SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Lincoln's ability to turn out a large and well company for a club party was handsomely demonstrated Wednesday at the opening dance of the Pleasant Hours. The seniors have a happy custom of complimenting a newly married member with a reception, which varies from an ordinary party in this respect: The bride and groom provide a list of their friends, who are invited to the name of the club in addition to the regular members. Wednesday evening's affair was a reception to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maxwell, who were for several years in the Pleasant Hour Junior set.

Mr. Stephen Douglas Shilling and Miss Nellie Giles Graham, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Robert B. Graham, were married last Tuesday under very happy auspices. The ceremony was performed at one o'clock in the afternoon, by Rev. O. A. Williams, of the First Baptist church. The Graham home was handsomely decorated for the wedding. The bridal party stood in one corner of the front parlor, which had been made into a beautiful bower.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Huffman & Richter's Thursday evening to organize for the proposed charity ball. Gov. Thayer was made chairman and Joseph Boehmer secretary. There was an interchange of opinions, remarks being made by Gov. Thayer, Messrs. A. C. Ziemer, C. J. Ernst, Thomas H. Benton, Lieut. Griffith, Harry J. Hall, S. H. Burnham, R. H. Oakley, W. E. Hardy, M. I. Aitken, C. R. Richter, E. H. Andrus and others, and all were heartily in favor of the enterprise.

general comfort. A heavy muslin laid over the carpet will give a good dancing surface, and the cloth can be cleaned afterwards and distributed among the poor. Messrs. Griffith, Hardy and Richter were made a committee to see if these halls can be secured and to make recommendations as to the preferable one. The price of tickets was fixed at $5, and the free list was suspended. The executive committee was empowered to appoint all other necessary committees. An adjourned meeting will be held next Thursday evening.

Mrs. Thomas H. Benton gave two banquets for ladies within the past week, and the bijou home of Auditor Benton was the scene of delightful affairs on both occasions. On Saturday last Mrs. Benton gave a five o'clock tea in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. L. Brown, of Des Moines. The guests were Mesdames Thayer, Dewesse, Linhoff, Sawyer, J. B. Trickey, E. L. Trickey, Alford, Wheeler, L. C. Clark, Davis, Webster, Babcock, Ogden, McArthur, Patnam, Calvert, Boehmer, Hill, Pitcher, Riggs, W. M. Benton, John B. Clark, Melick, Hammond, Hathaway, Manning, Turner, Houts, Morrison, Swan, Warren, Casebeer, Mills, Johnson, Hard, Goodell, Aitken, Purst, Saunders and English.

Sup't. D. E. Thompson, who has handsome apartments in the residence of Mrs. O. W. Funke at 1011 D street, entertained a company of friends at progressive euchre Tuesday evening and proved himself a royal host. Musicians were stationed on the stair landing, and the strains of mandolin and guitar filled the house at frequent intervals with a sweet concord of sounds. A delightful incident of the evening was the playing of a large music box, a magnificent instrument brought from Switzerland by Mr. Thompson on his return from a trip abroad.

Although a dance by the York club was given about a month ago the regular opening of the season occurred last night. Every member was present, and the young ladies made a very attractive appearance in their party dresses. By special invitation Mrs. E. H. Brown supervised the grand march, and few prettier marches have been executed in Temple hall. The program consisted of fourteen dances, which were just enough to fill the evening most enjoyably.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cook threw open their cozy parlors on L street last evening for the entertainment of a company of married friends. Progressive euchre furnished the motive for merry enjoyment, and it goes without saying that Mrs. Cook made a charming hostess. Those who strove for the prizes were Mr. Cook and Miss Cook of Battle Creek, Mich., Messrs. and Mesdames L. C. Burr, S. E. Moore, John Doolittle, C. C. Burr, Dr. Goodall, Dr. Bailey, E. E. Brown, George Clark, A. E. Hubert, E. K. Orley, Fred Baldwin, Frank Hall, A. C. Ziemer, Thomas H. Benton, O. M. Thompson, O. W. Webster, Mason Gregg, Cal Thompson and Gen. Andrus.

At its last meeting the York club elected the following new members: Messrs. H. A. Shannon, R. M. Joyce, Fred Plummer, Floyd Seybolt, John Phillips, Hugu Baker, Wm. Phillips and J. Kimball. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hargreaves entertained a number of friends at a luncheon Saturday evening. Additional Society News on Pages 1 and 2. Eastern society has a new fad.
