SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Among the finest and most hospitable homes in the Capital City is that of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Raymond, and the hospitality dispensed in its elegant parlors is of that easy, cordial quality that carries a grace and a kindness of the most delightful sort. A charming hostess always, Mrs. Raymond has a special genius for placing herself en rapport with young people, and her entertainment of them is of a kind to win the most grateful admiration. She had Miss Lila Alexander of Omaha as a visitor during most the week, and on Monday evening gave a company in her honor. Nine tables of young people played high five and sped the hours with laugh and chat and merriment. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Senator Raymond, and the guests enjoyed one of the happiest of evenings. The royal favors were won by Mr. Wheeler and Miss Lillibridge, and the consolation mementos fell to Mr. Righter and Miss Maud Mateer. The company included Misses Brownliebaum of Omaha, Price of Chicago, Hathaway, Andrus, Hooper, Oakley, Lillibridge, Righter, Laws, Mateer, Maud Mateer, Ella Raymond, Olive Latta, Maud and Bertie Burr, Anna Funke and Margaret Baird, Messrs.
