SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Lottie Thiers, who is now making her home with her brother, Mr. George F. Thiers, at 1500 R street, was the recipient of a very happy surprise party devised by Mr. and Mrs. Thiers for Thursday evening. The Cur-tice & Thiers full orchestra was present and filled the evening with beautiful music. The young people enjoyed themselves as only young folks can, stopping only long enough for delicious refreshments, and had a delightful, merry evening of it. The favored guests were Messrs. Arthur Munson, Charles Odell, Charles Ellis, Harry Lansing, Ed Con-saul, George Gadd, Will Winger, Rose Cur-tice, Misses May Moore, Grace Oakley, Flo Winger, Lottie Griffith, Libbie Seacrest, Stella Curtice, Daisy Odell, Miss Smith, of Omaha, the Misses Parrish. A number of friends called Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. G. Beeson to say good bye to her sister, Miss Kate Miller, who left with her mother the next day for their home at Lafayette, Ind. So many of the young people came together at the place of meeting that Mrs. Beeson tactfully made an informal "party" of it, and the callers made a jolly evening of it with cards, re-freshments and general merriment. The guests were Messrs. Will and Charles Clarke, Lew Marshall, George Foreman, Charles Burr, Aaron Buckstaff and Frank Polk, Misses Minnie Latta, Lona Giles and Maud Burr, Miss Wilson, Miss Buckstaff, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. A proposition will also be presented to separate the club from the lodge and admit to membership men who do not care to belong to the secret order. The lodge has 115 members, but they are scattered over the state, and those living at a distance naturally object to being taxed to support the club. Hence the new move to put the club as a social organiza-tion on a good financial footing. Every member is asked to be out in person not by proxy. Mr. W. M. Dennis, operator in the B. & M fuel agent's office, and Miss Margaret M. Mc-Reynolds were married Wednesday morning at St. Theresa's church, Rev. Father Walsh officiating. Pace celebrated the fif-teenth anniversary of their wedding (and in-cidentally the forty-fifth anniversary of the gentleman's birth) by receiving friends at their Twelfth street home Friday evening. Also a fine line of trunks, valises, etc. The Lincoln lawn tennis club, having de-cided to give two prizes in its coming tourna-ment, one for gentlemen and one for ladies, has given Hallett, the Eleventh street jew-eler, an order for two gold medals. This is a line of work not very often called for in Lincoln, but the incident emphasizes a point well worth bearing in mind. It is this: No matter what you may want in the way of work or in the way of goods that ordinarily come within a jeweler's line, the thing to do is to see Hallett. His facilities enable him to fill almost any order that should naturally go to a first class jeweler, and he will do it at re-asonable figures. Lincoln people little know what a fine as-sortment of carriages and buggies is to be found in this city. A COURIER man meet-ing our ex-county treasurer, Mr. J. T. Jones, queried him as regards business. His reply was, like every one else, "I am not doing very much, but get my share of the public's favors. Have you ever been through my repository?" Answering in the negative, the buggy seller offered to show the writer his spacious warerooms, which occupy the second floor over the store rooms northeast corner Tenth and N streets, and it was quite a sur-prise to note the large assortment of jobs there to be seen. The stock embraces a vari-ety of styles of A. J. Moyer's superb (Syracuse, N. Y.) work, including family car-riages in surreys with both canopy of full leather top, light stylish Brewsters and the ordinary array of jump seats, buckboards, light wagons, etc., and THE COURIER is now fully convinced that if the young man who delights in having a sidebar that is up to the times, or if the man of family who wants a nobby carriage and cannot fill his desires here he had better cease the search and do his riding in a lumber wagon. Mr. Jones keeps a complete line of strictly first class goods and will be pleased to show them to all callers at Nos. 1018-1020 N street, second floor. Old papers, large and clean, to wrap up bundles with or put under carpets, for sale at this office at 25 cents per hundred. Since the world began to put on record its great disasters, the terrible revolt of nature against man who would master her, there have been few such woeful horrors as the Johnstown flood. Ten thousand people were drowned, nearly three times the number were heart broken and suddenly bereft of their means of support. It is important to have such a narrative as this given to the world in a permanent record, which is accurate as well as graphic. The last book on the subject, entitled "The Johnstown Flood," published by H. S. Goodspeed & Co., of New York, is full of intense interest, and tells its story with wonderful force. The author, we are told, spent considerable time at the ruined city and gathered his facts at first hand, hav-ing made a careful personal study of the sit-uation and all the circumstances involved in the catastrophe. The publishers have em-bodied it in an admirably made octavo book of 322 pages, with 48 full page illustrations, which all educated people will appreciate.
