IN THE SOCIAL SWIM.

A WEEK'S HAPPENINGS CHRONICLED.

Accounts of Balls, Parties, Weddings Etc., That Have Entertained Society.

Godspeed to Egan. Irish-born Americans have special reason to honor Hon. Patrick Egan for his noble efforts in behalf of liberty and home rule, but native Americans claim the right to glory in his fame and Lincolnites insist on the privileges of admiring fellowship.

At the banquet of Thursday evening the distinguished guest was tendered the patriotic homage of Irishmen and the proud esteem of Americans. The affair was undertaken by the Lincoln branch of the Irish National League of America to give Mr. Egan loving, heartfelt Godspeed on his mission as minister of the United States to Chili.

It was ten o'clock when the company sat down to the banqueting board in the dining room of the Capital hotel. The Philharmonic orchestra announced the hour with a burst of music, and interspersed the proceedings of the evening with its strains. There were three long tables with a crosstie at the head of the center board. The tables were spread with delicacies to tempt the tongue and brightened with cut flowers and potted plants. The only decoration to the room was an Irish banner draped upon the large mirror of the sideboard and an American flag on the wall opposite. The company took seats at the word of Hon. John Fitzgerald, who officiated as chairman. He sat at the head of the middle table with Mr. Egan at his right and Gov. Thayer at his left. The banquet proper was followed by a program of toasts, which were proposed by Mr. John P. Sutton, secretary of the League. Following are the toasts and the names of the gentlemen responding:

The United States of America—The home of popular liberty and the enemy of oppression wherever it may exist.—Mr. W. J. Bryan. Our Guest—Hon. Patrick Egan, Minister of the United States to the Republic of Chili, faithful to the old land and loyal to the new, the land of adoption accords to him the honors foreign oppression denies to him in the land of his birth.—Hon. T. M. Marquett and Hon. M. V. Gannon. Reply.—Hon. Patrick Egan. Nebraska—Self government and equality before the law are the foundations of her progress and prosperity.—Gov. John M. Thayer. Ireland—May the sunrise of liberty soon light up her hill tops and bring gladness to her valleys and to the homes of her people.—P. O. Cassidy and Thomas Brennan. Lincoln—Confident in the solidity of her progress she awaits the future with content and welcomes all to share her prosperity.—Mayor R. B. Graham. Farewell and Gladstone—The one the leader of a gallant and unconquerable race, the other the embodiment of the best qualities of the British people and the advocate of National Justice.—Judge J. W. Fitzgerald. Irish National League of America—The great auxiliary of the Irish movement pledged to stand by the cause of Ireland till her liberty is won.—Mr. J. J. Butler. The Judiciary—In its honesty and independence lies the greatest safety of the constitution.—Judge A. W. Field. The Irish American—Given a fair field and no favor, "He dares do all that may become a man."—Judge J. R. Webster. The Ladies—Then remember whenever your goblet is crowned, Thro' the world whether eastward or westward you roam, When a cup to the smile of dear women goes round O, remember the smile that adorns her at home.—Mr. Chas. J. Daubach. The Press—The bulwark of popular liberty, the sentinel that guards the people's inheritance and the pulse of the nation's heart.—Mr. H. H. Bushnell, Pres. Nebraska Press Association, and Mr. Chas. Gere, State Journalist. Farewell to Our Guest—May kind fortune guide his path to southern clime, and when his barque is homeward bound the same land that received the honored exile will welcome back her adopted and trusted son.—Hon. G. M. Lambertson. The program lasted until a late hour, and the night was made luminous with patriotic sentiments and witty, brilliant speeches. It was a memorable affair, for whose conduct the members of the League deserve much credit. Among the guests were the following:

Governor John M. Thayer, ex-Governor Nance, Hon. John Fitzgerald, president of the Irish National League of America; Mayor R. B. Graham, Judge J. W. Fitzgerald, of St. Marys, Kan.; Judge A.
