 One of the assistants in a well known ladies furnishing establishment has been wearing a handsome ring for several days, and there has been a deal of speculation about it among the ladies. The young lady had her choice of a ring set with five diamonds or one set with a single stone, and she took the latter. She has a large well-wishing acquaintance, and the fortunate young man, a plumber, is doing finely in business. Their friends are very much gratified and predict happiness and prosperity.

 The annual regatta of the Iowa amateur rowing association will be held at Spirit Lake July 24 and 25. Nebraska people who want to see that resort at its best should visit it during that week, but they had better engage their rooms in advance. The Hotel Orleans will be crowded with the society people of Iowa cities, the friends of the orarman. The way to go to Spirit Lake and the Okoboji is by the Northwestern system. Take the Sioux City & Pacific sleeping car at the Webster street depot in Omaha, and breakfast time finds you at the door of the Orleans. Returning you can get into your berth after an evening hop at the hotel and be in Lincoln for dinner, coming all the way by the Northwestern lines. Further information can be had of George Foreman or A. S. Fielding at the Elkhorn office.

 Society's movement seems at present to be towards the Dakota Hot Springs. Hardly a day passes that one or more of our people do not leave for that health and pleasure resort.
 In her fashion letter this week Olive Harper gives considerable space to man and his flannel shirt, and we there have the latest dictum of New York, the American oracle of fashion. She says a surah sash is the thing in place of suspenders, but the picture shows a belt. It is to be feared that Olive's womanly love for the dudish got the better of her good sense when she recommended a sash.

 It is sometimes quite amusing to witness the careful actions of untrained waiters who are called upon to serve a swell crowd. The other night an indifferent caterer was engaged to feed an aristocratic assemblage, and he had to augment his regular force with a number of men who understood "Zwei und a sut" better than they do "One portion of chicken served for two." In the afternoon the caterer held a sort of a dress rehearsal and impressed upon the minds of his force the necessity of obeying his prescribed signals. In the evening the first course read "blue points on the shell." The shells were forgotten, and each guest was served with three "blue points," each one of which was as big as a small steak. One lady present disposed of one oyster and then told her husband she would finish up with a cup of coffee. He called the nearest waiter and asked him to bring two cups of coffee. But the waiter remembered the signal rehearsal in the afternoon. "Sh-h-h!" he hissed, warningly. "I can't go till de pell rings!" and when the bell did ring he marched toward the kitchen, returning later with the coffee. He intended to make no bad breaks.
 A. B. Cherrier and Newton Hall have associated themselves together in business under the firm name of the Cherrier Directory and Publishing company. Mr. Cherrier has been in the directory business nineteen years. He compiled and published last year's Lincoln directory, which is concededly the best and most complete work ever issued for the capital city. Mr. Hall has been with the State Journal for some time past in charge of its advertising department. Mr. Cherrier has taken up his permanent residence in Lincoln and gone to housekeeping, so that patronage extended to these gentlemen goes not to strangers but to home people. They are at work at present on a classified business directory and shopping guide for Lincoln and West Lincoln. The first issue will be ready for distribution about September 1st and will be continued yearly hereafter. Work will also begin soon on the new city directory. It will contain many new features and will be issued about Christmas. The Cherrier Directory and Publishing company offices at room 14, Sheldon Block, 1057 N street, and will be a welcome addition to the business interests of Lincoln.
 Straws show which way the wind blows, and there are many straws indicating the growth of Lincoln in metropolitan ways and conveniences. One of the latest of these is the establishment of the Martin Towel and Supply company, which undertakes to keep offices, stores and rooms furnished with clean towels and other toilet conveniences. This concern will be a boon to office men who find it a nuisance to look after the washing of towels. For a small sum per month the Martin company will keep a place supplied with clean towels, and the occupant is relieved of all care and thought on that score. For a small additional sum a handsome rack is furnished. It has a roller, a bevel-edged mirror, a case for unused towels and is furnished with brush and comb. The new company is meeting with encouraging patronage. Persons wishing the service will find the towel company's office at 827 South Eleventh street.
 The quarter-off sale just begun by Ashby & Millsap won't last always, so if you intend taking advantage of it don't wait too long.
