There is nothing uncertain about the effects of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The fact is, it is the only preparation in the market that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by O. L. Shrader, druggist.

The following printed signs are for sale at the COURIER office: Room For Rent; Furnished Rooms for Rent; Unfurnished Rooms for Rent; Boarding; For Sale, For Rent, and many others. Price 15 cents, or 2 for 25c.

Mr. F. J. Smith, editor of the Ft. Abercrombie, Dakota, Herald, says: "The most wonderful medicine I have ever met with is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In case of colic it gives speedy relief. On hunting trips I have found it indispensable. Put in alkali water, it imparts a pleasant taste and prevents the painful diarrhoea which alkali water produces. I could not feel safe without it in my house." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by O. The Editorial Trip.
The following "final circular" issued by the chairman of the excursion committee indicates the entertainment to be enjoyed by the Nebraska editors in their trip to the northwest:
LINCOLN, JULY 2nd, 1889.

DEAR SIR:—Everything is now in readiness for the excursion and you are requested to meet the committee next Saturday (July 6th) at Millard Hotel, Omaha, at 3:15 p. m. On arrival please register yourself and ladies. From 3:30 p. m. until time for starting the party will be the guests of the Omaha Board of Trade, who have arranged a program for the afternoon. Train will leave Union Pacific depot at 8:15 p. m., and the two Pullman coaches will be found on the side track near by ready for occupancy at six o'clock.

First stop will be Denver, arriving at 4:00 next day. The balance of the day will be devoted to drives about the city and such other enjoyments as may come up for consideration. Monday morning the party will take a mountain trip to Georgetown, Silver Plume, and over the famous Loup, returning to Denver same evening in time for supper. There will probably be a reception tendered the party Monday night, but not knowing definitely cannot say. Leave Tuesday morning for Salt Lake, stopping, however, at Echo, Utah, long enough to take a run down to Park City, where the Association has been tendered an invitation to visit the Ontario mine, one of the largest and best silver producing mines in the U. S. Arrive at Salt Lake Wednesday evening, and after seeing the sights of the Mormon center, taking a bath in the great Salt Lake, we leave Thursday night or Friday noon for Portland, making a short stop, however, at Ogden. Arriving at Dallas, which is about six hours ride from Portland, the cars will be left and the remainder of the trip to Portland will be made by boat down the famed Columbia river. Arriving at Portland the party will be met by a committee of the Portland Board of Trade and Oregon Immigration Board. It is impossible to state just how many days will be spent at the Oregon capital, that depending on the interest manifested by the party. I am in receipt of an invitation tendered the Association a reception and another letter pertinent to a similar entertainment. Short trips will be taken from Portland and it is expected that about five days will be spent in and around the city.

The Puget sound trip will consume four days and visits are to be made to Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend and Victoria, B. C. Olympia, the capital of Washington Territory, and other points will be visited if the party so desire.

The start homeward will be made about Tuesday, July 23rd, and unless otherwise arranged will run directly through without stop. It was first intended to run to Portland and stop on the return, but it has been decided that the time to make stops is at the start when all are enthusiastic for sport and sightseeing.

NOTES AND SUGGESTIONS.
Fine satin badges lettered in gold have been ordered and may be had at Omaha before starting.

Among the points of interest to be visited about Portland are the fisheries and the canning districts of the Columbia.
Other entertainments will be given along the line which as yet cannot be announced and additional mountain trips will be taken if the party thus desires.

Every excursionist should be provided with cards bearing name of his paper etc., and in lower left hand corner print "Nebraska Press, Northwestern Excursion, 1889."
Transportation has been arranged for the entire trip, except the short distance on the Northern Pacific, between Portland and Tacoma, which, however, amounts to but very little and may yet be arranged for.

As announced heretofore the sleepers will each contain buffets, and lunches (hot or cold) comprising an elaborate menu will be served at any hour of the day or night at popular prices. A cook and waiter will be with each car. It is therefore desired that lunch baskets and other troublesome hand baggage be disposed with as much as possible.

Each passenger is entitled to one trunk and it is to be hoped these will be used to store all baggage not required while in transit. On request, if necessary, trunks can be opened in baggage cars or at depot at any prominent station where train stops for sufficient time. It will be well to closely observe the above, thereby adding much to the party's pleasure. There is no room to spare in the sleepers for baggage and it is to be hoped that a small hand satchel will satisfy each one.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.
INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT
BLAZERS AND TENNIS SUITS.

Olive Harper Draws a Comparison Between a Tall Sunflower and a Young Man Rigged Out to Play a Game—The Tennis Girl and Her Hat.

(Special Correspondence.)
NEW YORK, July 5.—I do not know which of the two is the more soul inspiring—a young man in a tennis "blazer" or a sunflower fourteen inches in diameter. Both are gorgeous, if not beautiful. The young man has some few advantages, for he can have and wear combinations of color that the poor sunflower cannot achieve. The beautiful creature represented in this accompanying picture has on an "exquisite creation" of a blazer of yellow and black stripes and a buff vest and red necktie, and his hat has a band of ribbon around it of yellow and black which reminds the beholder of the vicious wasp. This is the lovely young man's taste and it harmonizes well with his yellow mustache and dark hair and eyes. He could wear any other color for his "blazer," but it would have to be in stripes and of flannel. His trousers can be made to match or of plainer goods, and can be snug so as to cut wind better when he wants to run, or they can be wide and flap about like a sloop's sail in a calm.

The young tennis man can wear a blazer blouse if he prefers, and while a blouse is snuggier and more compact, there are no pockets to put his dainty hands in when not playing. If he wears a blouse he wants one of the "Cupid" bolts, and these can be of any color though I believe they usually follow the principal color of the suit, which, if I am not misinformed, is generally made in some peculiar form or design to conform to that adopted by the club to which he belongs. Some wear pink, some red, some black and white, and others choose colors as glaring and tasteless as possible.

Hats vary. Some wear blazer caps, or "fore and aft," and soft luis, while others wear the straw hat of sailor form, which is doubtless the most becoming, but every one consults his or her own taste.

The men are limited to a certain cut and style of garments for tennis and other similar games, while the girls can wear almost anything they like, only so that it follows one or two general rules, and there is much room for the display of personal taste.

The very prettiest tennis dresses are made of white or dark blue mohair, the skirts accordion plaited and worn with a blouse of soft India silk or surah. Other very pretty gowns are of the soft Scotch tennis flannels, which are very pretty and generally in delicate tints instead of very decided colors. Often these are tucked around the bottom and down the front in horizontal plaits, which are feather stitched flat. These give slenderness to the figure. Others have several flat rows of ribbon stitched on or a band of velvet. The pretty costume in the accompanying cut is of blue and white flannel with bands of dark blue velvet, with a silver braid set upon the edges. The same ornamentation is carried out upon the sailor collar. This costume is a very neat one, and if the wearer thinks it not sufficiently dressy she can add a sash of scarlet surah or stockinet, with a large pompon at the ends. The sashes, however, are apt to get into the way as the wearer becomes enthusiastic in the game.

For tennis the little jockey caps are probably more worn than anything, though they are often of the most fanciful designs.

THE BEAUTIFUL TENNIS GIRL AND HER HAT full color, shape and decoration. The one in the middle is of orange silk with blue embroidery upon it. The other is of checked cheviot and horribly unbecoming.

The Tam O'Shanter hat of knit wool can be worn if preferred, and it ought to be, as it is very pretty and becoming, but the popular fancy seems just now for the ugly "fore and aft" jockey cap of whatever material it may be made of. Tennis shoes cost 75 cents to $1 per pair, according to quality, and the caps from 50 cents to $3. The whole outfit can be gotten up in the best materials for about $7 to $8, provided the wearer makes her own suit, which is "just as easy as pie."

A $950 COTTAGE.
A Cheap and Tasteful Home for a Small Family.

The attractive cottage shown here is taken from an admirable book of designs entitled "Sensible Low Cost Homes," published by the National Architects' Union, of 927 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. This cottage has been designed specially for a small family, or young couple wishing to build their first home. The exterior effect is spacious, while the interior is arranged with a view to comfort and a small amount of labor in the domestic management.

VIEW.
First Story—A square porch leads to a pleasant and well lighted hall, on the left of which is the parlor, 13x15 feet. The kitchen, or living room, 12x23 feet, extends the width of the house, and can be used for both these purposes, or the parlor can be used for a dining and living room. The stairs to the basement lead from the hall.

FLOOR PLANS.
Materials—Foundation, rough stone or brick; frame construction, first and second stories and gables, clapboarded and paneled; roof shingled. No attic—air space only. Basement under main walls. Price, complete, $950.

THIS WOULD COST $7,500.
Design for a Spacious and Convenient Modern House.

tower, with its concentric piazza and balcony. The house is 60 feet long and 41 feet wide in extreme. The first story is 10 feet high and the second story 9 feet 6 inches. With interior finish of modest pattern, some hard wood, good plumbing, plate glass, etc.,

SECOND STORY.
It would cost about $7,500 to build in the vicinity of Boston. The plans were prepared by Architect: Frank L. Smith, 25 School street, Boston.

It has been calculated that the railroads of the world are worth nearly three hundred billions of dollars, or about one-tenth of the wealth of the civilized nations, or more than one-quarter of their invested capital. At this rate, all the ready money in the world would buy only about one-third of them.
