PEN, PAPER AND INK.

Mrs. Burnett is on the top wave of popularity and thrifty publishers scheme for matter from her pen. The Petersons are publishing a series of her novelettes in twenty-five cent editions. The price is low enough, but the titles are unfamiliar to an old admirer who has followed Mrs. Burnett from "Surly Tim" to "Little Lord Fauntleroy." A perusal of several chapters of the latest of these novelettes, "Miss Crespieny," is disappointing. The whole thing looks suspicious, but just where the cheat comes in is hard to tell.

How people live in New York is a subject of general interest, and it is fully treated of, from the lowest hotels to the palaces on Fifth Avenue, in an illustrated article in Democrat's for June. It takes you, by way of illustrations and descriptions, from the squalor of the 5-cent lodging-houses, through the various phases of life to the gorgeous modern flats and the palatial homes of the Astors and Vanderbilts. In this number is found also "Amusements in Japan," which, differing so radically from our amusements, are amusing to read about, especially as the article is so finely illustrated.

Cushman Park.

In Cushman Park Lincoln has a mascot that she ought to encourage in all ways and at all times. Tradition has it that a mascot brings prosperity, fame and all kinds of good fortune, and that the greatest Cushman is doing for the Capital City under the energetic management of Andrus. He has booked several scores of reunions, picnics and outing parties of various kinds, several of which will bring hundreds of strangers to the city.

The formal opening of the Park for the season will take place next Wednesday afternoon. The managers have engaged Mrs. Adolph Weber to conduct the opening concert with musicians of her own selection. Among the latter will be Mr. Nat Brigham, the noted Omaha singer, and it is safe to assume that Lincoln's greatest singer will gather about her a corps of fine artists for the occasion. The vocalists will be assisted by the military band. Lovers of dancing will have an opportunity to trip the light fantastic too, the music for which will be furnished by the Cushman Park orchestra. Announcement is made that the governor, state officials, the mayor and members of the council will assist in the dedicatory exercises, and impromptu speeches are promised from distinguished gentlemen. It will be a gala day in the Park, and the people of Lincoln will find pleasure in dropping in for the while and taking an outing under such favorable conditions. The Park is but a short drive from the city, and for the convenience of those who have no horses or carriages the B. & M. will run special trains with tickets only twenty cents for the round trip.

The Messrs. Andrus have made a ten-strike by putting the Park cafe under the management of Brown, the only Brown. He will have competent assistants at hand to serve all comers at all times. This will be an immense convenience for picnic parties. He will furnish edibles to order, and by notifying him in advance will be prepared for any number of persons. On Sunday afternoons from one until six o'clock he will serve a regular dinner, better than that of the average hotel, for the price of fifty cents. But, then, what is the use of praising up Brown. Everybody knows what he is.

Lincolinites are to be congratulated on the possession of a park so beautiful and convenient as Cushman and they ought to improve their opportunities. This city is more fortunate than most western places, and Manager Andrus is to be commended for his enterprise and public spirit.
