A NEW TYPEWRITER.

A Machine That is Superior to the Remington or Calligraph.
The Wesel Printing Company have been appointed agents for the new and popular Yost Typewriter for southeastern Nebraska. To many of our readers this new machine is already known, and all who have seen it pronounce it far superior to any of the older machines. As far as utility and speed are concerned it is giving better satisfaction than either the Remington or the Calligraph, besides for points of convenience, improvements and general construction it far exceeds anything in this line ever invented. This may seem a broad assertion and doubted by those who are using the above machines, but when it is known that Mr. Yost, the inventor, has for years built the Remington and Calligraph, it is reasonable to believe that being constantly in the business he has had opportunity to note where improvements could be made, and accordingly is able to furnish a better typewriter than either of the others. On the Yost no ribbon is used, each letter or figure striking the paper direct, and by a very valuable new patent are in exact and perfect alignment. If preferable either Calligraph or Remington keyboard will be furnished. All who have seen this new machine in Lincoln pronounce it a gem, and we shall be pleased to have all interested call and see it. Office with the CAPITAL CITY COURIER, 122-124 North Twelfth street, new Burr block.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

One of the most sociable and successful of church affairs was the Factor Reception Sale held by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church last Wednesday. Personal as well as public invitations were issued and named the hours from 7 to 10 p. m. The affair included the selling of fancy articles and the serving of refreshments, and one could hardly imagine a church tent would lend itself to the purpose as well as this beautiful house. The big partition was let down between the auditorium proper and the Sunday school department. In the large room of the latter were several tables loaded with the beautiful handiwork of the ladies, and these articles sold splendidly. Opening from the large parlor is a number of small class rooms. These were occupied as refreshment booths and were designated by different colors. All were elaborately decorated, the predominant color giving the name to each but the candy corner. First at the right, after entering, was a small apartment for which Miss Olive Latta and Lulu Clarke dispensed sweets of home manufacture. Then came the Blue booth in charge of Mesdames Latta, J. N. T. Jones, H. B. Tomson, L. F. M. Esterday, M. Scott, Charles Burton, T. C. Mungler and R. L. Howell. It was handsomely and elaborately decorated with lace curtains, portieres, rugs, screens, fans and push furniture in which a blue tone was predominant, but its pride and glory was a set of blue china. They are a family heirloom that has come down to Mrs. Esterday, are very old and of course highly prized. Next in line came the Yellow booth, whose great thing grace were Mesdames H. B. Patrick, Mason Gregg, W. C. Mills and Dr. Crim and Mrs. Morrison. The entrance was draped with white lace curtains, which gauzy tulle of the proper shade turned into yellow to the eye. The table bore a yellow scarf and yellow chrysanthemums. The walls were ornamented with yellow fans and china silk drapes, and golden balls prompted witty remarks. The ladies of the Green booth—Mesdames R. T. Van Brunt, W. B. Wocott, C. H. Ho mes, Charles I. Jones and O. W. Webster—were not in keeping with their surrounding hostesses. Green tulle gave the proper tone to the lace curtains at the entrance to the booth. Smiles, peacock feathers, plants, a table center piece of fruit, green canisters, green paper trimmings, green plush and other decorations presented pretty effects and gave the right color. The presiding genius of the Orange booth were Mesdames Fred Baldwin, W. S. Huffman, E. K. Crisp, H. R. Wiley, Wm. H. Brevoort and H. E. Billmeyer. At the entrance were Japanese portieres and drapings of china silk. The interior was gay and artistic in china silk curtains, chrysanthemums, rugs, flowers and a great variety of orange colored drapes. The motto of these ladies was 'We Give Smiles for Smiles,' which was embroidered on a satin ribbon. At the extreme left of the circle came the Red booth, one of the largest and most elaborate, under the care of Mesdames C. E. Yates, Wm. A. Preston, George Cook, S. E. Moore, C. G. Dawes and Capt. Paine and Mrs. Osborn. The entrance was hung with red chenille portieres and Madras curtains relieved by white lace. The windows inside were wound with red bunting. The table had a tropical plant surrounded by scarlet cut flowers for a center piece. A red table scarf, Japanese banter, screen, rug and numerous drapes added to the general effect. Refreshments were served in all these booths. Coffee and wafers were provided for all free of charge, and persons wishing something more substantial could get cream and cake. The reception sale was not only pretty and profitable. It was exceedingly sociable, and the ladies scored a great success in every way.

The charity ball committees have held several meetings this week, and the preparations are going forward finely. The invitations have been ordered and will be issued next week. The Elks are settled in their new quarters, which were described at length in the COURIER of several weeks ago. The first meeting was held last Monday evening, and the members were delighted with their new rooms. They occupy the whole of the third floor of the Harris block on N street, and are superior in all ways to the old quarters. The rooms are much more conveniently arranged, and in the matter of dining room facilities there is no comparison. The new quarters are handsomely furnished, well lighted and provided with trained attendants. The caterer began serving lunches early in the week and is now prepared to furnish a fine menu to order. As already explained in these columns, the club has renewed its membership of all dead wood, and it starts anew with a very choice list of members. It comprises a lot of gentlemen with whom it is a credit to be associated, and they will undoubtedly give it a high prestige. Already fourteen or fifteen applications are in, and membership in the Elks will be a distinction eagerly sought. At Monday's meeting it was decided to give a social session for the Postage Stamp company Thursday evening. No change was made in the secretaryship, several members having attended to the work during Mr. W. S. Huffman's absence. Mr. Frank C. Zehring has been doing it in the past, and Mr. Al Hargreaves is about to take a turn at it.

The Yorke gave its third party at Temple hall last night, and, as usual, it was a great success. After a pretty grand march, in which the wave figure was the principal movement, the program of 14 numbers was danced. The Philharmonic orchestra, assisted by Miss Willoughby, furnished the music. Among those present were: Mesdames Laal Dew and Addie Russell of Tecumseh; Jennie Boncher, Clara Carmody, Minnie DePue, Carrie Dranis, Minnie Gaylord, Alice Gadd, Margaret Hallett, Jennie Morgan, Beatie Mason, Naomi Weaver, Myra Trott, Fannie Binford, Edie Leno, Josie Wingert, Beadie Freeman, May Tibbles, Ella Brimley, Hattie Becker, Ina Burch, Ida Burwirth, Mertie Moeller, Mattie Gillespie, Miss Hatch, Messrs. Fred Gadd, G. A. Canacer, E. E. Gillespie, E. Heaton, Guy Hale, O. H. Frow, F. A. Hallett, Mark Woods, Hugh Baker, A. C. Cope, C. M. Camp, Thos. Teasdale, Will

Johnson, Chas. Clark, Will Clark, C. B. Goodell, H. A. Shamon, John Phillips, Wm. Phillips, Fred Plummer, K. D. Binford, Geo. Covert, J. W. McCrosky, R. M. Joyce, J. Kinshell, E. Bradley, Mr. Hatch.
Mrs. Joseph Swan's elegant home was thrown open Monday evening to a large and very enjoyable progressive euchre party. A novel feature was introduced in the form of a small whistle at each table instead of a bell at the first. The whistles caused a great deal of sport and were pronounced a great improvement over the old singletell. The royal prizes fell to Mr. P. H. Wing and Miss Stobbs, the consolation prizes to Mr. C. C. Burr and Mrs. Boehmer. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Hargreaves, Carl Funke, C. C. Burr, Boehmer, Ogden, Montrose, Benton, Warren, Leonard and S. H. Burnham, Mr. W. C. Furst of Denver, Messrs. R. E. Hoyt, F. Hoyt, Algere, D. E. Thompson, Faucon, Wing, O. Funke, Mullen and Aitken, Mesdames Voigt of Burlington, Annie Funke, Hammond, Miller and Graham of Chicago, Bishop and Ballantine of Omaha, Laws, Stobbs, Grace and Bertie Aitken, Mrs. Hard and Mrs. Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Funke entertained a small company very delightfully Thursday evening. The entertainment was progressive euchre, and a novel feature was a bell on each table to be rung by the couple making five points first. This avoided the usual delay and deliberation at the head table and was voted a great improvement over the old method. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames L. C. Burr, W. J. Marshall, A. C. Ziemer, R. H. Oakley, O. W. Webster, S. M. Bartlett, Dr. Righter, Joseph Swan, L. Heiskell and S. E. Moore. Mrs. John Zehring, Mrs. Otto Funke and Mr. Dickey. Mrs. Moore won one of the royal prizes, a Japanese chocolate pot, and the other, a cheese scoop, went to Mr. Burr. The second prizes, an after dinner coffee cup and saucer and an oxidized silver cigar lighter, were won by Mrs. Righter and Mrs. Marshall respectively.

Mrs. Joseph Swan entertained about fifty ladies from 2 to 5 Wednesday afternoon at an elegant luncheon. Many new features were introduced, and it proved a charming affair throughout. Those present were Mesdames Perry, Hammond, Jansen, Coons, R. C. Outcault, Otto Funke, Nibbet S. E. Moore, Calvert, H. T. Smith, Billingsley, Manning, Hart, Lavitt, Atkinson, Sawyer, Gov. Thayer, Little, Holmes, McFarland, Hargreaves, Ogden, Boehmer, Marshall, Benton, Warren, Mills, Leasing, F. A. Brown, Bartlett, Buckstaff, Beeson, Green, Zehring, Doolittle, L. C. Clark, A. D. Burr, Cowdry, Harley, L. C. Burr, Morrison, Leonard and Carter, Mesdames Miller and Graham of Chicago, Bishop and Ballantine of Omaha, Voigt of Burlington, Annie Funke and Stobbs.

The ladies of the Plymouth Congregational church will hold a fair at Temple hall Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Many fine articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be offered for sale at reasonable prices. The booths will be in charge of ladies in costume to represent characters from Dickens. Among the special features will be a novel quilt to be voted to a minister; a fine rock-er, donated by Hardy & Pitcher, to be voted to a lady, and a cabinet book case to be voted to a physician. Oysters will be served during the fair, and lunches beginning Tuesday noon.

The exhibition of the Haydon art club at the state house will be in charge of the following ladies next week: Monday, Mrs. T. McGahey; Tuesday, Mrs. Prof. Kingsley; Wednesday, Miss Louise Hitchcock; Thursday, Mrs. O. Hohman; Friday, Mrs. Schwab; Saturday, Mrs. Calvert.

If some prominent social affairs have been overlooked in this issue of the COURIER, the friends will make allowances, because the work of moving and settling in new quarters has absorbed so much time and attention.
