The wedding of "Jot" Cushing, which occurred at Marshalltown, Iowa, the other day, is thus described by the Times-Republican: One of the most notable events in Marshalltown society circles this season was the marriage of Miss Emma Calhoun and Mr. J. J. Cushing, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Calhoun, last evening. Seventy-five friends and immediate relatives were their guests, several coming from a distance. The marriage ceremony occurred at 9:15 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Rhea officiating. Mr. E. P. Semmis, of LeMar, Ia., and Ella Calhoun escorted the bride and groom from the west to the east side of the room, where the wedding party grouped beneath a beautifully designed parasol, surrounded by floral decorations of every description. To the left of the bride and the lady relatives of the contracting parties formed a line, as did also the gentlemen to the left of the bridegroom, making a very beautiful picture of happy faces. At the conclusion of the ceremony congratulations were profuse, affectionate "repetitions" being the order until supper was served. During the interval Miss Sally McCombs favored the company with grand selections. Her rendition of the wedding march was particularly fine. Mr. and Mrs. James Cushing, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Cushing, John and Mrs. Chat Cushing, all of Dubuque, were welcomed most heartily by the Marshalltown people. Hon. James Cushing is an ex-mayor of Dubuque and one of Iowa's most substantial men, having been in the manufacturing and wholesale business over thirty years. Mr. J. Cushing is engaged in the wholesale fruit and vinegar business, being the junior member of the firm of James Cushing & Son, of Omaha.

The Pleasant Hour Juniors gave a summer party at Temple hall Wednesday evening, and most of the ladies were appropriately gowned in light summer goods. Among those present were: From Omaha, Messrs. Doane, Gulon, Wing Allen, Elmer Henkel and the Prescott brothers; Messrs. Kock and Osborne of Kearney; Messrs. Clark, Hathaway, Holden, Hall, Charles Burr, Meyers, Fred Howe, Pumpelly, Carper, Mallalieu, Hammond, Marshall, Muir, Funke and C. Y. Smith; Miss Lorton of Nebraska City; Misses Minnie and Olive Latta, Clara and Martha Funke, Anna Funke, Maud and Bertie Burr, May Burr, Cowdry, Pace, Oakley, Ziemer, Barnard, Giles, Loomis, Andrus, Laws, Hooper, Hathaway and Marquette. The gaiety of the young people was enjoyed by a few friends as spectators, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Coffroth, Mrs. Barnard, Messrs. Will Hardy, Samuel Lowe, Harry Hall and Geo. Foreman and Misses Hardy and Walsh.

The "picture view" given by Mrs. W. L. Van Alstyne was a novel reception introduced from New York. Her parlors in the Ledwith block were decorated with palms and sunflowers, and a number of her paintings were "hung" to give them a good light. The special occasion for the reception was the completion of an oil painting entitled "Before the Bath." It shows the undraped figure of a woman, with a background of foliage, about to enter a lake for a bath. But the friends who were favored with invitations to this novel art show found a number of other original works also.

Mr. Paul F. Clark and Miss May Roberts were married Thursday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. E. Roberts, 134 South Thirtieth street. They have already settled down to housekeeping in a cozy cottage on North Twenty-seventh street. Mr. Clark is one of the best known and most popular young attorneys, and he and his bride have the well wishes of a large circle of friends.

Al Ewan of the Bee bureau is sporting a fine gold watch, presented him by a Talmage friend in recognition of services rendered when Al was a lawyer.

The traveling men will be guests of E. H. Andrus & Son at Cushman park tomorrow.

Miss Griffith entertained a few friends last Wednesday evening.

O. O. Hefner of Nebraska City has attracted attention during fair week by driving a striking pair of English hackney horses to a drag with two stable boys in footman's livery on the rear seat. It's so English, you know.

Among the drummer boys in Lincoln this week were M. Sheerman of Des Moines and Louis Mayer of this city. Both gentlemen had fine displays of their particular lines in one of the Windsor hotel's finest sample rooms.

Tom Barnidge, the Charter Oak stove man, was in town this week entertaining the boys as usual. He is a skillful juggler and conjurer, and is often called on to help out local entertainments in the towns he visits, but he escaped from Lincoln unscathed.

At last! At last! Frank Folk has accepted a position with Burr & Beeson. By strict attention to duty during the past six days Frank has made himself indispensable to his employers, and it is only a matter of time before he will be taken into partnership.

Mrs. E. H. Andrus returned home Saturday after an absence of three weeks. Mr. Andrus, the ever gallant, had a surprise on hand for his estimable lady on her arrival, and now Mrs. Andrus drives about the thoroughfares of Lincoln in one of the noblest new style phaetons to be found in the city.

Henry Mansfield, who sprained an ankle by stepping upon a walnut, improved his enforced retirement from society by studying human nature. From his office windows he watched the crowd that came and went by the motor line, and he gleaned a wealth of information about men and women. Man of the world that he is, he learned two new things about lovely woman in Nebraska. Ask him about them.

Judge Swope of Lexington, Ky., is in the city, and contemplates making it his home. The judge is a bachelor, a man of means, and has been a globe-trotter for four years past. Among other achievements, he and other travelers hired a caravan in Egypt and penetrated Africa in several directions as far as white man could go without serious danger from hostile tribes. For some years previously he was internal revenue collector in Kentucky, and he claims the distinction of being the only man who ever resigned the office twice.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall or early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh or bronchitis or paves the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted less no time, but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by A. L. Shadler, druggist.

Among the interested visitors at the state fair this week were Mr. George Eddy and wife, of Omaha. They enjoyed the great fair and returned home today.
