belles. A display of the wholesale houses followed and it was certainly interesting from beginning to end. Candy, tobacco and apoles were thrown to the crowds by the different representatives of these lines.

The Union Pacific had one of the most original displays. It represented a train of cars, an engine, a baggage and a freight car. The motive power was a mule hidden in the baggage car. All attractions are drawing well. Sebastopol is playing to from 7000 to 10,000 people nightly. Rice's "Corsair," with the inimitable Fay Templeton, and "The Wife" are crowding their respective houses nightly. Barnum, who has come and gone, and the crowd which attended was something enormous. Tickets were sold until long after the large tent was packed and hundreds with tickets were turned away. Two children were crushed to death.

More anon. Ed.

Mrs. Anna G. Pratt is visiting in St. Louis. Bedding plants, cut flowers, etc., at Sawyer King Stearns, fine boots and shoes, 1019 O St. Mr. L. W. Billingsley and family are visiting in New York.

Prof. E. W. Hunt of the university, has returned to his work.

Mr. J. D. Calhoun has gone to Omaha to take editorial charge of the Heard.

Mrs. C. C. Pace has returned from a delightful visit with her parents at Orange City, Iowa.

Mrs. F. A. Chapman, who has been visiting for the past six weeks in Beloit, Wis., and Chicago, Ill., returned yesterday.

Mr. J. D. Macfarland and son Frank left Wednesday for West Chester, Pa., where the young man enters the military academy.

Lieut. Dudley departed Tuesday for Huntsville, Ala. Lincoln society is sorry to see the lieutenant depart, as he is a recognized light thereof.

Mr. Geo. L. Reeder leaves Tuesday for Chicago where he will make his home hereafter and will enter the services of the Chicago, St. Louis & Pittsburg railway.

Messrs. Zehring, Magoon, Badger, Foreman, Lemist, and Misses Clara and Martha Funke, Artie Cody and the Misses Byrne of New York, with Gran Ensign as engineer, enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon at the fair grounds Thursday in Ensign's tally-ho coach. Geo. Foreman was bugler for the occasion.

BITS ON BICYCLING.

A Potpourri of Notes About the Sport and Personalities About Wheelmen.

All contributions under this head sent to "Pully" care of THE COURIER, not later than Thursday noon, will receive prompt attention and space in this department. THE COURIER is the only recognized journal in Lincoln for cyclists and all papers or items pertaining to the great and growing sport will be thankfully received.

H. A. Adams is a bugler from way back.

A dead mule rode to the fair Thursday with the boys.

Mr. Bert Cole of Grand Island was the guest of the club Thursday.

Harold Lewis is the youngest member but he is a rider just the same.

The rain Friday morning prevented a parade of the club Friday evening.

Several young men have sold their wheels but intend to buy new ones soon.

The Lincoln Wheel Club to the Omaha Wheel Club, greeting: Come and see us.

Young Harold Lewis is small but he is a dandy when riding a bicycle is the question.

One of the features of Thursday night's parade was the fine display of the Lincoln Wheel Club, twenty strong.

H. E. Lewis, our president and counsel is suffering from a bruise on his knee, obtained by a header from his ordinary.

Ed Richter is young to be captain of a wheel club, but he is a good and fearless rider and can stay with any of the boys.

L. I. Abbott of Crete rode in from the fair grounds Thursday with one of the boys and declared Lincoln streets par excellence.

A young man rode his wheel from Holdrege to Lincoln, 205 miles, in three and a half days. The roads were in very bad condition.

In our last issue Mr. John C. Bonnell was credited with possessing a Victor safety. It is Geo. W. Bonnell who is the proud owner of one.

At last Lincoln has a bicycle club named the Lincoln Wheel club, organized Monday, Sept. 10, 1888. Membership at going to press numbers twenty.

At the meeting last Monday evening at which time the Lincoln Wheel Club was organized, it was decided that the COURIER be the official organ (seven octave) of the said club.

A prize was offered by the Nebraska Carriage Mills to the winner in a bicycle race to have taken place Thursday afternoon but the speed authorities at the fair grounds could not spare the track long enough.

G. W. Bonnell is anxious to show the young and newer riders of the club what a speedy old time rider he is. Mr. Secretary, you can be accommodated. Name the day and you will have the opportunity.

The Lincoln Wheel Club made its first club run to the fair grounds Thursday afternoon, Captain Richter commanding. It was a grand success notwithstanding the short time the club has been organized.

On Monday evening last there was a meeting called at the office of the CAPITAL CITY COURIER of all those interested in cycling in this city, and it is to the credit of those present that after many fruitless attempts in the past a permanent organization was effected and the cyclists of our city formed into a club which it is hoped will prove of benefit to themselves and an ornament to the city.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. G. C. Pullman and after an informal discussion on the purposes and regulations of such a club the following officers were elected by those present:

President—Henry E. Lewis.

Vice President—Geo. C. Pullman.

Secretary and Treasurer—Geo. W. Bonnell.

Captain—Mr. Ed Richter.

Lieutenant—Mr. H. L. Case.

Bugler—Mr. H. A. Adams.

A committee of three were appointed by the chairman to form a constitution and set of rules for the government of said club and report the same at the next general meeting held by the club.

Messrs. Bonnell, Kelly and Eddy were appointed as such committee. After further discussion of affairs pertaining to the club's interest the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Honoring Their Friends.

One of the most delightful society events of the year was the complimentary party given Monday evening at Temple hall by Mr. John K. and Miss Fannie E. Stout to their friends. The evening was a proposition: one for indulgence in the terpsichorean exercises, and the thirty couples of young people present took due advantage thereof. The host and hostess ably acquitted themselves as most hospitable entertainers, and their guests were correspondingly pleased. The event was more especially intended as a farewell complimentary party to a number of the young folk who will shortly return to their several schools. The invited guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Backstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Vandusen, Mrs. L. C. Barr, Misses Clara Funke, Maud Letta, Louisa Giles, Belle and Albert Oakley, Nellie Baum, Ollie Letta, Maud Barr, May Montrose, Annie Funke, Bertie Barr, Gertrude Marquette, Brownie Baum, Martha Funke, Mattie Leland, Grace Snelling, Lizzie Bonnell, Mattie Law, "Chic" Brown, Lottie Andrus, Mattie Gillespie, Hallie Hooper, Nellie Mullon, Fay Marshall, Anna Hawkins, and Gertrude Clarke of Omaha.

Messrs. Zehring, Magoon, W. E. Clarke, Edwards, Maxwell, Storrs, Higgenbotham, Charlie Burr, Oscar Funke, Frank Burr, Young, Weekbach, Muir, McConiga, Hicks, Henkle, Andrus, Malibu, Marshall, Nissley, Scott, Hammond, Smith, Houtz, West and Holmes.

Vigor and Vitality

Are quickly given to every part of the body by Hood's Sarsaparilla. That first feeling is entirely overcome. The blood is purified, enriched and vitalized, and carries health instead of disease to every organ. The stomach is toned and strengthened, the appetite restored. The kidneys and liver are roused and invigorated. The brain is refreshed, the mind made clear and ready for work. Try it.

Mrs. T. Harrison and daughter, Miss Grace, of Beatrice arrived in the city Tuesday and were state fair visitors during the week, the guests of Miss Anna Hawkins.

There will be several important changes made in the COURIER very soon and ere the social season opens, the favorite society journal of Lincoln will appear in a more attractive form and with many new and valuable features.

Mr. I. G. Tinney of Youngstown, Ohio, a friend of Mr. Ridge of Ridge & Morris, who was formerly of the same place, was in the city yesterday looking up a location for a tailoring establishment. We trust Mr. Tinney will see what he wants and conclude to locate among us.

Mrs. Fannie Kellogg-Bachert has been requested to give a concert in the near future, and as soon as arrangements can be made will, with Miss May Potvin, delight Lincoln lovers of music by appearing in public. Mrs. Bachert is one of the finest musicians and vocalists in the United States, and as many Lincoln people have expressed a desire to hear her, they will undoubtedly be gratified to hear that she has consented to appear.

AN OBSERVER'S THOUGHTS.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS IN TYPE.

What He Sees, Hears, Thinks and Imagines.

The state fair is once more a thing of the past and again the most enterprising city in Nebraska settles down to every day life and prosperity. In the multitude present strangers were principally noticeable and there did not seem to be the number of familiar faces in the gathering that constituted that of last year. The Observer missed a number of his friends and many familiar faces that were with us last year were conspicuous for their absence and while looking at the crowds it was but semi-occasionally that an acquaintance from abroad was noticeable. In saying this I do not desire you to infer that the attendance was not so large as last year, but merely make this statement to show that friendly faces are sometimes missed.

It is with considerable satisfaction that I observe the progress being made in the work of laying the new sidewalks on the south side of O street and I am pleased to note that the property owners have considered what was said in this column last week, for now instead of but a few being laid, I notice a majority of the walks and many of them new ones, have been built that are now being used by pedestrians, and it makes O street look like a new thoroughfare. Hereafter you have a few delinquent, but I am told they will begin tearing up the old walks early next week and put down the new immediately thereafter.

The oldest railroad official in the world lives in Norwich, Connecticut, namely, Colonel George L. Perkins, treasurer of the Norwich and Worcester railroad company, and his many personal friends celebrated his 100th birthday on the 5th of August. He has outlived every railroad man he began with in 1835, every soldier he served with in 1812-15, every business associate of his first fifty years of his life, and every presidential candidate he ever voted for except Hayes and Blaine, yet the wife of his youth is still with him, in fairly good health, and they celebrated their golden wedding in 1887.

College Fraternity.

On Thursday night, about 9 o'clock, a delegation of three members of the Beta Theta Pi college fraternity and at present students at Lawrence, Kan., together with a number of alumni assembled in the A. O. U. W. hall of our city to establish the University of Nebraska chapter the Alpha Tau of Beta Theta Pi. After the establishment of the new chapter they all repaired to Brown's restaurant on north Eleventh street where a Beta "Darg" was served and Alpha Tau started on their career in life. The members of the new chapter are: O. V. P. Stout, Frank A. Mauley, H. A. Reese, C. F. Schramm, Ralph Platt, E. E. Nickleson and Jas. B. McDonald, leading students in the State university.

The visiting delegation was composed of H. E. M. Bear, W. T. McArthur and Frank Reed.

The alumni present were the following: J. R. Goodwin, Chicago; H. H. Miller, H. K. Gallrath, J. W. Robbins, Omaha; F. E. Gregg and W. B. McArthur.

The preliminary work of obtaining a chapter for the University of Nebraska was conducted by W. B. McArthur who is to be congratulated upon obtaining a chapter of his fraternity for the boys.

The University of Nebraska is keeping pace with the eastern institutions. This is the second fraternity that has been added with in almost a year, the other being a ladies fraternity.

As these organizations enter largely into college life they are heartily welcomed by those desiring a higher grade of moral, social and literary advancement.

Dancing School Under the Tutorship of Miss Anna W. Hawkins.

Miss Hawkins will begin her dancing school at Masonic Temple Saturday, September 22, at 7:30 p. m. Term consists of sixteen lessons for four even dollars. Reductions made to a family in one family. A grand Christmas fancy ball will be given. An elegant gold medal will be given to the child who attains the highest degree of scholarship—provided Miss Hawkins is well supported by at least thirty pupils. Children are requested to be on time and to provide themselves with light dancing shoes.

Miss May Smith of Fremont is visiting her friend, Miss Northam.

Mrs. B. H. Polk returned this week from two months stay at Bayfield, Wis.

Miss Anna Howland of Seward was a guest this week of Miss Effie Leese.

Mr. Jos. Boehmer has returned from a very pleasant month's outing in Colorado.

Mrs. J. S. Dales and family have returned from quite a lengthy visit at Milford.

Prof. Bessey, who has been spending the summer in Europe, returned this week.

Mr. J. Hutchins returned Monday from a successful hunt in southeastern Nebraska.

Mr. C. D. Hyatt, who has been taking note of the beauties of Ireland returned home this week.

Lincoln is well gridironed with street railways now, two new lines being opened this month.

Mr. S. C. Munger of Logan, Col., is visiting his brothers, T. C. and E. E. Munger of this city.

J. Z. Little's famous production of "The World" will be seen at Funke's Thursday, September 28.

Miss Kate Simington of Plattsmouth is visiting Lincoln friends, the guest of Miss Mamie Donaldson.

Miss Guilmette of Hastings is visiting Miss May Potvin at Thirteenth and G streets, and will remain a few days.

Miss Martha Funke returned last Friday from an extended tour in Europe. She has been absent about a year.

Mr. Will Stull returned Wednesday from an extended trip in the east in time to see Nebraska's great and only.

Messrs. John McBride and Charlie and Frank Burr left Wednesday for Fairbault, Minn., where they are attending school.

Judge Stewart did a thriving business in the marriage license line this week. Cupid and the state fair are apparently in league.

An advance guard of the Salvation Army has arrived in the city, and is making life miserable for South Eleventh street people.

Impurities of the blood often cause great annoyance at this season. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and cures all such affections.

Miss Minnie D. Cochran has returned from a two months' stay in Illinois, and will resume her work as instructress in music at the state university.

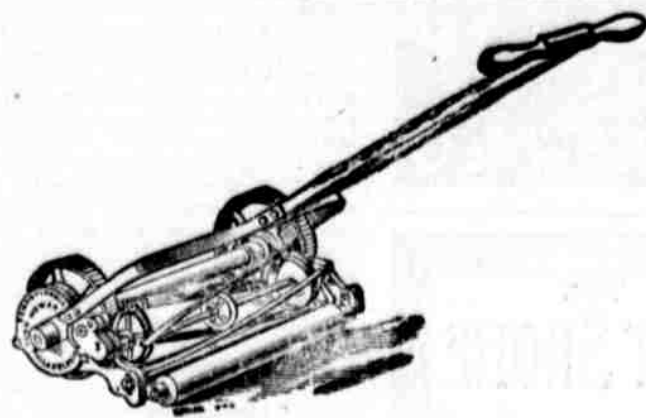

The display by the Union Pacific in Thursday night's parade is conceded to be by far the finest in line. An engine and car (fac similes) with appropriate lettering, seemingly propelled by steam but in reality by mules concealed in the tender, evoked much favorable comment.
