IN THE SOCIAL SWIM. A WEEK'S HAPPENINGS CHRONICLED.

Accounts of Balls, Parties, Weddings Etc., That Have Entertained Society.

The Event of the Week. Tuesday evening's party was the most pleasant of the regular series given by the Pleasant Hour club. The hall was well-filled and everyone seemed in their proper element to enjoy the occasion. Quite a large number of visitors were noticeable on the floor and most all the members were present, thus making the affair a large and most enjoyable one. The dance list comprised twelve well arranged numbers, including all the popular movements in the territory. As usual Mr. A. G. Beeson gracefully presided as master of ceremonies and the Philharmonic orchestra was at its customary station discoursing sweet strains of inspiring music to the gratification of all present. The participants were Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher, Lieut. and Mrs. Townley, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Lippincott, Mr. and Mrs. Buson, Mr. and Mrs. Reubander, Mr. and Mrs. Buckstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Muir, Misses Anna and Martha Funk, Lemist, Chico, Brown, Price, Miller and Graham, of Chicago, Adams, of Battle Creek, Mich., Allison and Belle Oakley, Hawkins, Snelling, Giles, Hamlin, of New York, Hawke and Gilman, of Nebraska City, Little, Sterling, Pace, Lulu Clarke, Suddith, Williams, Potvin, Agey and Gruninger. Messrs. Van Duyen, Badger, Richter, Geo. McArthur, Nutt, Frank Smith, Magoon, H. J. Hall, Senator Taggart, of Hastings, Senator Cornell, of Valentine, Waite, Wright, D. E. Thompson, Will Heiskell, Lieut. Griffith, Foreman, Grunin and Lathan, of Omaha, Lemist, Mohrenstecher, Zehrung, Maxwell and others.

The L. O. B. B. Ball. Owing to an oversight of a reporter, the account of the opening hop of the Lincoln City Lodge, No. 377, L. O. B. B., was unintentionally omitted from our last issue, a fact which we very much regret. (See editorial.) The affair was a most elegant one, and a success in every point of view, and as such certainly speaks volumes for the new and prosperous lodge under whose auspices it was given. The floor committee was untiring in its efforts to please all and the arrangement of the dances were such as to thoroughly satisfy everyone. Music was well rendered by the Philharmonic orchestra assisted by Miss Willoughby at the piano, and among the selections were a number of the latest airs, Erminie, the popular operas as Little Tycoon, About eleven o'clock the large reception room adjoining the ball room was thrown open and an elaborate banquet was served. A short march was first enjoyed and when all stopped before the chairs ready for seating, the scene presented before each of them was beautiful and inviting to behold. The spread which was served by the Merchant's Exchange consisted of everything delicate and substantial that the market affords, and reflected much credit upon the caterers. After enjoying this part of the entertainment dancing was resumed and the program of fourteen dances happily completed about two o'clock. The affair throughout was characterized for its genial and thorough social relations and everyone enjoyed and was in the best of spirits. The COURIER extends its best wishes to the L. O. B. B. and trusts their future affairs will be equally as enjoyable as the first.

A Delightful Theatre Party. Wednesday evening Mr. John Day of New York City, entertained a number of friends at a theatre party given at Funks, the occasion being the initial performance in this city of "Kings Fool" which was excellently presented by the Conried Opera Company. Mr. Day, who is at present visiting here, having some important measures before the Legislature, has during his sojourn made a number of friends among our most prominent social leaders. They have received him quite pleasantly and desiring to reciprocate the kindly welcome accorded him, issued invitations last week to this event, which certainly was a marked testimony of the regard in which he esteemed the friendship of each of his guests. There was twentyone in the party, all of whom met in Burr & Beeson's office in the opera house building. When the all number was present, all entered the dress circle together and the twentyone seats were occupied in a bunch. The ladies and gentlemen were all attired in full evening dress and the assembly made an attractive and pleasant appearance amid the immense audience present. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beeson, Mr. and Mrs. Baynor, Mr. and Mrs. Cady, Mr. T. P. Keenan and Mrs. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Brink, Mr. and Mrs. Coffroth, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Picher and Mr. and Mrs. Coleman.

The Juniors Party. Temple Hall was all aglow last evening, it being the occasion of the Juniors fifth party of the season and it was given with undoubted success. The orchestra was at its best and furnished the merry dancers with delightful music. There were present: Misses Anna and Martha Funk, Gillespie, Giles, Marquette, Clarke, Hathaway, Lillibridge, Stout, Latta, Pace, Balleutine, Laws, Leland, Mul-lon, Marshall, Smith, Coleman, McBride, De Pae, Lees, Suddith, Hamlin, of N. The T. A. M. Meet Again. Tuesday evening the regular meeting of this Lincoln's youngest society club, was held at the home of Mr. Branson, and as usual enjoyed the evening's entertainment with a marked degree of satisfaction. The young people passed the time very pleasantly with games of cards and in "tripping the light fantastic." They were furnished with the best of music and merriment.

reigned supreme until good nights were said. Among those present were: Misses Hyde, Hale, Becker, Melone, Harper, Melick, Simmons, Jackson, Burch, Morgan, and Messrs. Winslow, Hallett, Heaton, Harold, Hyers, Hall, Becker, Melons, Browne, Simmons and others. The club is certainly a social success, as is evident by the full attendance of its members at nearly every meeting.

An Evening Pleasantly Passed. Mr. Frank Zehrung entertained a number of friends at his home on A street, last evening. The party was small but there were just enough present to render the evening's entertainment enjoyable. Dancing was indulged in and after partaking of light refreshments at the hand of the host, the delightful affair was brought to a close. Magoon, Buckstaff, Lemist, Richter, Foreman, Heiskell, Higenotham, Mansfield, Smith and Badger.

A Pleasant Wedding. Tuesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Roberts was the scene of a delightful wedding. Mr. P. A. McGill and Miss Kate Cleveland listened to the words spoken by the Rev. Davis that pronounced them man and wife. Miss Cleveland has been a resident of Lincoln three or four years and has made many friends at that time who with the COURIER extend their congratulations.

Apollo's New Officers. The Apollo uniform division at a meeting held Tuesday evening elected its new officers which resulted as follows: Captain, C. M. Keefer. First Lieutenant, W. Churchill. Herald, E. B. Harris. Much interest was shown in the proceedings and great enthusiasm was manifested for the future of this, Lincoln's crack uniform division. New life seems to have been inspired and much good may be expected. Mr. C. M. Keefer, the newly elected captain, was formerly at the division's head and being well up in tactics and well liked, we may look to him for a continuation of the past good work.

Mr. E. T. Roberts left yesterday for a brief stay in Kansas City. Miss Hamlin, of New York City, is visiting Lieut. and Mrs. Townley. The Hayden Art club will meet at the University chapel Tuesday evening. Mr. C. E. Montgomery is away from town on a trip through Kansas and New Mexico. Mr. F. A. Fiske, with Brown & Houtz, is getting out again after a severe siege of illness. Charles Mayer of Mayer Brothers is enroute to New York and the east on a purchasing tour. Harry Deuel Omaha city passenger agent of the Union Pacific was a Lincoln visitor Thursday.

Mr. H. R. Nissley, is at home again. He has been east purchasing their mammoth spring stock. Mr. Sam Herald, a member of the new firm of Newmark & Hershler, arrived in the city yesterday. Mrs. E. T. John Layne and family, who have been north for the past few weeks have returned to their home in this city. Mark Hooker, the plumber and Geo. Cultra, the coffee man, are enjoying a visit at San Francisco and the coast. Will Webster leaves next week for New York and Boston to lay in a large new stock of spring and summer footwear. Messrs. Ashby & Millsbaugh begin a special closing sale today on woolen hosiery at prices you can not resist if you see them. H. R. Nissley is home from New York after a two weeks visit. He purchased a magnificent line of fine spring goods during his absence.

Mr. H. S. Gordon, of the National Lumber Co., is still unable to be about, having been confined to his room all week on account of severe illness. Mrs. J. O. Barnard has been entertaining Mrs. J. M. Woolworth and Mrs. R. R. Ring-walt, of Omaha, at her home 1639 F street during the week. Wedding invitations and all society printing executed on short order. mail and telegraph orders receive prompt attention at the COURIER office. The friends of Harry Heffelfinger will regret to hear that he has been sent for on account of the death of his brother. He left the city Tuesday.

Miss Arta Cody arrived in the city Tuesday and has been the guest of Mrs. W. H. Brevoort. She leaves today for a week stay in Leavenworth. Genial Jeff Glass, formerly Mr. Montrose's partner in the Windsor hotel has been reported hurt in a runaway accident in Denver the first part of the week. During the windstorm Monday evening the immense grain elevators of Mr. C. T. Brown were totally destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of nearly forty thousand dollars.

Mrs. C. D. May, nee Miss Minnie Lett, a former resident of Lincoln, is spending the week with her old friends here. She is the guest of Mrs. John Doolittle while in the city. Miss Minnie Hawke and Miss Dollie Gillman, two of Nebraska City's leading social belles, were guests of Miss Minnie Latta, Tuesday. They returned home Wednesday after attending the Pleasant Hour hop. The COURIER acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a handsomely engraved invitation to attend the wedding of Mr. M. L. Roeder and Miss Pauline Goldsmith, at the Metropolitan club, Omaha, February 14th and extends its compliments.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Leonard are entertaining the Misses Graham, Price and Miller, of Chicago. The ladies are well pleased with the capital city, seem to enjoy our social circles and are being royally entertained by their popular host and hostess. The Loyal Legion fraternity enjoyed an elaborate banquet at the Windsor hotel Wednesday evening and like all their spreads, was a brilliant affair and a decided success in every way. A large number of senators were among the guests of the evening. Invitations and other printing for the third annual ball of Capital City Lodge, No. 170, B. R. B., is now in the hands of the artistic printers of the COURIER job department. The affair takes place March 18th at Masonic temple and promises to be a most enjoyable one.

The ladies art and furnishing store of Foreman & Crow will move next week from their present location to four doors north, the room recently vacated by Curtice & Thiers. The ladies expect to have their new spring stock of embroideries etc., in by the time they are in shape. The Capital hotel billiard parlors are becoming even more popular than ever under the management of Newt Abbott. He is well acquainted with all the boys and numbering his friends among the commercial men on the road by the scores, his success is easily accounted for. Sawyer & Mosher, florists, Masonic Temple.
